Subpena Lyn Smith's Slush Fund Records

PROBERS ORDER CASSIDY FETCH IN 'BLACK BOOK'

Demand Figures on Paving Jobs, Too.

BY HAL FOUST.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., May 8.—The house of representatives' investigation committee late this afternoon issued a subpena commanding Attorney General John E. Cassidy to produce secret slush fund records of the late F. Lynden Smith.

In a second subpena issued at the same time, the committee commanded Ernst Lieberman, chief of the Illinois highway department, to produce reports and records of alleged corruption in the state's $50,000,000 a year road building industry.

The subpenas are returnable Tuesday and Wednesday.

Scandals to Be Aired.

The committee, headed by Representative Clinton Searle [R., Rock Island], indicated by today's action that these two high Horner appointees will be subjected to intense interrogation on the scandals brought to light following the mysterious death on March 9 of Smith, director of public works and former Horner campaign manager.

The subpena for Cassidy directs that he produce the following:

"Books and records of F. Lynden Smith . . . which he [Cassidy] seized in connection with his purported investigation of the estate of the said Smith, including the 'little black book' and all records pertaining to contributions from contractors doing business with the state of Illinois which he has in his possession."

Traced to Private Vault.

After Smith's death in a Springfield hospital bathtub, his private files were traced to the vault of his Pontiac Lumber company, where he had secreted them prior to his departure for Florida as a political exile.

Immediately after Smith's funeral, inheritance tax agents for the attorney general searched this vault for the announced purpose of evaluating the estate. Cassidy has declined consistently to disclose what political records may have been seen by these men.

In the subpena for Lieberman, a significant quotation requires him to produce for the committee "reports of your investigation of collusive pavement bids, labor racketeering, and other influences increasing the cost of highways to the taxpayers."

Aimed at Carrozzo.

This demand was interpreted as inaugurating an inquiry involving Mike Carrozzo, Chicago labor racketeer, and other heavy handed men whose acts in Chicago already are under investigation.

The Lieberman subpena also asks for "reports or records of insurance agents selling bonds to road contractors." This supposedly is directed against the Chicago agency of Horan & O'Brien [Al Horan, Chicago Municipal court bailiff, and Martin J. O'Brien, Cook county public administrator], which, according to reports heretofore difficult to verify, enjoyed 80 per cent of this contractors' business in 1938.

The Lieberman subpena also asked for "intradepartmental reports of sources of material used by highway contractors." The Material Service Corporation of Chicago, according to general belief, has been notably successful in selling to contractors doing business with the state under Lieberman's supervision.

Old Tieup Revealed.

A vice president of this company is Arthur Lindheimer, brother of Benjamin Lindheimer. Lieberman was an engineer for the Chicago board of local improvements when Benjamin Lindheimer was board president.

The committee also asked for highway department records on 28 Cook county road projects of April, 1938, which subsequently were subjected to inquiry by federal officials. In an original road letting approved by the Cook county board and by Lieberman, the total of the low bids was $2,185,000. Smith, as director of public works, killed those bids and a subsequent letting resulted in saving the road fund $472,000.

In addition, some secret subpenas were issued this afternoon—suppressed until service has been obtained, Chairman Searle announced.

START DIGGING IN YARD, GARAGE OF 'BABY FARM'

New Clews Sought in Women's Charges.

BY ROBERT CROMIE.

Coroner A. L. Brodie.

Investigators from the offices of State's Attorney Courtney and Coroner A. L. Brodie began digging with pickaxes and shovels in the back yard and garage of a "baby farm" at 2415 Winnemac avenue last night. They were searching for new clews in the inquiry which they said has now broadened into investigation of an alleged abortion ring.

Relays of diggers worked in the back yard for about an hour, excavating a rock garden under the eyes of a crowd of absorbed neighbors. Part of the concrete floor in the garage also was torn up. The search extended to the basement of the house, but no digging was done there. Altho the desired clews did not appear, it was announced that the excavating would be resumed today.

Probe Mystery Business.

State's attorney's police said charges had been made that arrangements for abortions were part of the mysterious business carried on by Mrs. Mae Smith and her daughter, Mary, at the Winnemac avenue house and at Miss Smith's office at 236 North Clark street. Coroner Brodie entered the investigation, he said, because his files include several unsolved deaths that have resulted from illegal operations.

Mrs. Smith and her daughter, who were arrested Sunday in a Waukegan trailer camp, are being held in the County jail. Mrs. Smith, charged with kidnaping and operating a maternity home without a license, is held in bond of $10,000. The bond of Miss Smith, charged with kidnaping, is set at $5,000.

The task of calling in hundreds of witnesses, whose names were in the Smith files, is being carried on by Assistant State's Attorney Samuel Papanek and Theodore Kucewicz. Papanek, after a conference with First Assistant State's Attorney Wilbert F. Crowley, said they would appeal today to Police Commissioner Allman for aid.

Search for Persons on Lists.

The police commissioner will be asked to detail men in each police district to search for persons named in the Smith lists and send them to the state's attorney's office. Subpenas will be issued where necessary. Papanek stressed that no names of witnesses will be made public.

More witnesses were questioned by Papanek and his staff last night, and several told of abortions performed in the suite of offices maintained by Mary Smith on North Clark street. One told of having paid $150 for the work. Others said Mary raised the price after agreeing to a fixed sum, then took promissory notes for the balance.

Further evidence of the association of the Smiths and Dr. Abigail Traxler, unlicensed Chicago physician, now serving 25 years in the Dwight penitentiary for murder by abortion, was found in the basement last night.

Letter Asks About Price.

A letter from out of town, addressed "Dear Vern," said:

"Well, I'm in a jam again. Do you think I should go to Traxler?"

A copy of a newspaper containing a story mentioning two mysterious women in connection with the Lindbergh baby kidnaping was also found in the basement by Sergt. Frank Donohue and Oliver Karwoski, chief investigators for the coroner's office. It had been carefully wrapped and tucked away.

Coroner Brodie said he would turn over this to Lieut. Thomas Kelly of the state's attorney's police this morning for him to study. A diary kept by the Smiths in 1932, investigators recalled, had contained a mention of the birth of the second Lindbergh ba[illegible].

Didn't Care Who Got Hurt, Says Bomber

Plymouth, Ind., May 8 [Special].—A jury in Marshall county Circuit court today heard a confessed dynamiter tell with cold precision how he blasted the power lines of the Indiana and Michigan Electric company and how a union business agent paid him liberally for the sabotage.

Parrish E. Freeman.

The witness was Parrish E. Freeman, an ex-convict. The defendant, charged with conspiracy to commit a felony, is John A. Marks, a representative of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, an American Federation of Labor affiliate.

In his testimony Freeman painted himself as more tender of heart than Marks. He said that on one occasion he protested that power lines selected for blowing up were too near highways and somebody might be killed.

"That can't be helped," he quoted Marks as replying.

Price List Given.

The union agent, Freeman declared, said he was willing to pay up to $2,500 for bombings. He testified to specific outrages and amounts paid as follows:

For chopping down poles near South Bend, Ind., $1,000.

For dynamiting power line towers near Arcola, Ind., $200.

For bombings at Ligonier and Benton, Ind., on Thanksgiving day, 1939, $400.

Nine Places Damaged.

He and other assistants of Marks, Freeman said, damaged the company lines at nine points. Once, he declared, he reported he couldn't find a suitable tower for blasting and was told peremptorily to go out and find one.

"The only reason I was in this," Freeman said, "was that I wanted the $2,500. I hadn't been out of the pen long when I met Marks in South Bend."

Freeman said Marks wished the electric company terrori[illegible] so that it would withdraw an appeal from a labor board ruling that a local union should be disbanded. He added that Marks had organized some small companies, but was losing prestige with the membership because he had made no progress unionizing the big I. & M. company.

Dynamite used in the blasts, the witness said, was purchased by him from a woman at Fishers, Ind.

WINDSOR WILL REGAIN BRITISH THRONE WITH OUR AID, SAY GERMANS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, May 8.—The duke of Windsor, former King Edward VIII., will return to his British throne with German help, minor Nazis are telling their friends in an effort to show them how certain they are that Germany will vanquish England. They assert David Lloyd George, Great Britain's world war prime minister, and quite a number of other politicians are eager to come to terms with the Germans "now that they see how strong Germany is."

When the peace is signed, Germany will not accept the signature of King George VI. or any of his aids, these circles declare, but the Hitler government will insist that the duke of Windsor resume his crown.

CONGRESSMAN'S BOOM RESTORES HEARING TO EAR

Washington, D. C., May 8 [Special].—Representative John Taber [R., N. Y.] is possessor of a powerful and well exercised voice. Congressman Leonard J. Schuetz, a Chicago Democrat, has been deaf in his left ear since birth.

The other day during debate on the wage and hour amendments Taber reinforced his lusty tones by talking into one of the microphones hooked into the house amplication system.

Representative Schuetz had left the chamber and was sitting in an anteroom when some one opened a door. The force of the amplified voice of Mr. Taber smote Schuetz's deaf ear with, as he described it, "extraordinary sensations." Schuetz walked back into the chamber and discovered not only that hearing had come to the left ear but that improvement had come to the right ear as well.

"I have been talking to deaf ears ever since I came to congress," Taber said, "but I guess I have them licked now."

The Courage League Opens Ball Season

There was courage aplenty—enough to warm the hearts and win the admiration of all the spectators—in the softball game played yesterday between the Kinney Kubs and the Boyd Beagles on the Jahn school grounds at 3149 North Wolcott avenue.

Arthur Nelson of the Beagles pitched with his left arm; he had learned how because his right is incapable of movement.

The Kubs' first baseman maneuvered on a crutch to make putouts [and made them].

But Batting Is O. K.

That able shortstop of the Beagles hit several singles that would have been two baggers in most softball leagues; one artificial leg cut down his speed.

Paul Bianuci, shortstop for the Kubs, didn't let his physical handicaps keep him from making two doubles and scoring three runs.

A lively little Beagle in center field won cheers when he hobbled over on a leg brace and gobbled a tall fly.

So it went thru the double roster of players. As it turned out in this, the first baseball game ever tried in Chicago by crippled kids, the Kubs won 14 to 5, with Frank Virgilio pitching and Tony Ciacci catching. Nelson and Bruno Bianucci were the Beagle battery.

Promises Closer Score.

The Kubs are the children of the Spalding school and are coached by Mrs. Selma Kinney, gymnasium teacher. The Beagles, from Jahn school, are directed by Lawrence Boyd, who teaches manual training. Boyd congratulated the winners, but promised a closer battle for the next game on May 22.

So keen was the contest that a crowd of other children who play ball without laboring under the handicaps of the Spalding and Jahn school youngsters gave up their game to watch.

Two bus drivers, James Whalen and Harold Retzer, were drafted into service as umpires and had no real squawks.

"I never saw teams with more spirit," said Retzer. "They were out to win. But they know an umpire makes mistakes. They're good sports."

COMMONS BACKS PREMIER; PREDICT CABINET SHAKEUP

CHURCHILL TAKES FULL BLAME FOR NORWAY DEFEAT

LONDON, May 8 (AP).—Winston Churchill, yesterday named general director of Great Britain's war strategy by Prime Minister Chamberlain, tonight shouldered responsibility for the British defeat in Norway. He also warned his countrymen that Germany is superior to Britain in the air.

Churchill made these admissions as he defended the Chamberlain régime against the onslaught of a bitterly critical house of commons, whose temper had been inflamed by the British withdrawal from southern and central Norway and the lack of vigorous naval action in the early stages of the Scandinavian war.

Takes Hecklers to Task.

Churchill, altho not in a particularly belligerent mood, stood his ground whenever interrupted. At one time, he told hecklers:

"All day long we have had abuse and now you won't listen. You dare not listen to the argument. It is not fair. It is not British."

The withdrawal from the Trondheim area saved Britain from a most disastrous entanglement, Churchill said, adding "I take the fullest responsibility myself, together with the prime minister and other ministers concerned, for having accepted the advice of our experts."

Churchill said he thought the experts were right at the time and he saw no reason to alter his views "on what I have learned since."

Germans Advanced Rapidly.

The German advance was so rapid, he said, that the Norwegians were unable to destroy roads and railways.

When the German march into Norway began, Churchill continued, "we were bound to go to the aid of the Norwegians" and Trondheim was chosen for the attack.

Scornful of suggestions that the navy withdrew from its undertakings, Churchill said, "the re-embarkation of our 12,000 men—for that is all there were—less than a division—was accomplished with very great skill and I may say with very good luck."

Churchill said there were 120,000 Germans in central and southern Norway and it was necessary to withdraw the allied forces "or leave them to be destroyed."

Plan Is Abandoned.

He also asserted the navy was "perfectly ready to carry troops" into Trondheim but the plan was abandoned "because on the 17th of April the two diversionary landings [at Namsos and Andalsnes] had made good progress and it seemed easier to capture Trondheim by this method than to incur the heavy cost of a direct attack."

The bombing by the Germans of Namsos and Andalsnes [north and south of Trondheim] prevented the landing of large reinforcements and even of artillery for the forces already landed, Churchill said, and

'RESIGN!' LONDON PRESS CRIES; URGES LABOR TO ENTER GOVERNMENT

LONDON, May 9, Thursday (AP).—The Daily Mail in a front page editorial today declared the government of 71 year old Neville Chamberlain "must resign." It advocated the selection of 79 year old David Lloyd George, world war prime minister, as his successor, with First Lord of the Admiralty Winston Churchill in complete control of strategy.

The Laborite Daily Herald and the Liberal News Chronicle likewise demanded a new ministry. The Daily Express, however, felt that regaining air supremacy was the solution. The Times commented:

"There can be no question of the strength of the demand for a ministry more broadly based and therefore differently constituted. . . . If the Labor party fails to answer the clear public call it leaves the prime minister more free to choose his own means."

The Herald said:

"Parliament has dismissed the premier. Morally and politically Mr. Chamberlain was defeated beyond hope of recovery in commons. . . . The nation's will is: Chamberlain shall go."

Hold on Reins Slips; Lloyd George Rips War Efforts.

BY JOSEPH CERUTTI.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, May 8.—Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain tonight emerged from the two day parliamentary "inquest" on the collapse of the British and French counterstroke to Fuehrer Adolf Hitler's blitzkrieg in Norway with the reins of the wartime government of Great Britain slipping from his grasp.

By vigorously cracking the Conservative party whip and turning the debate into a personal issue, the prime minister won a vote of confidence by 281 votes to 200. However, the vote did not tell the complete story.

Chamberlain's hold on the premiership, in the opinion of political observers, now is weaker than at any time in the last three years. A drastic reconstruction of the government is widely forecast.

Three Courses Open.

Three courses remain open to the prime minister, political experts said. First, he can resign. Second, he can attempt to form a new government, with sweeping changes in personnel. Third, he can hold his hand for the time being and await developments. Chamberlain is expected to call a meeting of his cabinet colleagues tomorrow to decide upon their future action.

An analysis of the voting indicated that 40 rebel Conservatives voted with the opposition and that 134 members who nominally support Chamberlain abstained from voting or did not attend the session. Thus 334 of the house of commons' 615 members did not vote their confidence in Chamberlain. It was his fifth such test of the war, and one of his closest.

As the protracted debate drew toward an angry close at 11 p. m. parliament was filled with the greatest tension since Chamberlain took office in 1937.

In the course of the discussion speaker after speaker, including David Lloyd George, prime minister in the world war, demanded that Chamberlain get out and make way for a new leader pledged to carry on the war with greater vigor.

Opposition Sees Victory.

Those who voted against Chamberlain were not subdued by the result. Rather, they seemed to accept it as a victory. As Chamberlain left the house after the balloting, opposition members sang "Rule Britannia," and shouted, "Go, resign," to the prime minister.

Winston Churchill, now supreme director of British war strategy as well as first lord of the admiralty, was the final speaker for the government, a move designed to win over wavering members of commons to the Chamberlain side. During the address Churchill conceded superiority in the air to the Germans and assumed responsibility for the failure of the British campaign in Norway.

Churchill's speech, coming after 16 hours of argument and recriminations, followed an angry scene earlier in the day when the Labor spokesman, Herbert Morrison, flung down the gauntlet and challenged Chamberlain to a vote of confidence.

Chamberlain Angered.

The prime minister, white with anger, scrambled to his feet and amidst cheers and interruptions announced, "I accept the challenge and welcome it. Now at least we shall see who is with us and who is against us. I call upon my friends to support us."

As the debate progressed a growing uneasiness and bitterness became discernible. Government critics were passionate in their denunciations and the temper of the house was strained repeatedly as the prestige of the prime minister and the fate of his government swung in the balance.

Morrison set the tone in his opening statement by warning that Great Britain risked losing the war if Chamberlain, Sir John Simon, chancellor of the exchequer, and Sir Samuel Hoare, air minister, remained in office.

Hide Behind Churchill.

Morrison lambasted the government for hiding behind Churchill and "putting him in a shop window" every time it was in trouble.

This aroused Chamberlain, who replied: "This is a time of national danger. We are facing a relentless enemy who must be fought by the united action of this country. What Morrison has said makes it graver still.

"None of us desire to hold onto office for a moment longer than we retain the confidence of this house. I do not seek to evade criticism, but I say to my friends in the house—and I have friends in the house—no government can prosecute a war efficiently unless it has public and parliamentary support."

Lloyd George Speaks Forth.

Morrison's criticism, however, appeared quite tempered compared to the flood of abuse which Lloyd George heaped upon Chamberlain and his cabinet.

"I say there is nothing which will contribute more to victory in this war than that the prime minister should sacrifice the seals of his office," Lloyd George declared.

"Everything that has been done has been half hearted, ineffective, without drive, and unintelligent. Britain's promissory notes [to help other countries] are now rubbish in the market.

"The prime minister [Chamberlain] has met this formidable foe—Hitler—in peace and war. He always has been worsted. We are in the worst strategic position in which this country ever has been placed. We have to face it as a people and not as a personal issue."

Tells Facts, He Says.

The shaggy haired Welshman, who has completed his 50th year in parliament, claimed British prestige thruout the world was made dependent on a "half prepared, half baked expeditionary force" [to Norway].

"You are not going to rouse the British empire to put forth its whole strength unless you tell the facts of the reality of the peril," he shouted.

Alfred Duff Cooper, former first lord of the admiralty, assumed the leadership of the Conservative rebels by bluntly announcing he would vote against the government. He declared in response to the prime minister's plea for support, "We must throw away all regard for friendships, party loyalties, and personal affections and pay attention only to two considerations, absolute truth and the welfare of the country."

Sir Stafford Cripps, a Laborite, branded Chamberlain as "unfit to carry on the government of the country."

Criticism of the government was not confined to the house of commons. In the house of lords also a fierce debate took place in which Chamberlain was attacked bitterly.

Nazi Invasion of Norway Cuts Off Cod Liver Oil

Richmond, Va., May 8 (AP).—The German invasion of Scandinavia closed the source of 70 per cent of the medicinally valuable cod liver oil vitamin supply to the United States, the American Pharmaceutical association was told today. Robert William Rodman, managing editor of Druggists' Circular, said that hostilities started when fish oil stocks in this country were at their low point after heavy winter sales due to demand for vitamin products. Spring is the big cod fishing season off Norway.

British Political Foes

CHURCHILL TAKES FULL BLAME FOR NORWAY DEFEAT

Admits Germans Are Superior in Air.

"by the 25th [of April] the possibility of the arrival south of Trondheim of large German forces thoroly equipped had to be foreseen."

A "Ghastly Success."

British ships had scored "a ghastly success, 7,000 or 8,000 Germans having been drowned," Churchill declared.

He said Britain had to conserve her air force to guard against "grave dangers which may come upon us at any time."

Then he acknowledged German superiority in the air by declaring:

"Our numerical deficiency in the air—despite our superiority in both men and materials—has condemned us and will condemn us for some time to come to a great deal of difficulty and suffering and danger which we must endure with firmness until more favorable conditions can be established—as they assuredly will be."

A "Naval Disaster."

Replying to a question concerning surface warships in the Skagerrak, Germany's gateway to Norway, Churchill said "the immense enemy air strength which can be brought to bear on our patroling craft has made this method [of patrol] far too costly to be adopted.

"Losses which would be inflicted on a steady surface patrol from the air would undoubtedly very soon constitute a naval disaster.

"We therefore adopted the submarine blockade as the only method at our disposal. There is a great deal of difference about being responsible for an order which may lose several valuable ships and expressing an opinion without such responsibility."

Replies to German Claims.

Answering German claims that a number of battleships had been sunk, Churchill said actually two had been slightly damaged and neither was withdrawn for a day from service.

He cited a German claim that three aircraft carriers had been heavily damaged and said "the facts are that one was slightly damaged by a near miss and is still in service.

"They claim to have sunk or damaged cruisers. Only one antiaircraft cruiser was slightly damaged. We have unhappily lost 11 trawlers."

Toward the end of his speech Churchill, in urging unity, warned:

"At no time in the last war were we in greater peril than we are now."

FRENCH CABINET TO MEET TODAY; EYES ON BRITAIN

BY DAVID DARRAH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, May 8.—Premier Paul Reynaud will meet twice with his cabinet tomorrow and deal with the situation which, it is expected, will result from an anticipated shakeup of Neville Chamberlain's government in London. The first meeting is set for 10 a. m., with the premier presiding. The second will be held at 5 p. m. at the Elysee palace with President Albert Lebrun in the chair.

The British situation is being watched carefully from Paris and changes in London would have an immediate reaction here.

Drive Against Reynaud Seen.

Altho so far the British and French military withdrawal from central Norway has not affected Reynaud, the Paris press tonight hinted that sooner or later Reynaud's opponents on both the right and left will make political capital out of the present predicament of the western powers.

Reynaud's friends, on the other hand, say he can make a good case for himself since he had nothing to do with enforcement of the military program adopted by the supreme allied council in London March 28.

French Weigh Situation.

The French took careful stock of the situation, especially in view of events across the English channel.

In the newspaper L'Ordre the noted French writer Pertinax [Andre Geraud] openly criticized British and French decisions with regard to their campaign to take Trondheim away from the Germans, particularly the faulty and dilatory manner in which that pincers movement was carried out.

Jimmy Finds He's Got Himself Back Into Politics

Los Angeles, Cal., May 8 (AP).—James Roosevelt, eldest son of the President, complained today: "My nickel in the slot movie venture has put me right back in politics." He told a breakfast club that placing the new machines brought up local politics, taxes and little handouts on the side to people who want to help place the machines in the most likely locations. "And I came to California to try to get out of politics," he asserted.

SITUATION GRAVE, HOLLAND FEARS; TROOPS ON MOVE

Distrust Nazi Denial of Plan to Strike.

BY LARRY RUE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

AMSTERDAM, the Netherlands, May 8.—Troop trains rolled constantly today toward strategic defense positions in the Netherlands. Local train service was delayed and numerous regular trains suspended to facilitate movement of the troops. A despite official statements from Germany that she has no intention of attacking the Netherlands, the foreign office still regarded the situation as grave.

The military last night took over the policing of all cities after the government had canceled military leaves and ordered all soldiers to join their units immediately.

While troops are said to be ready to man all weapons of defense on the frontier facing Germany, including the inundation of certain areas, the coast defense was not being neglected. Altho Amsterdam and other cities were not blacked out, lights of all kinds have been barred along the seacoast.

Watch Next Two Days.

Every precaution this country is able to take against external or internal enemies is said to have been completed, even to the organizing of a civilian home defense in every important city.

It is admitted that a pessimistic view is held by the Netherlands population. From talks with government officials at The Hague today THE TRIBUNE correspondent gathered that whatever is going to happen should occur within a couple of days.

A heavy concentration of German troops on her frontier was said to have prompted the government to take its extraordinary precautions. It has been suggested that the Germans are there only to meet any possible action by Britain and France in Denmark, Norway, Holland, or Belgium.

The Netherlands has decided to close the Amsterdam airport at Schipol, where German craft have been the only foreign planes landing, to foreign flyers on Friday. German planes will have to land at Eelde, near Groningen, in the extreme northeast part of the country. This is only a short distance from the border.

BELGIUM REMAINS TENSE

BY ALEX SMALL.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BRUSSELS, Belgium, May 8.—The Belgian public learned this afternoon of Germany's official denial that any attack against the Netherlands is planned, but the tension that had prevailed here all day went uneased. The situation is described as "another state of alarm," but it is being taken more seriously than any previous scare.

Information here is scanty as to the cause of the alarm, which was marked by cancellation of leaves in the Netherlands army. A semiofficial source here stated that Netherlands observers had noted a realignment and regrouping of German motorized units on their northeast border opposite the province of Groningen.

In Belgium the only official act marking the tension was a cabinet council this morning. Last night the general staff was in conference until 1 a. m. The cabinet meeting was devoted almost entirely to an examination of the situation by Foreign Minister Paul Henri Spaak and a consideration of what will be Belgium's action if the Netherlands is attacked.

Leaves in the Belgian army have not been canceled.

A semiofficial source said Belgium views the alarm seriously because it believes it would be logical for Germany to seize Holland to use it as a base for bombing British ports.

Keeps Her Alimony

MRS. LOIS WAGNER.

Roy Wagner asked court permission yesterday to take his son on visits. Mrs. Lois Wagner, 21 years old, protested. She has had custody of the son, Bruce, 1 year old, since she and Wagner were divorced. Mrs. Wagner lives at 1135 Ardmore avenue. Her ex-husband is employed in his mother's bakery at 4606 North Western avenue.

"All this man's relatives are Nazis," Mrs. Wagner's attorney, Norman Becker, told Judge Rudolph Desort. "They worship Hitler. Once the boy's paternal grandmother took some crayons from him because they were a memento from Hitler's home town."

Judge Desort refused Wagner permission to take the child from Mrs. Wagner's home and denied his petition for a reduction of his $7 a week support payments.

Dragged Into Auto, Says Woman Amnesia Victim

A married woman carrying a social security card with the name Margaret Maggio was taken to the county hospital last night suffering from amnesia. She told Warren avenue police that her husband's name was Paul and that she remembered nothing from the time she believed four men tried to drag her into a car. Her clothing was torn. She was about 28 years old, wore a wedding ring, a red straw hat, gray suit, and white blouse.

ARMY PREPARED ON ALL BORDERS, GERMANS BOAST

Deny They Plan to Strike Blow at Holland.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, May 8.—Germany's huge war machine is in full readiness on all borders and can strike in whatever direction Fuehrer Adolf Hitler wishes on a few hours' notice, Nazi official sources said tonight. They denied, however, that Germany has any intention of invading Holland or Belgium. All other conjectures, it was added, are anti-German propaganda.

Charge Plot to Widen War.

Germany's press is brimming with charges that England is plotting to widen the scope of the war and involve other countries. While the Germans yesterday gave much publicity to reports of an alleged British demand for the right to march thru Bulgaria, a Hungarian news agency last night carried a message asserting that the Germans requested the right to march thru Hungary. The message was withdrawn by order of the Hungarian government, and German circles denied it.

One of the reasons that rumors keep circulating among the population that Germany "may have to take action in Holland, Belgium, or Rumania," is because many of the men called to the colors on a huge scale since Saturday were asked which languages they spoke. It is said the men who speak Dutch, Flemish, and Rumanian were picked for special duties and did not remain with the bulk of the men.

British Blow Predicted.

Any suggestion that Germany might be the first to strike in a new direction was angrily denied by Nazi officials.

Dienst aus Deutschland, officially inspired commentary, predicted that pressure being exerted on the British cabinet will cause it to attempt a spectacular move. It added:

"England and France have succeeded in bringing unrest not only in the southeastern European countries, but within the entire neutral European zone from the Dardanelles to the English channel."

Mauretania, Queen Mary Seen in Australian Harbor

HONOLULU, T. H., May 8 (AP).—Passengers on the steamship Mariposa reported today that the British steamships Mauretania, Queen Mary, Aquitania, Empress of Canada, Empress of Britain, and Empress of Asia were in the harbor at Sydney, Australia, when the Mariposa sailed April 26. The Mauretania and Queen Mary left New York late in March. It was reported they would go to Australia for transport service.

CHAMBERLAIN VICTOR FOUR OTHER TIMES IN VOTES OF CONFIDENCE

LONDON, May 8 (AP).—Today's vote in the house of commons was the fifth test vote for Neville Chamberlain's government since the war started. The others were:

Oct. 29—283 to 115, Chamberlain's proposal to restrict introduction of bills to government measures approved.

Dec. 6—303 to 125, approval of the government's conduct of the war voted, defeating a Labor motion of criticism of organization of the nation's man power and resources for the conflict.

Feb. 13—186 to 119, Labor motion recommending government ownership and operation of railroads defeated.

March 3—292 to 129, the first wartime censure motion against the government's Palestine land policy rejected.

MILITARY MISSION OF JUGO-SLAVS TO VISIT MOSCOW

Balkans Cool to Empires' Offers of Aid.

BUDAPEST, Hungary, May 9, Thursday (AP).—It was learned authoritatively early today that a Jugo-Slav military mission headed by Gen. Vojin Maximovic, inspector of the national defense, will leave Belgrade shortly for Moscow to hold military talks with soviet officials.

This became known shortly after diplomatic quarters reported that Great Britain and France were offering the Jugo-Slavs the assistance of troops, air forces, and naval forces, and a guarantee of Jugo-Slav independence and territorial integrity in an effort to seal a Balkan alliance against German or Italian aggression in southeastern Europe.

An offer of military aid reportedly has been made also to Hungary and Bulgaria by the empires. However, those two countries were said to have been reluctant to accept promises which might compromise their neutrality in German or Italian eyes.

Lean More to Russia.

In recent weeks both Jugo-Slavia and Bulgaria, Slavic nations, have been showing an inclination to lean toward the big Slav nation, Russia, for support, rather than to the western powers.

The belief was expressed in quarters close to the Jugo-Slav government that a Jugo-Slav-soviet military alliance might result from the military mission's journey to Moscow. An economic delegation is there now and was received last night in a three hour interview by Premier Molotov.

A military alliance between these two countries would be a complete turnabout in the policy of Jugo-Slavia, which has followed a strongly anti-communist policy since the bolshevist revolution of 1917.

Diplomatic quarters in the Balkans, noting the parallel between the Jugo-Slav-Russian talks and the allied offer of aid to Jugo-Slavia, Bulgaria, and Hungary, said there was a distinct possibility of allied-Russian coöperation in southeastern Europe.

Must Bar Germans.

The allied offer to Hungary was reported to be contingent upon that country's resistance to passage of German troops toward Balkan objectives.

The proffer of military aid was reported conveyed to Count Paul Teleki, Hungarian premier, by the British minister, Owen St. Clair O'Malley, when the envoy asked Count Teleki what he would do if Germany attempted to march thru Hungary.

The diplomatic sources said Count Teleki refused a direct answer, saying the government's attitude would depend on the circumstances when and if Germany got ready to move.

O'Malley's call on the premier followed publication of reports that Germany had requested permission of Hungary to go thru.

Rumania Controls Materials.

In Bucharest the Rumanian cabinet economic council announced the government would take over control of all stocks of wood, coal, petroleum products, cotton, fodder, grain, and foodstuffs in the interest of national defense.

Rumanian officials said this was the first step toward economic mobilization. It means the government will have the power to purchase the commodities at its own price and can ration any of these products and control their sale.

The Rumanian government also decreed seizure of all Polish gold now deposited in the Rumanian national bank. Ministers explained that the gold would be applied on Polish debts to Rumania.

Precautions in Egypt.

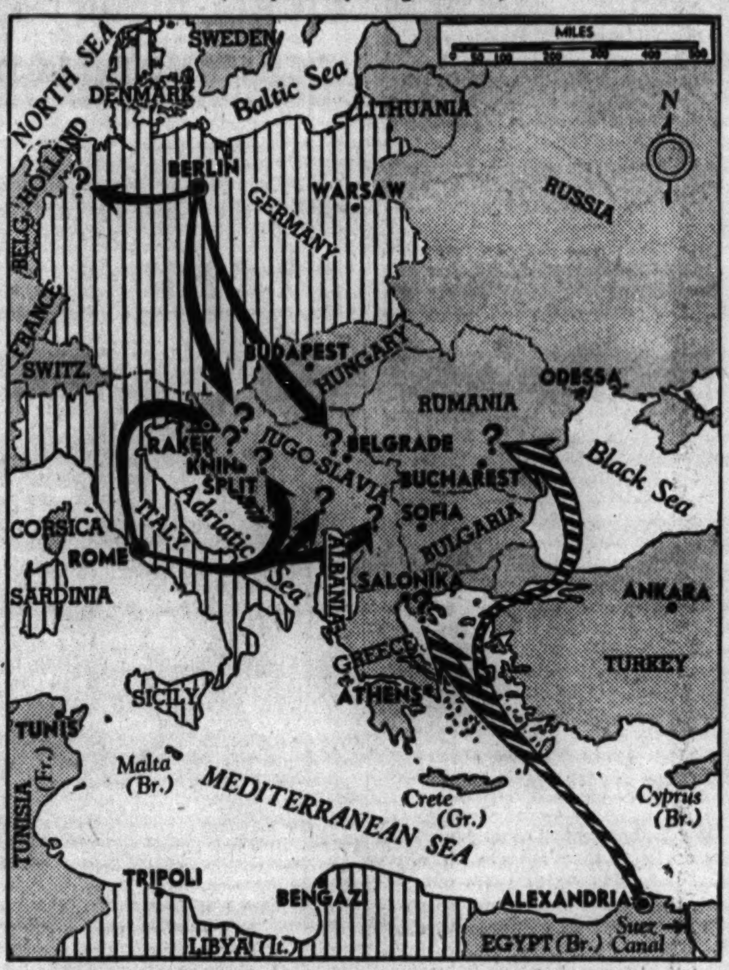
ALEXANDRIA, Egypt, May 8 (AP).—Consular representatives of France, Britain, the United States, and other foreign countries, contemplating the possibility of war in the Mediterranean, hastened precautions today to insure the safety of their nationals.

Arrangements were made to take American citizens, of whom there are 200 in Alexandria and another 700 scattered thruout Egypt, to a refuge near the sea at the first hint of trouble. From there they would be rushed aboard the first available ships.

In the calm blue waters of this busy port the allied battle fleet, mightiest ever assembled in the eastern Mediterranean, still lay at anchor, its guns gleaming under a scorching sun.

New War Threats in Europe

(Story in adjoining column.)



Arrows show where large new troop movements may form new fighting fronts when and if the war spreads. Some of the movements are based on the possibility of Italy joining Germany. The black arrows indicate possible moves by the axis powers. The diagonally lined arrow shows how empire troops might be moved into Balkans.

BLAME BLACKOUT FOR FALL FATAL TO WEBB MILLER

LONDON, May 8 (AP).—Webb Miller, veteran American war correspondent, was found dead on a railway track in southwest London early today, the victim of an accident in the wartime blackout. Authorities said they believed he had fallen from a moving train while attempting to leave his compartment at Clapham Junction. They said he apparently did not realize, in the blackout, that the train had left the station.

Webb Miller.

Miller, European news manager for the United Press associations, had a colorful career as reporter on a wide variety of war fronts from Mexico in 1916 until the present European conflict. His experiences were recounted in his autobiographical book, "I Found No Peace," published in 1936.

A native of Dowagiac, Mich., Miller worked on a passenger steamboat and was a rural school teacher before he went to Chicago as a police reporter in 1912, then covered the American expedition to Mexico in 1916, reported in Washington and New York, and began his career in Europe in 1917. He was 48 years old.

SHOT IN GAMBLING QUARREL.

Charles Coleman, 20 years old, colored, 6206 South Park avenue, was shot and seriously wounded last night after an argument over a gambling debt. Wabash avenue police are holding Alvin Goodson, 17, colored, of 351 East 54th street, as his assailant.

HOW NAZIS HUNT NORSE PLANES—'LIKE RABBITS!'

Flyer Tells Seizure of 24 New American Ships.

OSTERSUND, Sweden, May 8 (AP).—German flyers systematically "hunted Norwegian planes like rabbits" and captured 24 new undamaged United States built Curtiss pursuit ships at one field during the conquest of Norway, a 23 year old Norwegian flying lieutenant asserted today.

"The Nazis drove British fighting planes out of Norway in a week," he said, "destroying 20 grounded planes in a single attack."

The young Norwegian gave a graphic picture of German superiority in the air.

"I was stationed at our military air field just outside Oslo when the war started," he said: "We had just received 24 Curtiss Hawk 75 pursuit planes from the United States.

Germans Capture All Planes.

"All the Curtiss planes were standing on the field when we received news of the German attack. Before one could be taken aloft the German flyers appeared, bombing the field and factory, but carefully avoiding hitting the Curtiss ships until their ground forces managed to capture all the planes undamaged."

The lieutenant said he escaped from the field and joined a small Norwegian fighting squadron of 18 planes in the mountains north of Oslo, operating from frozen lakes.

"But the Germans systematically combed the mountains for our hiding places, then brought bombers to attack," he related.

"During the day we took to the air in a hopeless fight and managed to shoot down some German planes. But the bad weather crackups, and the Germans took a heavy toll."

Twenty British Planes Destroyed.

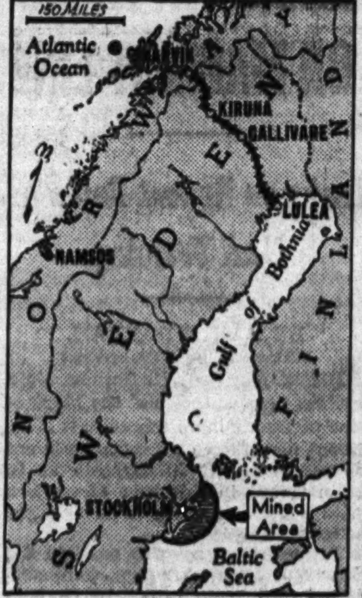
British attempts to use Norwegian flying bases for their own fighting planes lasted only a week, he said.

"The British landed 20 fighters on a frozen lake west of Dombas, in the mountains," he related, "but the Germans almost immediately found their hiding place, bombed it, and destroyed the planes.

"The British then tried taking off directly from aircraft carriers anchored off the coast, but, altho several German ships were shot down between Dombas and Lillehammer, it did not prove effective."

Mines Are Laid

(Story in adjoining column.)



Sweden has mined an area 50 miles north and south of Stockholm to protect the capital from attack by sea. Swedish iron ore from Kiruna and Gallivare is being sent by rail to Lulea, port from which it is shipped to Germany in summer months.

AMERICAN BOMB SIGHTS STILL THE BEST, ARMY SAYS

Washington, D. C., May 8 (AP).—Military authorities expressed the conviction tonight that secret bomb sights used by American army and navy planes still are the world's best in the face of Berlin reports that Nazi flyers had used in Norway a new device of comparable accuracy.

The German bomb sight was understood to be basically the same as those which Japanese flyers have used in China, with results which failed to impress American military airmen.

The American bomb sights, complex mechanisms which automatically compute distance, wind resistance, and other factors, have enabled army flyers to set impressive records for accuracy in practice near Langley field, Virginia, and elsewhere. High scores have been set repeatedly in dropping actual explosives upon areas no larger than a battleship at altitudes of 18,000 feet and even higher.

GERMAN PLANES DUEL FOE'S SHIPS IN NARVIK AREA

Report Two Cruisers Hit; Troops Bombed.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, May 8.—The battle for the iron ore port of Narvik in northern Norway has assumed the aspect of a duel between German bombers on the one hand and, on the other, allied warships serving as transport vessels for the landing of more troops and supplies.

German bombers were claimed by today's war communique to have damaged two more allied cruisers. Allied positions and marching columns also were stated to have been "effectively bombed." East of Narvik, the Germans reported the shooting down of a British pursuit plane.

With thaws beginning in the arctic regions, Germany now is able, at least for the coming four months, to obtain Swedish iron ore by way of the Swedish Baltic port of Lulea.

Ore Supply Limited.

It, however, is understood that Germany will obtain only limited quantities of this high grade iron ore because the railway line linking up the ore mines of Kiruna and Gallivare with Lulea cannot handle heavy freight traffic. This explains the reports circulating in Berlin that German engineers are being picked for service in Sweden.

The Germans declare that even if the allies should break thru the German defenses at Narvik and reach the Swedish border, England will not be able to get any Swedish iron ore for a long time to come. The Narvik railway lines passes thru numerous tunnels before it reaches Swedish territory. This line, the Germans declare, would fall into allied hands—if at all—in a completely wrecked condition.

Lay Mines Near Stockholm.

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, May 8 (AP).—The Swedish government tonight announced that a new series of mines has been laid in territorial waters of the archipelago off Stockholm from a point approximately 50 miles north to 50 miles south of the capital to facilitate its neutrality guard. The mines will not affect the use of the harbor.

Admit 6 Trawlers Lost.

LONDON, May 8 (AP).—The admiralty tonight announced that six British naval trawlers had been lost during the allied armies' withdrawal from the Trondheim area in Norway. Two of the trawlers sank after air attacks. The other four were so damaged by air raiders that it was thought not advisable for them to attempt to cross the North Sea and they were sunk by the British. Casualties were slight, the admiralty said.

The Reuters [British] news agency quoted reports from Stockholm saying that German planes had mined the waters off Narvik.

Free Norse Prisoners.

FREDIKSTAD, Norway, May 8 (AP).—All Norwegian prisoners of war, except officers, held in the Ostfold section, Norway's southeastern tip bordering on Sweden, will be released, the German commander said today. No date was announced.

It was also announced that Nazi SS men [Elite guards] would relieve the German military guard in the Ostfold and that the German military would exchange salutes with Norwegian police.

French Court Hears Suit Against King Zog Over Furs

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, May 8.—The case of King Zog of Albania, now an exile in France, who is charged with nonpayment of a bill for furs purchased for his wife and sisters, came before the common pleas court at Rambouillet today. The court reserved its decision. The plaintiff was Arthur Horowitz, one time Vienna fur dealer, now of London. The furs are believed to be in the palace at Irana, where Queen Geraldine left them when she fled Albania.

GERMANS ESCORT TRIBUNE WRITER OUT OF NORWAY

Army Officers Apologize for Action.

BY DONALD DAY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, May 8.—I have been escorted to the Swedish frontier by two officers of the German army in Norway.

First of all, German headquarters at Trondheim summoned me. They apologized that Gen. Nikolas von Falkenhorst, commander of Adolf Hitler's army in Norway, had ordered me escorted back to the Swedish frontier before a group of Italian, Spanish, and Japanese correspondents could arrive by plane from Copenhagen, Denmark, on a conducted tour.

I was informed that no American correspondents had been permitted to join this party by authorities in Berlin and that my presence in the Trondheim area might prove embarrassing.

Provided with Special Train.

Gen. K. Woytasch provided me with the usual honor escort of two officers—one wore the blood order decoration awarded to 1,700 men who marched with Hitler thru Munich streets during the ill-fated beer cellar putsch in 1923—and a special train to the Swedish border.

My last request to pay a brief visit to the Norwegian resort town of Hell was granted and our train pulled in just as another arrived carrying 175 Norwegian officers and soldiers from the little fort of Hegra, high upon a mountain some miles up the valley from Hell.

The soldiers declared their scant supply of shells was exhausted. They said that when a German officer, advancing under a white flag, was bringing them proof that the British had abandoned Andalsnes and Namsos their commander decided to surrender.

The Norwegian boys were exhausted from their three weeks' siege. The Germans gave them food. After eating, the Norwegians entrained for Olso under guard.

Soldiers Promised Liberty.

The Norwegian soldiers have been promised their liberty providing they help the German occupation forces repair war damages. During the short campaign the towns of Elverum, Hamar, Andalsnes, and Namsos were destroyed, Steinkjer was damaged, and many bridges were blown up. I was informed that men who could prove their services were needed upon farms would be the first released. I had seen Norwegian prisoners in the Trondheim barracks. They were well fed on German army rations and were comfortably off.

My visit to Hell was short. The air field on the outskirts of town was strongly guarded. Cleverly camouflaged squadrons of heavy bombers and Messerschmitt fighters concealed near by were invisible from the surrounding mountains. Foreigners are not permitted to leave the center of town.

A few hours after leaving Hell our train stopped at a point half a mile from the Swedish frontier and the German officers said good-by. The Swedish sentry on the frontier was notified of my arrival and we walked several miles into Storlien, where foreigners are not permitted to remain more than two hours. Because no train was due until the next morning I slept at the station hotel with an armed guard outside my door.

MRS. EMILY RINGLING.

Tallahassee, Fla., May 8 (AP).—Emily Ringling—pictured alternately as a weak, frightened woman at the mercy of a scheming husband and as a nagging, cursing wife—today sought to revoke her divorce from the late John Ringling.

At stake before the Supreme court is a dower share—one-third—of the circus magnate's estate, appraised at $23,000,000. An array of legal talent argued whether Ringling's divorce, obtained five months before he died on Dec. 2, 1936, should be set aside and whether Mrs. Ringling forever waived her dower rights in a prenuptial agreement.

Ringling willed to the state of Florida his art museum and his home at Sarasota and the income from other properties for maintaining them. His only other bequests were $1 to his divorced wife and a $5,000 annuity to Ida Ringling North, his sister.

AMERICAN BORN FLYER WOUNDED IN R. A. F. DUTY

LONDON, May 8 (AP).—Whitney Straight, socially prominent former New York flyer and automobile racer, is in a royal air force hospital with a head wound received in active service.

"I'm recovering all right," the American born flyer, now a squadron leader in the R. A. F., said in a telegram tonight to his titled wife, Lady Daphne Straight.

Straight, who became a naturalized Briton in 1936, is a grandson of the late William C. Whitney, one-time secretary of the United States navy and a nephew of the late Harry Payne Whitney. His wife is the daughter of the earl of Winchilsea and the countess of Winchilsea. The countess was Miss Margaretta Drexel, only daughter of the late Anthony J. Drexel of Philadelphia.

ITALY WARNS IT DOES NOT WANT TO 'BUY PEACE'

Calls Its Stand 'Pre,' Not 'Non'-Belligerent.

ROME, May 8 (AP).—An official Fascist report today described Italy's attitude toward the war as one of "prebelligerency" rather than "nonbelligerency," giving emphasis to Pope Pius' newly expressed fears that the "fire of war" threatens to "invade other" nations.

The new statement of Italian policy was made in a report on the interior ministry's budget by Senator Maurizio Maraviglia, an outstanding pro-ally influence in the last war.

He said the term nonbelligerency adequately described Italy's legal status, but that the Italian state of mind might more appropriately be considered as a "position of prebelligerency," in that Italy is "not disposed to buy the benefits of peace at the price of even the least sacrifice of its aspirations."

Pope Pius revealed earlier that he shares widespread fears that the war will spread to other countries. He told 4,000 pilgrims that "a world poisoned with lies and disloyalty has lost the spiritual health of peace."

Jugo-Slav Trade Parley Set.

Publication of the senate report coincided with the announcement that a Jugo-Slav delegation would come to Rome June 4 to decide the volume of commerce between the two countries during the last half of the year.

These developments supported Rome diplomats' view that while a change in Italian policy is not necessarily imminent, it may be expected when Premier Benito Mussolini considers the moment appropriate.

See Chance for Italian Troops.

The Fascist press underlined this view by publishing the Moscow newspaper Trud's prediction that the moment will come when the warring nations have reached the exhaustion point and the "intervention of fresh Italian troops can assure the superiority of one side over the other."

Premier Mussolini's mouthpiece, Virginio Gayda, argued in Il Giornale d'Italia that Italy can find substitute sources for vital imports in the Balkans and other accessible countries if war closes Gibraltar to Italian shipping.

FRANCE EXPECTS BIGGER ATTACKS ON MAGINOT LINE

Looks on Recent Raids as Nazi Training.

BY DAVID DARRAH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, May 8.—With German night attacks upon outposts of the Maginot line becoming more frequent, it is believed here their chief purpose is not so much to get information as to train troops in this type of warfare with a view to using it on a larger scale soon.

Three French advance posts in the Saar and Moselle regions were subjected to a heavy attack by German troops on Monday night. On the night before there were two attacks.

Big Guns Pave Way.

After short but violent artillery preparation in each case, the German troops came across no man's land, attacked the posts and, in some instances, surrounded them. French troops, trained for offensive patrol and other dangerous work, immediately counterattacked and drove the enemy back. At one point, a German soldier was left dead on the field and a prisoner was taken.

Repulse French Shock Troops.

BERLIN, May 8 (AP).—Germany's high command reported today:

"On the west front, an attack south of Saarlautern by enemy shock troops was repulsed with heavy loss for the enemy."

DNB, official news agency, reported heavy artillery exchanges, a French infantry thrust against a German position, and occasional fights between patrol units.

[The British-French high command's communique last night said: "In the region east of the Nied [river] the enemy attempted a raid which was repulsed by the fire of the outpost attacked, of the artillery, and of a support party which at once went into action."]

ARMY WILL TEST NEW RIFLE TODAY FOR LAWMAKERS

Controversy Rages Over Weapon's Merits.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 8.—While the controversy over the relative merits of the Garand and Johnson semiautomatic rifles continued to rage over Capitol hill, the army completed plans to test the weapons tomorrow in the presence of members of the senate and house military affairs committees and the two appropriation subcommittees in charge of army funds.

Senators and congressmen will watch army marksmen subject the weapons to two hours of test firing at Fort Belvoir, Va. At the same time the Thompson submachine gun, which many military experts believe to be superior by far to either of the semiautomatic weapons, will compete with the latter at ranges under 500 yards.

As the army made ready to demonstrate the weapons, new fuel was added to the controversial fires when Maj. Gen. C. M. Wesson, army chief of ordnance, and several other ordnance experts acknowledged that the design of the Garand semiautomatic rifle had been changed after 39,000 of the weapons were delivered to the army.

Admits Rifles Are Defective.

He admitted inferentially that the 39,000 weapons in the hands of the army are defective and inadequate for battle use. The army does not have a single one of the weapons of new design in service, he acknowledged.

Gen. Wesson said it had been found that on the old style Garand, the operation of the gas cap, which controls the automatic reloading, deflected the bullet to such a degree as to make fire most inaccurate. This defect was reported by the American Rifle association.

The design has been changed to make the reloading mechanism and barrel of the weapon in one piece to correct the defect. On the old style Garand the reloading mechanism is bound to the barrel by a metal band.

Denies Garand's Obsolete.

In admitting that the army Garand has its deficiencies, Gen. Wesson denied that the weapon is obsolete, saying that it still is serviceable and useable. He said that rifles, just like planes and automobiles, get out of date, but still are serviceable and almost as efficient as the model which puts them out of date.

To bolster his argument he brought a collection of rifles from the army museum. He showed members of the senate appropriations subcommittee various rifles from the smooth bore revolutionary war rifle to the Garand.

Malvin Johnson, inventor of the rifle which bears his name, today challenged the army's good faith. He had asked that marines be permitted to fire his weapon in tests against the Garand because the latter weapon is the army's rifle and he felt he would get a better break if marines were to shoot his rifle.

Marine Corps Is Willing.

The marine corps was willing to make a test of the Johnson weapon, but asked that permission be secured from the army. This was denied on the ground that the army is capable of firing both weapons.

"The marines wanted to fire the Johnson rifle but the war department wouldn't let them" said Senator Elbert Thomas [D., Utah], a member of the senate military affairs committee. "I'll see that the Johnson rifle gets a new test if this is wanted after tomorrow's testing."

Senator Thomas made public a letter he had received from E. J. Hall, world war pilot, which reported that the army had developed bullet proof gas tanks before the end of the last war. This letter was published in connection with the statement last week of Maj. Gen. H. H. Arnold, chief of the army air corps, who said German planes are superior to American army planes in self-sealing gas tanks, superior armor protection and heavier armament.

Had Tanks in World War.

"I was chief of the technical section of the A. E. F. air service in England, France, and Italy during the last few months of the last war," Hall wrote to Thomas.

"The facts are that under the most adverse conditions the last airplanes delivered to the front were equipped with self-sealing gasoline tanks. The pilot was armored by a pilot seat which was built with 5-16 inch armor plate with a back which extended up over his head, and some of the airplanes had plates of armor to protect the observer. Some of the last airplanes delivered were equipped with eight machine guns. Naturally these airplanes were not built complete in the United States, as certain materials, such as 5-16 inch armor plate, were not available in this country.

"As far as I can determine all of the items which have been covered by the chief of air service report were perfectly well known by those who had to do the job in the last war."

THAT NORTHWEST SIDE DUMP IS IN BAD ODOR AGAIN

A proposal to contract for dumping privileges at the dump at Grand and Narragansett avenues yesterday was returned by the city council to the finance committee when Ald. Walter J. Orlikoski [35th] and several other northwest side aldermen objected to the measure. They said residents in their wards objected to odors from the dump.

"There shouldn't be any odors," said Ald. Joseph Ross [40th], chairman of a subcommittee on dumps. "The city is now using a new method. We dump refuse and then cover it with earth."

"It still smells," Orlikoski replied. "The city might well tell every one to burn garbage in furnaces. Then only dry refuse would be dumped."

"Do you burn your garbage, Alderman?" asked Mayor Kelly.

"I do," replied Orlikoski, "and it saves fuel."

"Maybe you have something there," said the mayor.

Council Gets Bill to Put End to Ambulance Chasing

An ordinance providing a fine from $50 to $200 for any hospital or police department employé found guilty of giving accident information to an attorney was proposed to the city council yesterday by Ald. Arthur G. Lindell [9th]. The recommendation was referred to the judiciary committee.

CITY RENOUNCES SHYLOCK ROLE, LOSES $240,000

Council Sells Judgments Against County.

The city council decided yesterday that it can't harden its heart to demand a pound of flesh worth $3,136,914, plus 5 per cent interest annually, from its brother, the county board.

So it sold out its interests to two investment houses, A. S. Huyck & Co., 100 West Monroe street, and Morris Mather & Co., 141 West Jackson street.

These two firms offered to buy at face value $3,136,914 in judgments held by the city against Cook county. They represent uncollected costs assessed by the Municipal court against the county on cases tried in the Municipal courts and in which the county had an interest. The judgments were entered last year, to be paid within 10 years.

City Gives Up $240,000.

The offer of the two investment houses was accepted by a vote of 42 to 5. By selling the judgments at face value, the council gave the two firms a $240,000 premium, representing interest accrued to date.

Several aldermen, principally Ald. Paul Douglas [5th], professed themselves to be mystified by these proceedings.

Douglas said he could not comprehend why the investment firms might be expected to collect from the county when the city had been trying for several years without success to do so. And, he added, if there was some unrevealed basis for expecting that they could collect, why were they being given a plum of almost a quarter of a million for that privilege?

Ald. J. M. Arvey [24th], finance committee chairman, undertook to explain.

"We tried to get the money from the county and failed," he said. "We also tried to borrow against the judgments from the RFC and Chicago banks, and failed again.

Can't Collect from Brother.

"The county board has never discussed interest payments with us. We are like brothers. You wouldn't expect to collect interest from a brother, and neither can we expect to collect it from the county."

"Then something, or somebody, is crazy," asserted Ald. Douglas. "I don't see how two comparatively small investment houses offer to buy up these judgments when they look like bad debts. How can they do what we can't do?"

"One word explains it—faith," replied Ald. Arvey. "They have faith in the county and the city. Besides, they can get payment from the county easier than the city can because they aren't like brothers with the county."

Says It Looks Peculiar.

"You are tearing my heart strings," said Ald Douglas. "I can't vote for a measure that would pit ruthless investment houses against our dear little brother. Besides, it still looks peculiar."

Some observers in the council recalled that A. S. Huyck & Co. was formed five years ago to deal in municipal bonds by Mr. Huyck and Russell Gartley, who were formerly with the investment firm of A. C. Allyn & Co. While manager of the Allyn & Co. municipal bond department, Huyck swung another highly successful deal with the city. His firm bought $3,000,000 in water certificates at 101¼, and immediately sold at least one-third of them at a 9½ point profit to New York insurance firms.

CAR INSPECTOR CRUSHED.

John Karbelis, 61 years old, 6060 Lafayette avenue, a car inspector for the New York Central railroad, was crushed to death by a freight car early yesterday in the yards at 66th street and South Park avenue.

ARVEY ASSAILS JARECKI RULING ON TAX VALIDITY

Ald. J. M. Arvey [24th], chairman of the city council finance committee, assailed County Judge Edmund K. Jarecki yesterday from the floor of the council.

"The county judge recently sustained objections to city tax levies because we did not itemize appropriations for unpaid bills," Arvey said. "Last year his own election board ran up $250,000 in unpaid bills and he did not object to that.

"It is time people compare the high handed methods of these 'high minded' officials when their own bureaus are affected. If any one else spent in excess of appropriations he would be branded a crook."

Arvey's statement followed the proposal of Ald. Arthur G. Lindell [9th] that the finance committee study the problem presented by Judge Jarecki's recent decision invalidating certain portions of city appropriation ordinances. The proposal was referred to the finance committee.

SALE OF SCHOOL LANDS APPROVED BY CITY COUNCIL

The city council directed the board of education yesterday to sell in small parcels school property within the area bounded by Madison street, Roosevelt road, and Cicero and Central avnues. The entire area was originally a land grant to the board, but some parcels of it have been sold. Ald. Edward J. Upton [30th], said he would ask the council to rezone the district for homes. It is now zoned for apartment buildings.

LOOT SCHOOL SUPPLY STORE.

Burglars carried away a cash register, $12 inside it, and other loot worth $100 yesterday from a lunchroom and school supply store at 8845 Manistee avenue, across the street from Bowen High school.

Council Approves Purchase of 50 New Garbage Trucks

The purchase of 50 new enclosed type garbage trucks, costing between $5,000 and $6,000 each, was authorized yesterday by the city council. The council also directed Oscar E. Hewitt, commissioner of public works, to prepare specifications for bids on 200 new refuse trailers.

SHOWDOWN NEAR IN CITY'S FIGHT WITH CAR LINES

PWA Cracks the Whip to Speed Franchise Accord.

BY LAURENCE BURD.

Chicago's 13 year old transit unification dispute appeared last night to be heading for a showdown. Mayor Kelly and the city council's special traction subcommittee worked behind closed doors almost steadily from 9:30 a. m. until 9 p. m., preparing what was termed the city's final proposal for a unified traction ordinance.

The proposal will be submitted to the transit lines at a joint meeting with the mayor and other city representatives this afternoon. The meeting also will be attended by Joseph Sharfsin, special counsel for the Public Works administration, whose arrival in Chicago yesterday morning from Washington, D. C., was the impetus for the city's sudden move to speed a transit agreement.

PWA Puts On the Heat.

Sharfsin, according to local PWA officials, carried an ultimatum from the PWA that it will cancel its 18 million dollar subway grant to the city unless the city drafts an ordinance agreed to by the lines within a few days. The city was required under the subway grant to submit to PWA an approved franchise by July 1, 1939. This deadline has since been extended several times.

PWA officials said Sharfsin, who attended yesterday's meetings, also told the mayor and aldermen that the Reconstruction Finance corporation will not make a decision on the lines' request for a loan to the new company until franchise terms are agreed upon.

The surface and elevated lines applied to the RFC three weeks ago for a loan of about 45 millions to finance a proposed 102 million dollar transit improvement program. RFC officials told them then that any franchise terms affecting earning power and cash resources of the new company will be closely studied by the RFC as a prospective creditor.

All Phases Discussed.

Mayor Kelly said every section of the proposed ordinance was discussed yesterday and agreement reached on the city's stand on most points.

The city's new proposals contain several concessions from previous demands.

Points already agreed to with the lines and left unchanged yesterday call for: Maintenance of present fares until Jan. 1, 1942, after which the new company will have the right to ask a newly created local transit commission for higher fares; a transit modernization and extension program requiring expenditure of 60 millions in three years and another 42 millions in the next five years; payment of pensions to employés; omission of a valuation of properties from the ordinance on the theory that this is the function of the transit commission.

Disagree on Three Points.

On the three chief franchise points in disagreement, the city's latest stand, according to aldermen, is:

Compensation to City—The city will propose today that the new company pay 3 per cent of gross revenues to the city for use of streets and the subway, but this will be reduced to 1.5 per cent until Jan. 1, 1943. Only 1 per cent of revenues, however, would be a flat charge, the remainder to be paid only if 4 million dollars a year bond interest is earned by the new company. Previously the city asked that the 3 per cent, or about 2 millions a year, be an operating charge before bond interest.

Equipment of Subway—The city's new proposal is that the estimated 10 million dollar cost of equipping the subway with track and stations be split 50-50 between the city and the new company, if the company can borrow its share from RFC. Previously the city had proposed a basis whereby the company would pay about 60 per cent and the city 40 per cent.

Paving—The city had previously proposed that the new company pay about half the cost of repaving more than 200 miles of street car rights of way torn up for bus substitutions. The companies have offered only to resurface over the tracks temporarily, with the city paying the cost of permanent repaving when undertaken. The city has not decided how far it will compromise its earlier offer, if at all, aldermen said last night.

ROADS CHOKED AS ARMY RUSHES TO REPEL 'FOE'

Camp Beauregard, La., May 8 (AP).—Western Louisiana and eastern Texas highways were choked tonight with the advancing motorized forces of two streamlined armies rushing headlong into simulated conflict which begins at dawn Thursday.

Long after darkness staff cars, trucks, tanks, armored cars, and supply trains of the defending Blue army, numerically weak because of the unexpected initial air successes of the invading Red army in crippling communications, poured westward thru the forests to check the invaders near the Sabine river.

In the theoretical conflict, the army will test all the new devices of war and attempt to find some defense for lightning warfare. Indications tonight pointed to severe reverses and losses for the defenders, whose combined strength of 11,000 men so far arrived at the battle zone is challenged by 30,000 invading mechanized troops. Eventually the Blue defending force will number 40,000 and the tide is expected to turn.

Inquest Jury Exonerates Precinct Captain in Killing

James Keska, 4805 South Justine street, Democratic captain of the 6th precinct of the 14th ward, was exonerated by a coroner's jury yesterday after an inquest into the death of Vincent J. Sniegowski, 4859 South Bishop street, who was slain as the outgrowth of a fight on primary election day. The jury found that Sniegowski was shot to death by an unknown person and recommended that Keska, who was arrested after the shooting, be released. Keska, however, still faces a charge of murder in the Felony court. He will be arraigned on this charge tomorrow.

GESTAPO TERROR: AN EYE AT EVERY GERMAN KEYHOLE

Gregor Ziemer.

England's Scotland Yard is a kindergarten detective school compared with the immense secret police organization of Germany, Gregor Ziemer, former headmaster of the American school in Berlin, asserted yesterday. Ziemer, who returned to America shortly before the outbreak of war after living in Germany 11 years, addressed members of the Chicago Association of Commerce at a luncheon in the Palmer House.

"Citizens of the United States find it almost impossible to imagine the grip of terror in which the Gestapo, or secret police, holds all of Germany," Ziemer said.

"In every apartment house in Berlin while I was there there was an agent, one of the residents who watched his neighbors, saw what newspapers they received, what telephone calls they made, what visitors they had.

"These agents reported to others in charge of a square block or so of the city of Berlin, and in turn these secondary agents relayed the information to higher authorities. Thus, the Gestapo has an eye to every keyhole in Germany."

How ABOUT IT—wouldn't you rather own a new Nash?

Wouldn't you rather drive a car that's gay and glamorous . . . that can show clean heels to the best of them?

Wouldn't you rather enjoy the fresh, conditioned-air comfort of the automatic Weather Eye system—instead of eating road dust, and catching colds from drafts?

It will pay you—up to 20% on gas and oil—to have its Fourth Speed Forward, and Automatic Overtake.

It will pay you to have its 99 H.P. Manifold-Sealed engine that sent the Nash Lafayette to victory in the 1940 Gilmore-Yosemite Run with 23.76 miles per gallon.

It will save you $15 to $50 a year in lodging costs on vacation trips—because Sedans can be made up into big Convertible Beds.

Yes, any way you look at it—a Nash will save you money, not only now—but years from now in higher resale value.

And the reason why a Nash stands up better is because—as everybody knows—we build it better.

We put in a 7-bearing crankshaft instead of the usual 3 or 4 . . . a double frame chassis instead of a single . . . and design it 300 to 400 pounds heavier (than small cars) for safety. W-G-N SHARES ITS MELODIES WITH GIVERS OF LILACS

Host to Garden Leaders at Radio Show.

Spring filled the main W-G-N studio last evening. It was on the air with the sweet strains of the W-G-N concert orchestra, and it was in the audience where 600 men and women, who are arranging for the annual Share Your Lilacs campaign, were guests.

Representatives of the Chicago Plant, Flower and Fruit guild were invited by THE TRIBUNE to attend the Pageant of Melody program, heard thruout the nation over the Mutual Broadcasting system. The program is preliminary to the annual campaign for lilac distribution to the city's shut-ins.

Praises Generosity to Shuts-Ins.

India Moffett, THE TRIBUNE's society editor, was hostess and welcomed the audience.

"The Share Your Lilacs movement is the largest of the kind in the United States," she said. "Thru the radio, bed-ridden people are able to enjoy the lovely music such as you will hear in a few minutes. But remember, nothing has been discovered or perfected that will bring the beauty and fragrance of fresh lilacs to sick people except the flowers themselves. Only the generosity of you and thousands like you make it possible for your less fortunate neighbors to see and smell the lovely blossoms that before long will be bursting into bloom and telling us that spring is really here."

Before the program, the audience was introduced to the soloists of the evening: Harriet Brewer, soprano; Mark Love, bass; Michael Wilkomerski, violinist, and Attilio Baggiore, tenor of the Pageant of Melody.

Emanuel Feuermann, famous cellist, was guest star of the evening. An Austrian by birth, a child prodigy at 11, a teacher, a composer and a world famous virtuoso while still in his 30s, he left Germany in 1934 and came to America. His most recent Chicago appearance was at Ravinia last summer.

Plays Tschaikowski's Piece.

Feuermann played Tschaikowski's "Rococo Variations" brilliantly. He was accompanied by the W-G-N Concert orchestra, directed by Henry Weber.

Eighty-five garden clubs, whose membership exceeds 2,000, were represented in the audience. Each club has a chairman coöperating with the Chicago Plant, Flower and Fruit guild which annually sponsors the Share Your Lilac campaign with THE TRIBUNE.

Last year 22,000 patients in 147 hospitals received bouquets thru the efforts of these clubs. Enrollments in the campaign have been increasing and a wider distribution is anticipated this year. This will be the 12th Share Your Lilacs campaign.

Date Depends on Weather.

Lilac day is usually around the middle of May. Because of cold weather and slow blooming, this season's date has not yet been set. Chairmen are asked to write either to guild headquarters, 122 South Michigan avenue, or to THE TRIBUNE, giving the possible dates of blooming in their communities.

Nine railroads will bring the flowers from the suburbs to downtown stations. They will be picked up by THE TRIBUNE trucks and distributed to invalids, old people, sick and crippled children and to the underprivileged thruout the city.

$800 CASH TAKEN FROM CURRENCY EXCHANGE HEAD

Edward Dunne, owner of a currency exchange at 334 North Cicero avenue, was robbed of $800 early yesterday by a gunman who pressed a revolver against his back as Dunne was entering a drug store adjoining the exchange.

The bandit forced Dunne to unlock the exchange, open the safe, and give him the money. Then he ripped out the telephone wires, warned Dunne to remain in a back room, and fled in an automobile parked near by.

Austin police believed the gunman is the man who has robbed 15 currency exchanges and insurance offices in the last two months. Ten days ago John Prendergast, chief of the uniformed police, ordered special meases taken to protect currency exchanges from early morning robberies.

HOUSE DEFEATS AIR RULE SHIFT PLAN, 232 TO 153

Rejects Roosevelt's Plea; Issue Up to Senate.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 8.—The congressional fight to preserve safety in the air lanes of the United States shifted to the senate today after the house had emphatically voted, 232 to 153, to kill President Roosevelt's proposals for a political dictatorship over the Civil Aeronautics authority.

A parliamentary tangle developed in the senate after Senator Pat McCarran [D., Nev.] had served notice from the floor that he would move to discharge the senate's reorganization committee from consideration of Mr. Roosevelt's plan to transfer the CAA to the department of commerce under Secretary Harry Hopkins.

Such a motion requires an immediate vote after an hour's debate. McCarran was informed by the parliamentarian, however, that if his motion were voted down, a later vote could not be obtained upon the resolution adopted by the house. He thereupon reserved his decision about demanding a test vote in the senate tomorrow.

Vote to Hold Hearings.

The senate committee considering the reorganization plan met meanwhile and voted to hold two days' hearings. Administration strategy, it is known, has dictated a policy of delay and McCarran expressed a fear that the hearings might be stretched out interminably.

The vote in the senate is expected to be closer than in the house today, but McCarran predicted that the President's plan would be condemned in that body also.

Under the reorganization authority granted the President, both houses of congress must disapprove of any of his suggestions to reshape the government. Otherwise his plan goes into effect 60 days after it is submitted.

Senate Also Must Act.

Thus, despite the large majority voting against Mr. Roosevelt in the house, the plan which he sent up on April 11 will go into effect June 11 unless the senate joins the house in disapproval.

The house vote found 153 Republicans, 77 Democrats, and 2 Progressives joining in disapproval of the presidential proposal, known as "Plan No. 4." Supporting Mr. Roosevelt were 151 Democrats, 1 Farmer-Labor and 1 American Labor member.

The President had proposed not only the transfer of the CAA to the commerce department but the abolition of the air safety board. Legislators remembered the days when the commerce department had supervised the air lanes and the black record of fatal crashes which had been compiled then.

Safety Record Cited.

Representative Everett M. Dirksen [R., Ill.] cited the great record aviation has hung up since the establishment of the CAA—not a single fatality in 408 days of commercial flying.

Referring to the arguments of President Roosevelt's supporters that there was friction between members of the air safety board and that the board should therefore be abolished, Dirksen remarked:

"If this safety record is what happens when there is friction in a government agency, let's have more friction."

Dirksen noted that the President's reorganization plan would place the CAA in the position of being judge, prosecutor and jury, a favorite combination of powers with the New Dealers. He inquired if the authority would be likely to injure itself by making findings that it had been at fault after airplane accidents had occurred.

Democrat Fights Proposal.

Representative Clarence F. Lea [D., Cal.], sponsor of the motion to kill the presidential proposals, told the house:

"The reasons asserted for this change are theoretical, inconsequential and ignore the important problems with which aviation deals."

"The reorganization plan was born in confusion," said Representative Jack Nichols [D., Okla.]. "Aviation will be retarded 15 years if this plan goes into effect. I venture to assert that the President doesn't know what's in the plan."

DRYS' KEYNOTER RIPS NEW DEAL FOR DEFEATISM

The Prohibition party opened its three day national convention in the La Salle hotel yesterday with an appeal for a coalition of Christian and patriotic forces and a blast at the New Deal as the expression of defeatism and moral bankruptcy. The keynote speaker was Claude A. Watson of Los Angeles, Cal.

"A free government," Watson said, "cannot be considered a success unless it continually strengthens the moral energy and the political honesty and independence of its citizens."

To accomplish these aims, the speaker called on church people and independents to unite with the Prohibition party and support the nominees it will choose in tomorrow's sessions. He asserted that neither the Republican nor Democratic parties offered any hope of solving present day problems.

Roger W. Babson, statistician, said in a statement that he is prepared to lead a reorganized prohibition party in the 1940 campaign.

FOUND DEAD IN HOTEL.

The body of Marcus J. Herzberg, 50 years old, an optometrist at 3320 Madison street, was found in a hotel room at 217 North Clark street yesterday. Police said he apparently had taken poison. He left a note telling of ill health. Herzberg lived at 3347 Warren avenue.

April 30, 1940

Mr. D. F. McMahon,
Manager, Retail Advertising
Chicago Tribune,
Chicago, Illinois.

Dear Mr. McMahon:

I thought you would be interested in knowing about the unusual sales success that Sears, Roebuck and Company's Chicago and Gary Department Stores enjoyed as a result of the full page color Advertisement which you published for us in the Sunday, April 28th issue of the Chicago Tribune.

Despite the steady rain which was falling at the time our stores opened, each one of our Shrubbery Lots enjoyed an immediate surge of customers and we had to call out extra people to care for them. As you know the rain fall continued practically all day long and through the evening. In spite of this, our business was of such proportions that sales of Evergreens and Shrubbery far exceeded anything in the history of our Chicago and Gary stores. In fact, the sales far exceeded anything ever achieved by Sears anywhere, any time, any place. And sales have continued exceptional through today also.

We attributed this success, of course, to the pulling power of the Chicago Sunday Tribune.

Sincerely yours,

SEARS, ROEBUCK AND COMPANY

SET forth in the letter above is another advertising case history which proves that you sell more when you address Chicago's largest, most responsive audience.

It offers fresh proof that advertising has greater effect when it runs in the medium from which Chicago is accustomed to buy in greater volume than when addressed thru any other medium in this market.

The reason why the Tribune is able to deliver such results is not hard to find.

Every day of the week, the families of Chicago and suburbs buy and read more than 800,000* copies of the Tribune to get the news of the day, entertainment and buying ideas.

This is the equivalent of a majority of all the families in metropolitan Chicago. It is from 335,000 to 500,000 more copies than are sold in metropolitan Chicago by other Chicago newspapers.

Retailers as a group know the advantages of addressing their buying messages to Tribune readers. They place more advertising in the Tribune than they place in any other Chicago newspaper.

No matter what index of advertising productivity you examine—circulation analyses, reader surveys, linage records or sales results—the facts demonstrate that you sell more when you build your advertising program around the Tribune.

Any way you use it, it's grand bacon—in man-size slices for richer flavor.

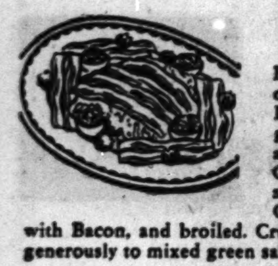
WILSON'S Certified BACON is also sold sliced thin in packages, or by the piece

When Wilson Bacon is labeled "Certified," you know that the choice, uniform "Center-cut" slices are used. If you prefer Wilson's Certified Bacon sliced thin, your dealer has it in pound and half-pound cartons or cellophane wrapped packages. Or you can have the same fine Wilson Bacon in the piece—from modern Wilson Smokehouses.

FOR BREAKFAST

BACON and EGGS taste doubly good when you use thick, flavor-laden slices from Wilson's new Family Style Package and Wilson's Clear Brook Eggs. Or serve Bacon with fried mush, on top of French toast, waffles or pancakes.

FOR LUNCH



Bacon-and-tomato sandwich, or Bacon-and-peanut butter, Bacon and cheese; whole green beans with bacon sauce and strips of crisp Wilson's Certified Bacon; frankfurters, slit, with a strip of Certified Cheese inserted, wrapped with Bacon, and broiled. Crumble crisp Bacon and add generously to mixed green salad.

FOR DINNER

An old-fashioned boiled Bacon dinner, with the vegetables cooked in with the bacon. Serve sauteed liver with plenty of Bacon and a rich brown gravy. Men always like a mixed grill, of lamb chops, kidney, Bacon and tomatoes, all broiled together. Always place Bacon slices on top of meat loaf and poultry. Serve broiled fish with Bacon, to give added zest.

P. S. Use the rind when cooking string beans, beet tops or other greens, Southern style. And in making dried bean or pea soup.

JUDGE TOLD HOW SCALISE TAPPED UNION TREASURY

Orders 3 Seized Aids to Appear for Testimony.

BY WILLIAM FULTON.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Atlantic City, N. J., May 8.—Methods thru which George Scalise, ex-convict white slaver, dipped into the treasury of the Building Service Employés International union when he was its president were revealed in court here today. As a result three top ranking union officials were placed under court order to appear in New York for questioning.

The action in common pleas court came shortly after the three men had been elected to their posts at the union convention at the Ritz Carlton hotel. All Chicagoans, they are William L. McFetridge, who succeeds Scalise as president; Thomas J. Burke, first vice president, and Paul David, secretary treasurer.

Judge Issues Subpenas.

Murray I. Gurfein, head of District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey's rackets bureau in New York, who had the three union officials arrested yesterday, told Common Pleas Judge Palmer Way they were material witnesses in the forthcoming prosecution of Scalise on extortion charges and had refused to submit voluntarily to grand jury questioning.

Judge Way issued subpenas for their appearance in New York on May 27 under the reciprocity statute between New Jersey and New York. Altho Gurfein had hoped to have them available earlier, he agreed to that date when union attorneys said the three officials had to be in Washington on matters before the American Federation of Labor.

A fourth man sought by Dewey's office was still missing today. He is Kenneth Ashley, a bookkeeper in David's office at the international headquarters in Chicago. Ashley read a financial report at the convention yesterday but disappeared shortly before Dewey's men arrived.

Describes Scalise's Methods.

In his argument Gurfein disclosed for the first time since the Dewey prosecution began how Scalise plundered the international treasury under the noses of his associates on the executive board, McFetridge, Burke, and David.

"Scalise got money from the international office at Chicago, sent to him in New York, by rendering monthly statements," related Gurfein. "These were unsupported by vouchers and reflected alleged expenses. Thereupon lump sum checks would be sent to him from New York, and he deposited them in his own bank account.

"Included in these expense items were salaries alleged to have been paid to international representatives. We have testimony under oath in New York they never received this money from Scalise.

"What we want to ask these men is how this procedure was set up and how Scalise could obtain this money from the international union treasury without vouchers."

Other Items Mentioned.

Among the items, Gurfein said, was "organization expense." Grand jury testimony in New York, he asserted, was to the effect money for this purpose was never turned over by Scalise to local union officials. Scalise's travel expense is another phase of his operations which the New York prosecutor said he hoped to go into with the union officials.

Specifically there was one episode in which $7,500 was paid in a number of checks by local 32 B, the New York elevator operators, but was never deposited in the international union's account. The checks were indorsed by David and cashed by Ashley. Gurfein said he wanted to find out whether Scalise got the money.

Meanwhile the convention was winding up its business and adjourned late in the day. Tomorrow the new executive board, presided over by the sandy-haired, soft-voiced, and popular McFetridge, will meet here.

One of the last orders of business was the adoption of a resolution pointing out that Scalise was presumed to be innocent until proved guilty. The delegates voted to extend "the fraternal aid to which all brothers are entitled" to the ex-boss of the nation's 70,000 scrub women, porters, janitors, elevator operators, pin ball setters, billiard hall employés, etc.

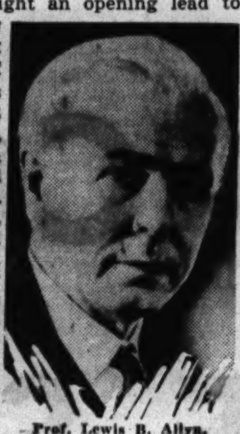
Record Is Unblemished.

McFetridge, who is a native Chicagoan, is said to enjoy an excellent record as a labor leader and has a spotless past. He is a vice president of the Illinois State Federation of Labor, a member of the Illinois Relief commission by appointment of Gov. Henry Horner, and a member of Mayor Edward J. Kelly's planning commission.

As McFetridge recalls it, he entered the Flat Janitors' union 28 years ago, working as a janitor in Chicago's north side apartment buildings of the walkup type. In 1927 he organized the School and Municipal Janitors' union, local 46, which now has a paid up membership of 1,700. In 1928 he became a member of the international executive board. He was slated for president when Jerry Horan died in 1937, but the underworld decreed otherwise and Mr. Scalise catapulted into control of the international and its rich treasury.

In 1937 McFetridge took over the Flat Janitors' union in Chicago, local 1. This local now has a paid up membership of 7,500.

INVESTIGATORS HUNT CLEW IN SLAYING OF PURE FOOD EXPERT



Prof. Lewis B. Allyn.
[A. P. Wirephoto.]

Westfield, Mass., May 8 (AP).—Investigators sought an opening lead tonight in the baffling slaying of Prof. Lewis B. Allyn, 66 years old, famed as a pure food authority. His life, which had been spent mostly among his test tubes and laboratory slides, was snuffed out last night, by bullets fired at close range.

Puzzled as to the motive for the killing, state detectives called in ballistics experts, chemists and pathologists to aid in the hunt for the assailant. Apparently the killer called the quiet gray-haired scientist to the vestibule of his home and then fired at him four times with an automatic.

District Attorney Thomas F. Moriarty reported that an autopsy had eliminated definitely the possibility of suicide. He said that one of four bullets which entered Allyn's body had pierced his heart.

SCAN 4 EXPENSE ITEMS IN BOOKS OF SCALISE UNION

Four expense items in the books of the Building Service Employés International union were being studied yesterday by assistant state's attorneys seeking to learn what George Scalise, the deposed president, did with the money. In the last year, the books recorded, Scalise charged $68,091 for the expense of his New York office, $30,891 for traveling, $49,327 for organization expense and $35,064 for "other expenses."

An audit completed yesterday by John Burns of State's Attorney Courtney's staff, disclosed total expenses of over $250,000 in the year. The books were seized last week after local officials of the union refused to surrender them to agents of District Attorney Dewey of New York.

Scalise is under indictment in New York on charges of extortion.

C.I.O. CHIEF HURLS CHARGES AT DIES GROUP; OUSTED

Witness' War Accusation Roils Committee.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Michael J. Quill.
[A. P. Wirephoto.]

Washington, D. C., May 8.—Police today forcibly removed from a Dies committee hearing room a C. I. O. leader who shouted that the committee was trying to bring on a war with a foreign nation. The witness implied that the nation was Russia.

Michael J. Quill, president of the Transport Workers' union, an affiliate of the Congress of Industrial Organizations, which John L. Lewis controls, was the witness. He was permitted to return to the committee room later, but another witness took his place.

Quill, a little man with a truculent jaw, had appeared before the Dies committee on un-American activities at his own request to reply to testimony given last month by Thomas H. O'Shea, who preceded him as president of the Transport Workers union. O'Shea testified that the union was controled by the communist party.

Dies Warns Quill.

As a witness, Quill was vehement from the start and repeatedly was admonished by Chairman Martin Dies [D., Tex.], who told him to act respectfully toward members of the committee. The climax came when Representative J. Parnell Thomas [R., N. J.] asked Quill, who denied he was a communist, if he would be willing to bear arms for the United States if it became involved in war with the soviet union.

"I'm an American citizen," shouted Quill, "and as such I would be willing to defend its flag."

"Does that mean you would be willing to serve with American troops if they had to go to Russia?" asked Thomas. Quill shouted that he was opposed to going overseas.

Policemen Oust Him.

"That's what this committee is trying to do!" he shouted. "It's trying to bring on a war overseas."

Dies pounded the gavel. Quill refused to be quieted. "You can put me in jail," he cried. "You'll not frighten me!"

At a sign from Dies, two policemen seized Quill's arms and took him from the committee room. Quill will be permitted to testify again only if he pledges himself to refrain from a contemptuous attitude and answer the questions put to him, Dies announced.

Mervyn Rathborne, president of the American Communications association, a C. I. O. affiliate, succeeded Quill in the witness chair. He appeared with Representative Vito Marcantonio [A. L., N. Y.] as his counsel. Marcantonio is chairman of the International Labor Defense, described in testimony before the committee as the legal branch of the communist party.

Rathborne denied the testimony of a number of previous witnesses that the A. C. A., an organization of telegraph, radio, and telephone operators, is controled by communists and that he himself is a communist.

Glues Old Horn on Cow, Making It Prize Winner

Athens, Ga., May 8 (AP).—An old cow horn and a bit of ingenious grafting by young Ralph McCants saved the day for his aged Holstein. Just before the cow was to enter the little international live stock show at the University of Georgia, it knocked off a horn. McCants dug up an old horn, filed it to fit and applied glue and polish. His entry, with the judges failing to spy the "spare" horn, won the division for aged Holsteins.

CHICAGO CASES BRING U. S. GRAND JURY EXTENSION

Drive Shows 18 Months Maximum Needed.

A new weapon in the preparation of federal cases was forged by congress recently in an amendment to the judicial code permitting federal grand juries to sit for a maximum of 18 months instead of the old 3 months' maximum, William J. Campbell, United States attorney, said yesterday. The new legislation is said to have been an outgrowth of the large number of major federal prosecutions in Chicago in the last year.

Building Indictments Hit 83.

Sixty-eight defendants have been named in 27 indictments charging income tax evasion and violation of the lottery laws and the federal communications act. In the investigation of the building industry, conducted by Leo F. Tierney, special assistant attorney general, 83 additional defendants have been named in four other indictments.

This is far greater activity than has occurred in any other federal district in the same period, records show. Experiences of the government prosecutors in preparing these cases led to the recommendation for the longer terms so that grand juries could complete their investigations without interruption.

Flaws Under Old System.

Under the old code's limit of three months' life for a grand jury, Campbell explained, prosecutors often had to hurry presentation of their cases before the jurors. This resulted in flaws and legal defeats in the cases which were not discovered until the cases got to the trial stage—too late to be corrected.

Campbell announced that the series of investigations which he has conducted for the last year will be discontinued temporarily to enable his staff to concentrate on bringing to trial the pending cases, chief of which involve William Johnson, alleged head of the gambling syndicate, and William Skidmore, his reputed political go-between. They are charged with income tax evasion.

Kennebec, S. D., May 8 (AP).—R. W. Miller, 45 years old, shot and killed his wife, Nora, and their daughter, Marion, 11, and then ended his own life, a coroner's jury decided late today after bodies of the three were found in their home here. Miller had been Lyman county farm agent, but A. M. Eberle, extension director at South Dakota State college, said Miller had been discharged effective June 1 for unsatisfactory work.

NEW PLEA FILED FOR RELEASE OF LOEB'S SLAYER

A petition for a writ of habeas corpus to free James E. Day, convict slayer of Richard Loeb, from Pontiac prison, was received yesterday by Chief Justice John Prystalski in Criminal court. A hearing was set for May 24.

A similar petition was denied last February by Circuit Judge Ray Sesler at Pontiac. Attorney Jay J. McCarthy, who filed the plea, contends that Day, who is serving a 1 to 10 year sentence for larceny, should have been released on May 19, 1938, thru credit for good behavior.

Day was deprived of the credit after the slaying of Loeb in 1936 while both were Stateville prisoners. He was acquitted of the slaying on a self-defense plea and later transferred to Pontiac.

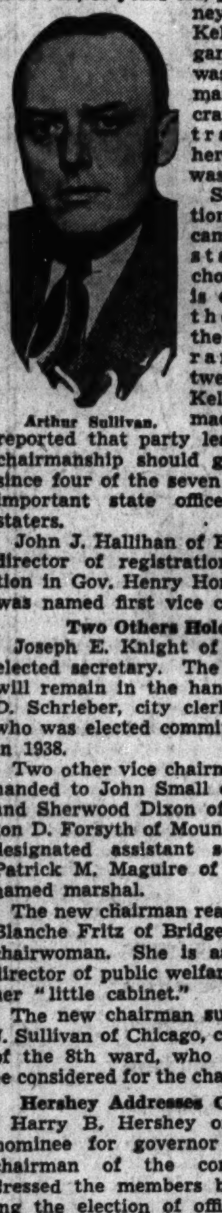
ARTHUR SULLIVAN PICKED TO DIRECT DEMOCRAT DRIVE

Central Committee Head Is Nash-Kelly Aid.

BY PERCY WOOD.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]



Arthur Sullivan.

Springfield, Ill., May 8.—Arthur A. Sullivan, 39 years old, principal attorney for the Nash-Kelly Chicago organization, today was elected chairman of the Democratic state central committee here. The choice was unanimous.

Sullivan's selection to direct the campaign of the state ticket chosen on April 9 is expected further to cement the harmony arrangement between the Nash-Kelly and Horner machines. It was reported that party leaders felt the chairmanship should go to Chicago, since four of the seven nominees for important state offices are downstaters.

John J. Hallihan of East St. Louis, director of registration and education in Gov. Henry Horner's cabinet, was named first vice chairman.

Two Others Holdovers.

Joseph E. Knight of Dow was reelected secretary. The treasurership will remain in the hands of Ludwig D. Schrieber, city clerk of Chicago, who was elected committee treasurer in 1938.

Two other vice chairmanships were handed to John Small of Harrisburg and Sherwood Dixon of Dixon. Milton D. Forsyth of Mount Vernon was designated assistant secretary and Patrick M. Maguire of Chicago was named marshal.

The new chairman reappointed Mrs. Blanche Fritz of Bridgeport as state chairwoman. She is assistant state director of public welfare in the Horner "little cabinet."

The new chairman succeeds James J. Sullivan of Chicago, committeeman of the 8th ward, who asked not to be considered for the chairmanship.

Hershey Addresses Committee.

Harry B. Hershey of Taylorville, nominee for governor and former chairman of the committee, addressed the members briefly following the election of officers and the passage of resolutions "insisting" that President Roosevelt run for a third term, and that P. A. Nash become a candidate for reëlection as national committeeman.

Sullivan was appointed to the state committee about a year ago upon the death of John P. Dougherty, who was elected committeeman from the 10th district in 1938.

Sullivan is married, lives at 642 Buena avenue, Chicago, and has an infant son, Arthur Jr.

CLUB TO RECALL 1860 CONVENTION IN THE WIGWAM

The 1940 club, a Republican organization, will hold a luncheon in the La Salle hotel next Thursday, May 16, as an observance of the opening of the 1860 Republican convention. Abraham Lincoln was nominated at the convention, which was held in a wooden building known as the Wigwam, erected in what is now the 300 block of West Lake street. Attorney Harry S. Ditchburne, president and founder of the club, said that all Illinois delegates to the coming Republican convention in Philadelphia had been invited to attend the luncheon; also nominees for state, national, county and judicial offices.

CIVIL SUIT TO PUT STELLE IN HORNER JOB IS DISMISSED

Judge Radliff Rules He Lacks Jurisdiction.

Bloomington, Ill., May 8 [Special].—Circuit Judge William C. Radliff today dismissed a mandamus suit filed by James McComb, a Chicago taxpayer, which sought to compel Lieut. Gov. John Stelle to assume the duties of the governorship. Judge Radliff held that the McLean County Circuit court lacked jurisdiction.

Judge Radliff allowed the motion of Attorney General John Cassidy to quash the service of summons on Gov. Henry Horner and held that since the governor was a necessary party to the suit, the action must be dismissed in the interests of justice, despite Stelle's willingness to accept the court's jurisdiction.

Upholds Horner's Rights.

The court quoted from paragraph 7 of the civil practice act, which provides that "civil action should be commenced [1] in the county where one or more of the defendants resides, or [2] in the county in which the transaction or some part thereof occurred out of which the cause of action arose."

The court said that while Stelle had filed an answer in which he submitted himself individually and as lieutenant governor to the jurisdiction of the court, by so doing he could not waive the right of Horner to be sued in the county of his residence.

"It is contended by the relator [McComb and his attorney, John D. Vosnos] that the transaction involved in this case occurred and is now occurring thruout the state of Illinois, and that, therefore, the venue may be laid in any county in the state," said the court's opinion. "With this contention I cannot concur. I am of the opinion that there is no transaction involved in this petition such as is contemplated under this section of the civil practice act."

Other Pleadings Immaterial.

Judge Radliff held it was not necessary for him pass upon the pleading of Stelle to withdraw the answer filed in his behalf by Attorney General Cassidy. Neither did he consider it necessary to rule upon the attorney general's motion to strike the answer filed by private counsel in behalf of Stelle.

The suit was filed several weeks ago by Attorney Vosnos, altho Stelle lives in McLeansboro, the county seat of Hamilton county, 200 miles to the south.

In Chicago, Attorney Vosnos, when informed of the ruling, said he will seek immediately to have the "order vacated and the suit transferred to the proper county."

Asked which is the proper county, Cook [Horner's home], Sangamon [state capital], or Hamilton [Stelle's home], Vosnos said he would ask to have it assigned to Hamilton county.

A nose for news—and a stomach for whiskey

THE CITY ROOM knows him no more.

He has passed on to some private and personal Nirvana of his own, where every typewriter has all its keys and a bottle waits at every four-alarm fire.

And the only epitaph he would have wished is this..."He was a good reporter."

His greatest, and most unconscious, characteristic was an insatiable curiosity. He seethed with questions. Nothing was as it seemed, and he picked frantically at surface facts until the shell broke and the muck, or the treasure, underneath was exposed to his greedy mind.

▶ With or without the vine leaves in his hair, his sense of news verged on the occult. He knew bishops and gunmen, politicians and pickpockets, and treated both the great and the sham with the same casual impertinence. His mind was a brimming pool of assorted facts, which he turned on and off like a tap.

Under a glass-hard exterior, he had a heart as soft as mush. He rooted fiercely for the underdog, perhaps because he was so much the underdog himself.

He got paid very little—and when other people talked of the "profession of journalism" his was the loudest laugh.

▶ Sometimes he grew out of it. Sometimes he became a famous columnist, a noted author, or even an Editor. But mostly he grew old at 45. And when he saw a new youngster in the City Room he figured the best thing he could do was to take him across the street and say to him: "Kid, what the hell are you doing around here? Get out of it. It's a lousy business..."

But the youngster never took his advice. Year after year thousands of new youngsters decided there was only one thing in the world they wanted to be—a newspaperman. And the American press grew up.

The old-time reporter has passed from the scene. But he left behind him a legacy of incalculable value to the nation. For he established the tradition of good reporting as the foundation of a free press.

What happened? Who did it? Where? When? Why?

▶ As long as these questions can be asked by good reporters free to write the truest and frankest answers they can find, freedom will have survived.

True, since the days of the old-time reporter, both men and minds have changed. The reporter of today is a better man than his predecessor. He has to be. He is better-educated, better-paid. Neither he nor his editor can get away with the cheap sensationalism of yesterday's Yellow Journalism—and neither of them insists on any special license to get drunk. The reporter's passport today is respected everywhere, and he is expected to live up to the code of his profession.

▶ Too, America's appetite for news has grown sharper. It takes some 25,000 local reporters and 1,888 daily newspapers to gratify it. Altogether, 300,000 men and women are engaged in telling you what is happening in the world, with all the trimmings you're accustomed to—comic strips, women's pages, photographs, society notes, advice to the lovelorn, columnists, cartoons, editorials, crossword puzzles.

But whatever the extra values newspapers and magazines may offer today, one thing remains the same...the heart of a free press is still the good reporter. It is still the man with the nose for news, as peculiar and authentic a possession as the eye of a painter or the ear of a musician.

▶ Perhaps good reporting is the reason, above all other reasons, why the Newsmagazine has come to occupy such a high place in the brain and heart of the nation.

For the Newsmagazine has, as grist for its weekly mill, all that has been found out by all the world's good reporters. Sometimes these good reporters are TIME's own correspondents or legmen. Sometimes they work for one of the great Press Associations. Sometimes they are obscure people whose nuggets have been buried on page 10 of some little-read publication. Sometimes they are men and women in TIME's home-office, who—at one end of a wire—probe a reporter three hundred or three thousand miles away until a few confused facts become a well-ordered, living story.

The world is the good reporter's hunting ground. No man can tell where a nose for news may pick up the scent. Stories may break in the White House, the Holland tunnel, the Balkans, the South Pole, Number 10 Downing Street, or 1913 Central Avenue, South Bend.

▶ No man can anticipate TIME's stories. The Newsmagazine is as unpredictable as the warring, struggling, creating, cock-eyed human race, whose historian it is. Only this is certain...

In today's world the true adventures of your fellow humans, gathered and told by good reporters, make more absorbing reading than anything in the world of make-believe.

STATE CHAIRMEN SEE REPUBLICAN VICTORY IN FALL

Dewey Will Be Nominated, New Yorker Says.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 8.—Republican state chairmen from a score of eastern states, here today to confer with National Chairman John Hamilton, reported a steadily mounting tide of Republican sentiment presaging a Republican sweep of the east in November.

Edwin F. Jaeckle.

"We are in better shape in New York than we have been in 20 years," asserted Edwin F. Jaeckle, chairman of the New York state committee.

"Republican registration in Pennsylvania will top the Democratic registration by more than a million," said State Chairman James F. Torrance of Pennsylvania.

Forecasts Dewey Victory.

Jaeckle, who is prominent in the leadership of the movement for the nomination of Thomas E. Dewey, the New York district attorney, said that in his opinion there is no longer any doubt of the choice of Dewey for the Republican standard bearer, tho he was unwilling to hazard a prediction of the ballot on which he will win. He minimized the number of New York delegates whom National Committeeman Kenneth Simpson will be able to divert from support of Dewey.

As a result of the national committeeman's opposition to Dewey for the Republican nomination, the Dewey group, led by Jaeckle, have set out to defeat Simpson for reëlection to the national committee. Jaeckle is to call a meeting of the New York delegates before the national convention meets to choose a successor to Simpson, who has accepted the challenge and is battling to defeat Dewey in this move.

Others Voice Prediction.

A good many of the state chairmen expressed the opinion that "it looks like Dewey for the nomination" and that it will be difficult for his rivals in the "stop Dewey" movement to defeat him.

The state chairmen were in Washington to discuss with Mr. Hamilton "technical subjects relating to party organization, publicity, women's activities, and plans for speaking campaigns.

Senators Clyde Herring [D., Ia.] and Guy M. Gillette [D., Ia.] and Representatives Vincent F. Harrington [D., Ia.] and William S. Jacobsen [D., Ia.] had an audience with the President this morning at which they presented a telegram signed by 70 Democratic leaders of Iowa proposing a compromise on indorsement of a presidential candidate. The plan suggested was that the Iowa state Democratic convention on May 11 indorse the Roosevelt administration and instruct the Iowa delegation to the Democratic national convention to vote for Secretary of Agriculture Henry Wallace for the nomination for President.

MOTHER'S SUIT ACCUSES SON OF IMPRISONING HER

Mrs. Anna L. Haase, 72 years old, 4431 North Campbell avenue, filed suit in Circuit court yesterday seeking $150,000 damages from four persons who, she alleged, conspired to place her in false imprisonment.

Defendants are Mrs. Haase's stepson, Fred A. Haase, secretary to Postmaster Ernest J. Kruetgen; Mrs. Fred Haase, Dr. Francis M. Darling of Chicago, and Dr. Sidney Wilgus Sr., operator of a Rockford sanitarium.

The plaintiff, in a bill filed by Attorney Maurice Lavin, said she had objected to her stepson's taking possession of bonds which she owned, valued at $6,800, and that he gave her an anesthetic and took her to the Wilgus sanitarium. She also alleged that she was declared insane in the county court at Rockford last Sept. 22, and found sane in the same court three weeks later.

Dr. R. M. Davison Named on Board of Sanitarium

Mayor Kelly appointed Dr. Richard M. Davison yesterday to the board of trustees of the Municipal Tuberculosis sanitarium. Dr. Davison, a member of the sanitarium's staff and former president of the Chicago Tuberculosis society, will fill the unexpired term of the late Dr. Allen J. Hruby.

SUMNERS RETRACTS CRITICAL REMARKS ON HATCH PETITION

Washington, D. C., May 8 (AP).—Representative Hatton Sumners [D., Tex.] asked and won permission of the house today to withdraw from the permanent records of congress statements he made on the floor criticizing members who signed a petition to take the Hatch state politics bill away from the house judiciary committee.

Sumners, chairman of the committee, said yesterday that "you ought to be ashamed of yourselves, every man that wrote his name on that mess of stuff."

The chairman also gained permission to withdraw a statement that he would "defend for nothing" anyone of "his people" who shot a federal official bent on enforcing the bill's provisions forbidding state employés paid with federal funds to engage in politics.

"That's a very horrible statement," Sumners said smilingly today. "I'd have to charge a nominal fee."

A SWAIN LOSES $500; JAILS HIS NELL AND LEAVES

The matrimonial agency romance of Clyde Park, who came here from his Ohio farm to claim a city bride, was all over yesterday. Judge John V. McCormick of Felony court sentenced Park's bride-to-have-been, Mrs. Nellie Galub, 31 years old, 803 Wilson avenue, to three months in jail on a confidence game charge. Park, who is 52, came here Monday for the wedding, but when Mrs. Galub got him to give her $200 and then disappeared, he had her locked up. Altogether he gave her $500, he told police.

CHARGE 4 MEN WITH VIOLATING OBSCENITY LAW

Charges of selling obscene literature were filed yesterday against four men arrested last Friday by Sergt. Frank O'Sullivan and a squad from Commissioner Allman's office. The men are Arthur E. Reynolds, 2037 Cuyler avenue; Fred Garfield, 1038 Washington boulevard; William Reed, 2520 Leland avenue; and Samuel Dunn, owner of a tavern at 3022 Madison street. O'Sullivan said that 6,000 books and 15 reels of objectionable motion pictures were seized. The federal grand jury is inquiring into the possibility that sales have been made thru the mails in violation of the postal laws.

BEAT OFF INDIANA TOWNSENDITES IN G. O. P. PRIMARIES

Congressmen Under Fire Win Decisively.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 8 (AP).—Two Republican congressmen rode over opposition of the Townsend old age pension forces to win renomination in Indiana's primary election yesterday, incomplete returns showed today.

Charles A. Halleck [top] and Dr. George W. Gillie.

Charles A. Halleck, youthful representative from the 2d district, and Dr. George W. Gillie, tall congressman from the 4th district, defeated Townsend backed opponents decisively to clinch Republican renomination.

The congressional contests, outside of purely local races, held the chief interest in the primary voting. Major party nominees for United States senator, governor, and other state offices will be picked in state conventions, delegates to which were selected in the primary.

Winners by Districts.

Following are the returns in the congressional races by districts:

FIRST—Representative William T. Schulte apparently defeated Fred A. Egan by a narrow margin for Democratic nomination; Elliott Belshaw, Munster lawyer, well ahead for Republican nomination.

SECOND—James O. Cox, Valparaiso farm leader, apparent Democratic nominee; Representative Charles A. Halleck a 2 to 1 victor over Frederick Landis Jr., Townsend supported, for Republican nomination.

THIRD—George Sands, South Bend lawyer, unopposed for Democratic nomination; Representative Robert A. Grant an easy winner for Republican nomination.

FOURTH—Frank Corbett, Fort Wayne lawyer, Democratic nominee; Representative George W. Gillie, Republican, by 12 to 1 over Townsend candidate, Frederick W. Greene, Fort Wayne lawyer.

FIFTH—George Wolf, Peru auctioneer, Democrat; Representative Forest A. Harness, Republican [unopposed].

Close Race in Sixth.

SIXTH—Lenhardt Bauer, young Terre Haute lawyer, or Alanson L. Albright, Cayuga veterinarian, Democrat; Representative Noble J. Johnson, Republican [unopposed].

SEVENTH—Charles H. Bedwell, state senator, Democrat; Representative Gerald W. Landis, Republican [unopposed].

EIGHTH—Representative John W. Boehne, Democrat; Charles F. Werner, Evansville lawyer, Republican.

NINTH—Representative Eugene B. Crowe, Democrat [unopposed]; Grant Rogers, Nashville, or Earl Wilson, Huron, Republican.

TENTH—Don C. Ward, former teacher, Democrat; Representative Raymond S. Springer, Republican [unopposed].

ELEVENTH—Representative William H. Larrabee, Democrat [unopposed]; Maurice G. Robinson, Anderson, former Wabash college athlete, Republican.

TWELFTH—Representative Louis Ludlow, Democrat; Judson L. Starke and James A. Collins, both Indianapolis lawyers, fighting it out for Republican nomination.

945,836 Civil Employes on U. S. March Pay Roll

Washington, D. C., May 8 (AP).—The civil service commission reported today that the federal pay roll for March carried 945,836 civil employés, the second largest monthly total reported since March, 1939. March was topped during the last 12 months only by December when the commission reported 986,742 employés on the roll.

3D TERMERS WIN IN CALIFORNIA; FOES ARE DEFIANT

Turn Down Pleas for Harmony.

San Francisco, Cal., May 8 (AP).—The large margin of victory for Roosevelt third term forces in the California presidential primary failed today to silence opposition factions among the state's Democrats.

Nearly complete unofficial returns showed that the Roosevelt pledged so-called harmony slate was maintaining a ratio of almost 3 to 1 over the combined totals of the other three Democratic tickets.

Gov. Culbert L. Olson, head of the Roosevelt ticket, had predicted only a 2 to 1 majority over the other delegations combined.

In 12,961 out of the 13,511 precincts the Roosevelt delegation received 711,969 votes; the slate pledged to Vice President John N. Garner, 110,570; the uninstructed ham and eggs slate, 87,330, and the unpledged ticket, headed by Lieut. Gov. Ellis Patterson, 47,663.

Refuse Plea for Harmony.

It appeared that the California delegation to the Democratic convention would start out with 43 votes for Roosevelt and 1 for Garner.

On the basis of the results Gov. Olson called on anti-New Deal minorities to be silent, but Patterson, as well as Labor's Non-Partisan league, which supported him, spoke critically of the outcome. Patterson bolted the Roosevelt slate to form a separate, unpledged progressive-liberal slate. He said he would continue to advocate an antiwar plank and a more clear-cut New Deal program in the Democratic platform.

Labor's Nonpartisan league, asserted "Liberals who voted for Roosevelt did so on the basis of his past New Deal record, and without realization of his recent prowar and antilabor trend." It asserted the Garner vote represented nowhere near the known strength of the Democratic right wing.

Recall Movement to Continue.

A group advocating the recall of Gov. Olson announced it would proceed despite overtures that had been made for abandonment of the movement.

Republicans had no contest in yesterday's primary, but they rolled up 526,814 votes in 12,866 precincts for their unopposed, unpledged delegation. Like the Democratic delegation, it has 44 convention votes.

Mail Fraud Case Against Grave Salesmen Completed

The government rested its case yesterday against 10 defendants on trial before a jury in federal District court on charges of using the mails to defraud in the sale of cemetery lots. Judge John P. Barnes overruled defense motions for a directed verdict.

CHARGE MISUSE OF PATRONAGE IN OHIO PRIMARIES

Washington, D. C., May 8 (AP).—Chairman Guy M. Gillette [D., Ia.] today reported that the senate campaign investigating committee had received complaints of improper use of state patronage and unreasonable expenditures in connection with Ohio's Democratic and Republican senatorial primaries.

Gillette said the committee is considering the complaints, but had not decided whether to send agents to Ohio.

The committee chairman said his group also had received numerous complaints regarding Florida's Democratic senatorial primary yesterday, but had found them unworthy of investigation. He said investigators have gone to New Jersey to study charges that the WPA there had been engaged in political activity.

Sons Who Struck Mother Jailed to Work Out Fines

Charges of a mother 72 years old sent her two sons to the Bridewell yesterday to serve out $50 fines. The mother is Mrs. Joseph Zempick of 2006 South Leavitt street. She told Judge Edward P. Luczak in Fillmore street police court that her sons, Irving, 37, and Harry, 30, had struck her and shaken a ladder on which she was standing to paint her bedroom. The judge found them guilty of disorderly conduct.

SEEK MICHIGAN SWITCH TO DEWEY AFTER 1ST BALLOT

Lansing, Mich., May 8 [Special].—Friends of Thomas E. Dewey's presidential candidacy, including several prominent Republican figures, demanded at a rally here today that Michigan's Republican convention delegation be prepared to support Dewey after the first ballot unless Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg reveals great strength on the initial poll.

Melville B. McPherson of Lowell, state tax commission chairman and a power in Michigan rural districts, told 200 persons at the rally that Dewey supporters won't be satisfied with making their man strictly a "second choice" to Vandenberg.

"We want delegates who are definitely favorable to Dewey and who won't make deals to support Senator Taft or other candidates if it is obvious that Vandenberg can't make the grade."

MINIMUM COAL PRICES.

The latest manifestation of the New Deal's plan to regulate, manage, and eventually own and operate all industry is the recent announcement of prices fixed for bituminous coal thruout the country. Three attempts to regulate the coal industry have been made in recent years. The first failed with the invalidation of the National Recovery act. Then John L. Lewis of the C. I. O. put on the pressure and the bituminous coal act of 1937 was passed, which created the National Bituminous Coal commission. That body drew up a schedule of prices, but the universal protests at the disruption of markets and the Hitlerian attempt to take away one operator's business and give it to another caused the withdrawal of the price schedule.

The commission was abolished by the President under his reorganization plan and its duties were transferred to the interior department. Now, after two years of public hearings and investigations, the director of the bituminous coal division of the interior department has made a tentative report to establish minimum prices and marketing rules. His orders are subject to the approval of the secretary, but will have full legal effect unless altered by that official.

Already protests are being voiced by the hundreds and no doubt their volume will soon reach a greater crescendo than did that resulting from the action of the coal commission.

The power to fix minimum prices, like the authority granted the Interstate Commerce commission to fix minimum rates, tends to eliminate competition and create monopoly and higher costs to the public. Under the new schedule of prices Chicago's annual coal bill will be increased several million dollars. Coal merchants have estimated the average increase to be about 30 cents a ton over present prices. Charges of discrimination and destruction of their markets are being raised by various producing sections affected by the order. One of the loudest complaints is that voiced by J. D. A. Morrow of the Pittsburgh Coal company, who characterizes the action as a bold attempt to destroy the American political and economic system of the coal industry, and he predicts that "If this revolution establishes its order, then we will have this great basic industry run, not by men who invest their savings, their energy, but by impersonal authority in Washington—arbitrary, dictatorial, and absolute."

Aside from the basic fallacies of a managed economy in an American democracy, some of the recommendations of the director are admittedly absurd. The state of Illinois and the federal government have spent over 100 million dollars in building and improving the Illinois waterway. Coal is a commodity that can be transported more cheaply by water than by any other facility. The director has fixed prices from those Illinois mines that have the facility for shipping by barge to Chicago at a mine price sufficiently higher than prices from other mines, which must rely upon railroad transportation, to obliterate practically all of the savings to the consumer afforded by the cheaper means of transportation. It is impossible to understand the reasoning behind such an asinine proposal.

The crowning inconsistency is the fact that, within a few days after the announcement by one branch of the government of the prices it has arbitrarily fixed for bituminous coal, the Supreme court upheld the conviction of twelve corporations and five individuals for conspiracy to fix the price of gasoline. The corporate defendants were fined five thousand dollars each and the individual officials involved were fined one thousand dollars each. Prosperity can never return so long as such inconsistencies are permitted to alarm and bewilder leaders of industry and business.

A BILL FOR FAIR PLAY.

The judiciary committee of the senate has voted unanimous approval of the Logan-Walter bill, which already has passed the house. This is the bill to prevent the administrative agencies of the federal government from ruining citizens by means of prejudiced and arbitrary decisions. The New Deal doctrinaires are fighting the measure. They have sought to block action at this session of congress by insisting that consideration be deferred until after a special committee appointed by former Attorney General Cummings has submitted its report and recommendations. This the committee refused to do and the members gave every indication that they would promptly place the bill before the senate for a vote.

No measure before this congress is of greater importance. The trend in Washington is toward more and more stringent regulation of business relations of all sorts; our government is falling into the pattern set by totalitarian régimes in Europe. The burocrats now stand at the shoulder of every citizen in almost every economic relation telling him what he must do and what he may not do. An administration which came to power to no small extent because of a popular revulsion against the tyrannies of prohibition has now imposed a score of arbitrary controls upon the everyday affairs of citizens of this country.

Formerly the courts were regarded as the American's most reliable defense against a prejudiced exercise of power by his government. Under the New Deal this protection has been largely withdrawn. The right of appeal to the courts has been narrowed and the sphere of arbitrary action by the burocrats has been expanded. The Logan-Walter bill does not abolish any of the regulatory agencies, but requires merely that they follow rules of fair play. It reaffirms the right of the citizen to appeal for relief to the courts when he feels himself the victim of an unjust administrative finding.

The great organic difference between a totalitarian country and a free one is that in the free country the citizen may appeal to the courts against his government. Men became free when the coercive power of government was subjected to legal restraints. The totalitarian theory is that government is always right, no matter what it does, and its acts, therefore, may never be questioned in the courts.

The Logan-Walter bill is intended to preserve American liberties by keeping the courtroom doors open to any citizen who believes he has been the victim of an arbitrary and prejudiced agency of government. The alternative to the Logan-Walter bill is tyranny.

THE SCENE IN THE HOUSE OF COMMONS.

The house of commons in its long history has seen many strange scenes thru which the history of the English and the British people has flowed. Kings' ministers have been denounced for turpitude and stupidity in many crises of the island kingdom and the great empire.

Mr. Chamberlain this week stands in the position Lord North occupied when he heard the angry critics of the government in the growing home rebellion against George III. declare that the American colonies had been forever lost; that they had been lost because of the crimes of government against the liberties of Englishmen, and that it was time for the house to declare it to be its sense that the power of the crown should be diminished.

The prophecy that the colonies were lost was soon fulfilled and Great Britain, surrounded by enemies, seemed to be receding before forces it could not resist. It bounded back to meet the greater menace of Napoleon and finally deposited that conqueror in St. Helena.

The same hall of parliament saw Charles I. resisted at the door and it saw him leave the capital, not to return until he was a prisoner. It saw his son gaily enjoying, incognito, the declamations from the benches against his reign.

Mr. Chamberlain was undergoing a painful experience, but his predicament was not unique in the history of British wars. There are many modern instances which would cause the enemies of Great Britain to reflect that their success is not mirrored in the scenes to which the British ministers were subjected because of the failure of the expedition to Norway.

The Boer war had its military catastrophes, the more humiliating to the responsible government because of the disparity between the belligerents. Before that, in the Sudan, the policies of the government had brought tears of rage to the eyes of men criticizing the feebleness of British procedure. The world war opened with retreat and the successive years, down almost to the finish, brought shock after shock to British arms, and along with them changes of government.

The German who reads the accounts of what took place in the house of commons may have been so disciplined in another form of government as to be amazed that his enemy should show so much the shock of failure and so frankly denounce responsible ministers, but if he reads the history of Europe he will not conclude that an already shattered opponent is about to fall to its knees. He will know that the British will pay heavy prices for the methods they use and he may be satisfied to reflect that no such methods will be found in his own national efforts, but the historic parallels will not comfort him.

PALS.

There never was any secret about the characters of George Scalise and Willie Bioff. Their record as pimps was fully established in court records. Nevertheless, they have been accepted as legitimate labor leaders both by the department of labor and the National Labor Relations board.

Bioff has been charged with selling out his union members in Hollywood in return for a very handsome loan from a movie producer. Scalise had unlimited access to union funds contributed by the tens of thousands of scrubwomen and window-washers whose interests he was supposed to advance. In spite of their past records as panders and in spite of circumstances strongly suggesting that as union bosses they were guilty of the grossest betrayals of trust, these two men have managed to get along nicely both with Mme. Perkins of the department of labor and with the labor board.

If there is record of a single instance in which either of these agencies under the New Deal has moved to drive a single gangster or racketeer from the labor movement, the fact has not come to our attention. Bioff, Scalise, and no doubt others who are little better have been allowed to go their way unhampered and unhindered. Betrayers of women, betrayers of labor, avaricious, and ruthless, they have been accepted by the New Deal as if they were honest spokesmen for the men and women they had herded into their unions.

There is in all this a revelation of the New Deal's indifference to moral standards, which finds reinforcement in the recent official recognition given to strip-teasing as an occupation. The New Deal is avid for power and doesn't care where or how it gets it. The men who run the New Deal political machine have no sense of smell.

Editorial of the Day

TAX ON EDUCATION.

[Kansas City Times.]

Every parent with a child over 18 in school, and, therefore, more of a "dependent" than ever, has wondered why the internal revenue laws don't permit the listing of that child as a dependent and consequently exempt for income tax purposes.

People in the internal revenue collector's office may explain they have wondered, too, and have favored a change in the law. But it has stood unchanged, and at a time when parents have been encouraged to keep their children in school as long as possible and thus keep them out of competition with older workers for jobs. Why should a parent be taxed for following such excellent advice?

A sympathetic view is taken by Representative Matthew J. Merritt of New York. He is the author of the latest bill in congress to remove the discriminatory provision from the internal revenue laws. Parents of college students over the land, many thousands of them, will be pulling for the success of the Merritt bill.

ITEMS FOR JONAH DAY.

There is nothing like a baby farm exposé to take one's mind off the war in Europe. Especially when the place's catalog lists a "repossessed" baby.

We once discovered a baby farm by accident. We were on a canoe trip somewhere in the American wilderness, and stopped at a river bank hamlet to buy lunch. There was no café in the village, but a native directed us to a house where an old lady could be persuaded to toss up some eggs and bacon. We were surprised to find the place garnished with cradles, trundle beds, and religious pictures, but it was clean and pleasant; and the baby farmeress was a good cook. A few specimens of her crop were playing in the yard and they seemed to be well fed. We have never heard any scandal about this rural institution, which was almost under the shadow of a large church. It was not a big league baby farm, but we think of it fondly, and call it our own.

A certain railroad with a large suburban business is probably unaware that some of its commuters are telling an extraordinary story, to wit:

One of its trains suddenly came to a mysterious stop between stations. The engineer jumped out of his cab and ran back along the track, scanning the cinders. He had ejected a large quid of tobacco, and with it, to his dismay, his expensive set of false teeth.

This is probably a folk tale of Toonerville, but anyway it's going around.

If any one is curious about the origin of the Illinois state song, "Prairies gently rolling," etc., it may be found in "Baby Mine," a national hit of 1901 and later years. It was first popularized by singers in minstrel shows.

THE UNHAPPY NEUTRAL.

"Old Winter's gone, the snarling, windy churl,
And Spring is here," I chortled merrily.
Old Winter heard and, reaching 'round the girl,
Proceeded then and there to chastise me.
And as I lay, a broken thing, accurst,
I heard a voice commanding "Open wide."
This I obeyed, and bade him do his worst.
He did. He gave me sulfanilamide.

Then I became a neutral town war wrecked
'Twixt the invading and the rescuing hordes,
With tottering towers when, the battle checked,
The flames had ceased to lick my bricks and boards.
The moral that this dreary tale dispenses:
Be still, and build up adequate defenses.

Please, please, please don't ever again refer to the Viking longship in Lincoln park as a galley [May 2]. The galley was a Mediterranean type, suited for swift passages in the relatively calm waters of that sea. But as a sea boat it was worthless in the boisterous Atlantic. In contrast, the Norse longship had magnificent seakeeping qualities. Oars don't make a galley.

George F. Dale
[Nautical Research and Model society].

[The Phoenicians sailed from Tyre to Cornwall in their Mediterranean galleys. Furthermore, see Webster, "galley," 3: "In England sailors apply the name to any long open boat using both oars and sails." And also, how do you know it's a "longship"? Maybe it's a "knörr." Add that one to your boat types.]

Prophecy of Hitler, Stalin, Mussolini?

In Revelation xvi., 13, 14, of the Good Book we read: "And I saw three unclean spirits like frogs come out of the mouth of the dragon, and out of the mouth of the beast, and out of the mouth of the false prophet.

"For they are the spirits of devils, working miracles, which go forth unto the kings of the earth and of the whole world, to gather them to the battle of that great day of God Almighty." Vera.

Philosophers an' pedagogs,
A' steeped in ancient lore,
Can ye nae spare a wee bit stamp
For yin wha's still on earth,
Engrave the mug o' living bard,
An' recognise his worth?
There's auld Carl Sandburg, whom ye ken,
He weel micht fill the bill—
But, och, I wadna favor him,
Because his rimes are nil.
MacLeish—he doesna need the fame—
He's got a guid job noo;
An' Eddie Guest ye darena take,
For he is too high broo.
I'll nominate yin for ye, Jim,
A bard o' muckle range;
An' if his politics ye scorn,
He'll very gladly change.
He can blaw hot; he can blaw cauld;
He has nae pride o' birth—

Great heavens! Recall all May 2 issues of THE TRIBUNE!!! You informed all and sundry that an alleged German, one Tyrker, was a member of Leif Eriksen's crew which landed in America 500 years before Columbus. Do you realize what will happen when this information falls into the hands of Adolf Hitler? That is all he will need to know. Man the ramparts! Call out the marines! Do I hear the drone of fighting planes? "Unser Amerika!" Rose Alpert.

The sun dial on the campus of the University of Illinois has three inscriptions:

"Amidst ye flowres I tell ye howres."
"Take tent o' time ere time be tent."
"Make the passing shadow serve thy will."

When thinking of Mr. Chamberlain and his cares of state, we recall the refrain of a song in a musical show of 10 years back: "Hey, young fellah! Put up your old umbrella!"

A PUS POCKET IN THE CHEST.

ALTHO the word "empyema" signifies a collection of pus within any cavity of the body, it is applied usually to an abscess in the chest or—more strictly speaking—the pleura. To understand this region we may picture two elastic sacks, one inside the other with no air between. This double walled affair serves as an inclosure for the lungs. The layers are close together when the lungs are filled, but they become separated as we exhale. There is but little fluid between the inner and outer membranes—just enough to permit the surfaces to glide smoothly—one upon another.

But trouble may occur in this area. The disease we call pleurisy is "the stitch in the side" which is felt occasionally and which tells the victim not to breathe more deeply than he can possibly help because of the ensuing distress. Then it is that nature attempts to limit the inflammation by pouring out fluid to keep the tissues apart.

Now, pus can form in this vicinity because bacteria may set up colonies and the most common culprit is the organism known as the pneumococcus. While other varieties may be responsible—streptococci or staphylococci—the former predominates. This is the reason why—particularly in children with pneumonia—germs may occasion enough irritation to form a lake of "corruption." Every now and then a tot well on the road to recovery, having surmounted a sharp bout with influenza or pneumonia, will suddenly develop a temperature of 104 degrees Fahrenheit or even higher—with flushed cheeks and the appearance of a severe illness.

Of course, all these signs may be due to the spread of the original disease, but in every instance the physician will immediately suspect empyema. As a rule, the breathing is rapid and labored. An X-ray film will disclose the location and extent of the abscess.

While it is true that small foci of infection may be absorbed, it is never safe to assume that this will occur. The procedure of choice is to empty the pocket immediately thru an opening provided by the removal of a portion of a rib. If this is carried out promptly, recovery—as a rule—is rapid, with no after effects. On the other hand, if the condition is unrecognized and nothing is done, the affected area may increase in size and the purulent matter may burrow into the lungs—perhaps discharging thru a bronchial tube. When this happens the patient may cough up suddenly a great quantity of foul material—a teacupful or more.

The danger from this type of infection lies in permitting it to persist—to become chronic. This need not ensue if complete evacuation is possible and if the regimen is carried out early. On the other hand, in some hospitals as many as 20 per cent of all patients suffering from this disorder will be ill for three months or more.

To forestall a prolonged and wasting siege certain precautions should be observed. First, a sufficiently generous exit opening must be provided. This may be followed by irrigating the cavity with Dakin's solution, altho several days should be allowed to give the fluid an opportunity to take its departure. Some help is offered by an apparatus which permits the patient to blow liquid from one bottle into another. This creates just enough pressure to expand the lungs and hence force out the exudate.

When the causative organism is the streptococcus, we are dealing with a difficult problem, but one which will be aided greatly thru the administration of sulfanilamide. In fact, the employment of sulfapyridine bids fair to reduce the number of pleural empyemas to a relatively low level.

Uneventful recoveries without complications from any lung infection depend in large degree upon good nursing. If elimination is adequate, if strength can be maintained, if the patient is not obliged to wait on himself, and thus extend the disease thru too much activity, we should encounter these episodes but rarely. Nevertheless, we should be on the alert to spot the pale, fretful child with a fever, who is likely to perspire easily and who is losing weight steadily. If there is a history of some bronchial or lung involvement, an X-ray film may point to one of these localized "ponds" that must be drained away.

PEELING FINGERS.

L. D. writes: Can you tell me what causes the skin to peel off the tips of the fingers, leaving them tender?

REPLY.

[1] Eczema, [2] psoriasis, or [3] ringworm.

For the first, some food sensitivity may be responsible. The second may respond to a fat free diet; and the third to soaking the fingers in a solution of sodium hyposulfite [the "hypo" used by photographers]—a tablespoonful to a pint of water. A skilled dermatologist can aid you.

FLUSHED NECK.

Mrs. B. writes: Whenever I am under tension my neck becomes bright red. What causes this? I am not a nervous person.

REPLY.

This is a vasomotor reaction similar to blushing. Altho you may be outwardly calm, the blood vessels in your skin know better. They dilate to relieve internal congestion.

MR. LINCOLN'S VOICE.

Springfield, Ill., May 3.—I noted a clipping from your paper in which a writer desired to know about the voice of Abraham Lincoln. As I [born in 1854] am the only living person ever taken in a picture with Mr. Lincoln I have been asked if I could furnish the information. While I have four remembrances of having seen Mr. Lincoln, I never heard him make a speech. Col. Clark E. Carr of Galesburg, who had sat on the platform at Gettysburg when Lincoln made his immortal address, undertook at a meeting here in Springfield years later to recite it in the same tones Lincoln had used. As Col. Carr was said to be quite a remarkable mimic I have always carried in memory that imitation as the tone in which it was originally given.

I have always heard those who heard Mr. Lincoln's voice give the same description of it. I did hear a speech by Stephen A. Douglas in 1860 and remember deep, deliberate delivery altho not the subject matter as I was but a boy. On the other hand Mr. Lincoln's voice was high pitched, but very clear and distinct. A remarkable carrying voice that would reach a large audience.

A HINT TO THE KEYNOTERS.

Whiting, Ind., May 3.—As the time is approaching for the Republican convention would it not be well for the keynoter [whom I admire] or the platform framers to give some thought to the matter of severing diplomatic relations with the double-crossing thugs who call themselves the soviet government, located in Russia?

I am one of those free lance voters who voted for Teddy, Taft, Wilson, and Franklin D. I am leaning toward the Republicans this time, and in discussing politics with friends I find that this communistic bunch should be taken in hand. Severing relations with them would be a step in the right direction.

CORRECTED ANSWER.

Chicago, May 3. [Legal Friend of the People].—Will you please advise me on the following thru your corner in the DAILY TRIBUNE: Where there is no will and all members of a family are willling that the eldest take control of all interests of the deceased [stocks and postal savings account] [1] is it necessary for this to go thru probate? What does the new probate law say regarding this matter?

2. What is a reasonable fee for an attorney to file if attorney is necessary in a case of this kind?

A. B. C.

1. Not on the bare facts stated. The necessity would depend on the nature of the assets, whether they can be reduced to possession without court proceedings, etc.

2. The new probate act allows a "reasonable" fee to the administrator. In our opinion the attorney's fee should come out of this, but opinions differ on this point. In general, his fee should depend on the extent and quality of his services, subject to the limit above suggested.

TODAY IN HISTORY

May 9, 1911

The Supreme court ordered two of the most powerful trusts in the country, Standard Oil and the American Tobacco company, dissolved on the grounds that they were illegal combinations. The court held that anti-trust legislation must be interpreted according to a "standard of reason," and that a combination was not unlawful unless it actually caused a restraint of trade among the states or with a foreign nation.

A SHOPPER COMPLAINS.

Chicago, May 3.—Is there any redress for a shopper who wants to purchase advertised merchandise plentifully displayed in the window, when the merchant states he is all out of it?

And while I'm registering complaints I shall add—Why don't "they" pass a requirement that butcher shops have the grinding machine in view of purchasers so that the buyer can see for herself that the meat she saw weighed is the same meat ground?

Then, too, why are not the live poultry markets obliged to mark each coop with the prices of the fowls therein? It's tough to pay 22 cents a pound for a chicken and get something cheaper and inferior because one is ignorant of how to judge a tender fowl before it is dressed or otherwise. I had to boil a chicken six hours in order to make it edible and yet paid a very good price for it. Ladies, let's demand protection! Get full value for our dollars!

IRATE HOUSEWIFE.

IF HITLER GOT CANADA.

Golden, Ill., May 5.—The best article I have read upon the subject of the war is that by K. E. Burton in last Sunday's TRIBUNE. Why dodge the facts? Canada, in the possession of a dictator nation, would necessitate profound changes in our democratic form of government. It would mean for us, among other disagreeable items, compulsory military service. And, also, it would mean that we would have to build along our northern frontier fortifications costing in the neighborhood of 40 billion dollars.

FRANK GROVES.

WOULD WELCOME SOME GOATS.

Chicago, May 4.—Apropos of your recent article "Let Uncle Sam get Your Goat! He will pay you well for it."

I will be pleased to have him plant a colony of goats on ten acres of Florida land that I have owned twenty years or more.

They may make the land salable—at least pay taxes, grazing on Palm brush and wandering to the nearby canal for water. It may save Florida!

FREE SPEECH FOR THE FAVORED.

Lima, Ohio, May 4.—I would like to ask President Roosevelt how he reconciles his avowed belief in free speech and his ruthless infliction of the gag-rule on congress? Of course, what Mr. Roosevelt really means is, that he believes in free speech for himself and those who agree with him and the muzzling of the mouths of those who oppose him. This is a fine example of true democracy which he openly and fervently espouses.

WOMEN AND THE SUFFRAGE.

Oak Park, Ill., May 7.—Here's hail to Miss Lutie E. Stearns, the Wisconsin lady who had the courage to come out openly and say that women in politics have failed. In agreeing with her I will note that while I was canvassing a precinct in the late primary election I was greatly amused when woman after woman told me they would vote at the primary "a split ticket" of Democrats and Republicans. It was useless to try to explain to them that one could "split" a ticket only at the regular election in November. And out of some 150 women voters whom I interviewed only two said they would not vote the way their husbands will. I thought what is the use of letting women vote when they vote as their husbands do? Why go to the expense of printing so many more ballots each election, keeping up expense for registration records, and giving election judges and clerks so much more work in counting ballots and votes?

WHERE CAN THE BOYS CAMP?

Chicago, May 7.—Why isn't a place provided in our forest preserves for our youth who like camping? I am inquiring for a group of high school boys who started out Monday morning for a week's bicycle trek and camping trip. Just as soon as they pitched their tent they were called campers and forced to move. They finally took refuge in a pavilion and had to ride home from Barrington during the sleet storm on Wednesday in spite of the fact they were fully equipped for correct camping. Is there a place northwest of Chicago where these nine boys can camp, with or without a permit, and if a permit is necessary where can they get one? Please let us know.

WHEN HITLER STRIKES.

Chicago, May 5.—Nobody expects Hitler to invade our shores with a big battle fleet and transports. That is not the way he operates. But what would we do when the trouble comes if at that moment we found him firmly planted in Brazil?

With Britain and France impotent and with Hitler in South America what might Japan attempt to do at that favorable moment? Possibly, also Mussolini!

LIKES AN EDITORIAL.

Mendon, Mich., May 4.—Your editorial under the heading, "The World of Today and Tomorrow," should be printed in the Congressional Record. Also some arrangement should be made for printing for free distribution a plentiful supply so that the people may be informed on the most important question which today confronts them.

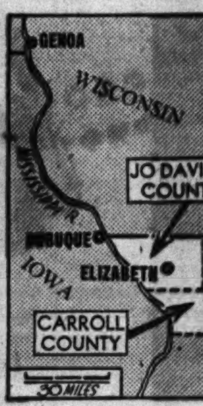
NEW DEAL PUTS WHEELS ON ITS ELECTRIC PLANT

Hits Upon Idea to Fill Gap in Rural Projects.

Elizabeth, Ill., May 8 [Special].—Here in Jo Daviess and Carroll counties the New Deal has fixed it so the farmers may be served their electricity by a generating plant on wheels.



Map locates counties in REA project.

This does not mean, however, according to those close to the project, that officials of the Rural Electrification administration will trundle up and down the road dropping a quart of kilowatts here and a bundle of ohms there.

The wheels of the mobile units, built on two trailers, will be little more than ornaments, project officials admit, when the plant is tethered here and put into operation some time this month.

Generating Plant Is Missing.

Need for the moving electricity was discovered after the REA constructed 278 miles of power lines in the two counties. A loan of $349,000 was granted for this purpose, and it was planned to hook the lines up with the REA generating plant adjacent to Genoa, Wis.

However, some one had neglected to complete the generating project, it was learned, so the farmers' coöperative operating the lines and the REA scuttled out and picked up the two mobile units at a cost of $26,000.

F. I. Ruble, REA project supervisor, was reported "out of town" today. Others said, however, that they hoped to sell the mobile units when they are no longer needed.

J. Walter Marquardt, executive secretary of the Illinois committee to coördinate REA activities, said he understood the trailer plants were temporary.

Farmers Seem To Be Happy.

Marquardt explained the $439,000 REA project will supply electricity to 500 farm homes in the counties, which also are served by private utility companies. Until the Genoa plant is completed, the public units will supply power for a curtailed area.

Mrs. L. E. Reed, editor of the Elizabeth News, said all in all the farmers appeared to be pretty happy over their moving electricity and the entire project.

"They may not realize," she said, "that they must pay the cost of maintenance as soon as the operation starts.

"Then, too," she added, "there has been some objection to construction. For one thing, the poles are three times farther apart than those of the private lines."

BANDIT REPEATS HOLDUP AFTER HITCHING A RIDE

A bandit who on April 4 hitchhiked a ride from a motorist to the John Dawney & Son real estate office at 9002 Cottage Grove avenue, robbing the motorist en-route and then holding up the office, repeated his exploit under almost identical circumstances yesterday.

He flagged Alfred Mandock, 2409 Blue Island avenue, as he was driving at 102d street and Vernon avenue. In the car, the robber opened a shoe box in which he was carrying a gun. Mandock stopped, jumped from the car, and fled. The bandit drove to the real estate office and forced John Dawney to surrender $56 from the vault.

In the earlier holdup the robber got a ride from Ira J. Wickens, 47, of 6445 South Richmond street. After robbing Wickens of $6 at a point near the real estate office, he left the car, went into the office, and obtained $256.

Carlock, Ill., May 8 [Special].—The United Presbyterian church, built in 1851 by pioneer settlers coming from Ohio, is being torn down. The founders of the church sang psalms, but no other music was used in their services. The old hitching racks still surrounded the church.

PREDICT SELECTION OF BERVE TO HEAD G. O. P. COMMITTEE

Springfield, Ill., May 8 [Special].—Ben L. Berve of Rochelle, who managed northwestern Illinois for Dwight H. Green in Green's victorious primary campaign for the gubernatorial nomination, is expected to be elected chairman of the Republican state central committee here tomorrow.

Clement A. Nance of Chicago, it is anticipated, will be named secretary. The degree of harmony prevailing in hotel room conferences tonight indicated the retiring chairman, A. K. Stiles of Sycamore, would nominate Berves, while the retiring secretary, Lester J. Norris of Chicago, would nominate Nance.

It seemed likely that no date would be set for the state convention, despite a national committee ruling that all delegates must be named 30 days prior to the national convention. The state convention will select eight delegates at large. Whereas the national convention will convene in Philadelphia, June 24, the state meeting is not likely to be held until early in June.

YACHTS CORSAIR AND MAYFLOWER ON SALE BLOCK

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, May 8.—Two of America's most famous yachts, J. P. Morgan's Corsair and the former presidential yacht Mayflower, probably will join a swelling fleet of Yankee pleasure craft recently sold to British and Canadian owners.

Morgan today applied to the United States Maritime commission in Washington for permission to sell his 343-foot, turbine-driven vessel to Camper & Nicholsons, Ltd., shipowners, at Hampshire, England. At his New York offices, it was explained that the $2,000,000 yacht would not be sold for belligerent service.

At Wilmington, N. C., William G. Broadfoot, co-owner of the 320-foot Mayflower, now tied up there, announced that he soon will apply for approval of "the best of several purchase offers" submitted during the week from Canada. The Mayflower was built in Scotland, 44 years ago. It was acquired by the navy department during the Spanish-American war. From 1902 until 1929 it served five Presidents, until former President Hoover discarded it as an unnecessary luxury.

Outstanding Foreign Correspondence Brings The New York Times Staff Its Twelfth Pulitzer Prize

Once again, a Times man has won a Pulitzer Prize—this time Otto D. Tolischus of The New York Times European staff for distinguished foreign correspondence based on his articles from Berlin explaining the economic and ideological background of war-engaged Germany.

This brings the number of Pulitzer Prizes for outstanding journalistic achievement won by The Times and members of its staff to twelve.

Pulitzer Prizes are the highest distinctions in American journalism. Not only do they measure individual accomplishment; they also measure a newspaper's character and the enterprise with which it serves its readers. It is particularly interesting at a time of European crisis like this to note that five of The Times Pulitzer awards have been for distinguished coverage of foreign news. Of the other prizes, four were for reporting, two for Washington correspondence and one for distinguished editorial writing.

BILL TO RESTRICT BUREAUS O. K.'D IN SENATE GROUP

Ask Early Vote; Measure Opposed by New Deal.

BY CHESLY MANLY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 8.—The Walter-Logan administrative law bill, which the house has passed by a 3 to 1 vote, was approved unanimously today by the senate judiciary committee. At the same time, the judiciary committee directed a subcommittee to move at the earliest possible time to call up the legislation in the senate. This probably will be next week.

The bill, which is intended to curb the usurpation of authority by government administrative agencies, is opposed bitterly by the Roosevelt administration and by New Dealers in congress. On Monday the senate judiciary committee repudiated administration efforts to defeat the legislation when it rejected unanimously a plea by Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky, senate majority leader, to postpone action until the next session.

Minor Amendments Approved.

Today the judiciary committee approved minor amendments to the house bill suggested by a subcommittee appointed for that purpose on Monday. The amendments are of such a noncontroversial nature that the house undoubtedly would accept them without sending the bill to conference. The subcommittee was directed to offer these amendments on the floor of the senate.

The bill empowers the federal Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia, on petition by any interested party, to review the administrative rules and regulations of any administrative agency. It empowers the court to set aside these rules and regulations if they are found to conflict with the constitution or the law under which they were issued, or if it is found that the agency exceeded its authority.

Other Courts Named.

Furthermore, the bill authorizes the several federal Circuit Courts of Appeals, on petition by any interested party, to review final decisions and orders of the administrative agencies and to set them aside if: [1] The findings of fact are not supported by substantial evidence; [2] the decision is not supported by the findings of fact; [3] the decision was issued without due notice and a reasonable opportunity to be heard; [4] the decision is beyond the jurisdiction of the agency; [5] the decision infringes the constitution or statutes of the United States of America.

The senate committee eliminated two grounds for setting aside an administrative order: [1] That the findings of fact are clearly erroneous; [2] that the decision otherwise is contrary to law. The committee felt that these grounds were covered adequately by those left in the bill and that the first ,at least, was subject to different constructions.

The senate committee also added the federal Civil Service commission to the list of agencies excepted from the provisions of the bill.

More than 100 agencies would be affected, including such New Deal innovations as the National Labor Relations board, the Federal Communications commission, the Securities and Exchange commission, the Commodity Exchange administration, the Wages and Hours administration, the Bituminous Coal division, and the Social Security board.

Guests on W-G-N School Program

Principal Butler Laughlin of Lindblom High school with three honor students who were guests at presentation of "Citizens of Tomorrow" radio program in W-G-N studio last night. Left to right: La Verne Engeson, graduate of Waller High; Helen Mess of Foreman High; Dr. Laughlin, and Mary Jane Wichser, graduate of Amundsen High.

Tribute to Lindblom

Six hundred young voices were raised in tribute to Lindblom High school last night in the sixth of the "Citizens of Tomorrow" half hour radio programs broadcast from the studio auditorium of W-G-N. The presentation, sponsored by THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, was a blend of pep, wit, song and drama of the classroom, another of the dedications to the city's secondary schools.

The school male chorus of 40 voices, led by Mrs. Hannah Rosenthal, choral conductor, sang a rollicking hiking song and the passage "America" from a symphony by Bloch. Philip Maxwell, of THE TRIBUNE's editorial staff, played the rôle of "The Principal" and Ed Sprague, veteran radio actor, was in character as "The School Engineer." Dorothy Gregory was back as "Jerry," every school's co-ed.

Three students answered all questions correctly in the Tribune news quiz and each won a $5 bill. They were Shirley Manis, pretty 17 year old senior; Ben Wozniak, 18, also a senior, and Charles Sweeney, 16, a junior. Three honor students from other Chicago high schools and 20 pupils from Emerson High school in Gary, Ind., were also guests. Dr. Butler Laughlin, principal of Lindblom, thanked THE TRIBUNE for its sponsorship.

The guests then viewed the talking movie "Trees to Tribunes" and many of them went on a tour of Tribune Tower.

$325,000 RELEASED TO DAUGHTER OF GEO. F. HARDING

Judge Harry W. McEwen of De Kalb, sitting in the Probate court here, dissolved an injunction yesterday restraining Mrs. Mary Harding Thompson from disposing of $325,000 of securities held by the Continental Illinois National bank.

The injunction was obtained by Gregory T. Van Meter, who was an associate of the late George F. Harding, Republican leader and father of Mrs. Thompson. Van Meter asserted that the securities were the property of Harding's estate, against which he has claims. Mrs. Thompson claimed the securities were hers personally and this was agreed to by attorneys for both sides.

Judge McEwen set June 7 as the date for a hearing on the disposition of $1,500,000 of assets of the Harding estate. Mrs. Thompson has had claims for about $500,000 against the estate approved.

JAP WARNS U. S. ON FLEET'S LONG STAY AT HAWAII

HONOLULU, T. H., May 8 (AP).—Kiichi Gunji, Japanese consul general, said today that if extension of the United States fleet's stay in Hawaiian waters was intended to discourage Japan's program in the far east, or to force Japan into an unfavorable trade treaty with America, the navy's move was "unwise."

"I am not concerned with the fleet staying longer," he added, "but some Japanese might look upon the move suspiciously. What would Americans think if the Japanese navy maneuvered near Hawaiian waters, but outside territorial boundaries, or on the high seas near Alaska? The Japanese navy does not intend to make such maneuvers because we want to avoid animosities."

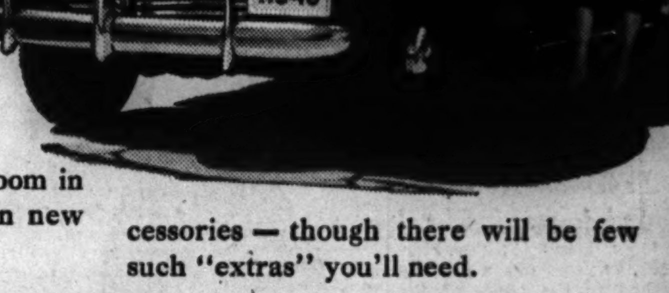
Our Sales are Swell— and so are the deals your Buick dealer is making!
What to do when the bug bites you!

Buick prices begin at $895★ for Business Coupe (illustrated)



FIGURES show that about one out of every five able-to-purchase new-car buyers really wants a Buick more than any other car.

Not all will buy one.

Too many of them without even getting actual figures will shake their heads and sigh, "Nope! A car that big and handsome must be out of my reach!"

You'll be smarter than that, we know.

When the bug to own a Buick bites you, you'll figure that a car as talked-about as Buick must be looked at first — if you're going to have anything to go on in judging 1940 values.

You'll realize it doesn't cost a cent to find out how one feels under your own hand and what the delivered prices are.

So you'll walk in, please, to the nearest Buick dealer and boldly say:

"Let me have a good look at that car that's showing the rest of 'em what modern style is.

"Let me try out that big straight-eight engine that's electrically balanced after assembly for smoothness to match a wrist watch's works.

"Show me those big soft coil springs you talk about and how they smooth out that rough stretch down the street — and what's the business about recoil-mounted Knee-Action, heaviest frames at the price, five-foot front seat room in SUPER models, and six dozen new 1940 features?"

When you've got the answers through a good long ride — ask one more question: "How much?"

Current prices† start at $895 ★for the business coupe, delivered at Flint, Mich. To this add transportation based on rail rates, state and local taxes (if any), and optional equipment and accessories — though there will be few such "extras" you'll need.

That totals up to low delivered prices that are often only a few dimes more a day than on cars in the lowest-price class — so why hesitate or haggle?

When the bug bites you, get the facts—and you'll get a Buick and be happy!

† Prices subject to change without notice.

5 HURT AS C. I. O. PICKETS CHARGE WOMEN WORKERS

Policemen's Horses Are Stabbed with Knives.

San Francisco, Cal., May 8 [Special].—Labor violence, absent since last fall's waterfront strikes, returned to San Francisco today. Five persons were injured in rioting at the Euclid Candy company plant, scene of a jurisdictional dispute between the A. F. of L. and the C. I. O.

Two police officers and three pickets were taken to hospitals after a battle which occurred when two bus loads of employés arrived at work and International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's union [C. I. O.] pickets attempted to break thru a heavy police cordon guarding the employés. The plant was being picketed by about 40 men and 20 women members of the C. I. O. union, and 175 sympathizers stood across the street.

Charge Women Workers.

Upon arrival of the buses, carrying members of the Candy and Confectionery Workers' union [A. F. of L.] police made an opening in the booing, jeering picket line, but as women workers started to get out, the picket line charged.

Police started swinging clubs, but were unable to hold back the pickets. Finally six mounted officers rode into the crowd and broke it up. After order was restored, two of the pickets were arrested and booked on charges of failing to obey a police order to move on.

Police reported that two of their horses had been stabbed, apparently with penknives.

Following the fracas, a picket line of 30 was left at the plant, with 20 police officers remaining on guard.

$300,000 Pay Roll Periled.

"This is a case in which a million dollar San Francisco manufacturing industry, with an annual pay roll of $300,000, is being jeopardized by the unfair and illegal activities of C. I. O. labor leaders in their war on A. F. of L. unions," said Philip S. Ehrlich, company attorney.

"The company has no quarrel with labor unions, either A. F. of L. or C. I. O. It is trying to observe the terms of its contract with the A. F. of L. Candy and Confectionery Workers' union, local 24. This contract still has another year to run."

Ehrlich said he will seek injunctions against the C. I. O. Warehousemen's union, in both state and federal courts, on the ground that its pickets used force and violence.

DAIRY WORKERS APPROVE WAGE SCALE PARLEYS

Members of the Inside Dairy Workers union, which went on strike last week with the Milk Wagon Drivers' union, last night approved the carrying on of negotiations for a new wage scale. They delayed action, however, on a request of officers who asked authority to arbitrate points that could not be settled otherwise with milk dealers.

The officers were instructed to report at another meeting, to be held before May 31, on the extent to which arbitration will be necessary. In the conference which ended the strike last Friday morning, the dealers were insistent on an arbitration agreement. Last night's meeting was held at 330 South Ashland avenue and was attended by some 2,000 members.

The drivers' union will consider the arbitration question at a meeting tonight. Both unions have been working at the old pay scale since their contract with the dealers expired April 30.

ANNENBERG FIRM UNDER ATTACK BY ALCOHOL BUREAU

Charged with Fraud in Obtaining Permit.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 8.—The government has struck again at M. L. Annenberg, wealthy publisher, thru his interest in liquor distribution, it was learned today.

Annenberg recently pleaded guilty to an indictment charging him with evasion of more than 1 million dollars in income taxes for 1936. His civil liability on the income taxes is now being computed and imposition of sentence on the guilty plea is scheduled for May 23 in the Chicago federal District court. There are three other indictments against Annenberg and his racing information service.

Misrepresentation Is Charged.

The surprise development, however, is a secret order from the Federal Alcohol administration instituting proceedings for annulment of a wholesaler's basic permit held by the Standard Wine and Liquor company of Milwaukee, Wis., one of the largest liquor distributors in the middle west. Annulment of the permit would put the company out of business.

The order alleged that this wholesaler's permit, which was issued on March 1, 1936, pursuant to an application of Nov. 22, 1935, "was procured thru fraud, misrepresentation, or concealment of material fact" and should be annulled.

The FAA charges that in its application for the permit the company claimed that Aaron Trosch was the principal stockholder and that the company was not directly or indirectly connected with any other corporation.

Traced to Holding Company.

The FAA charges, however, that Standard Wine and Liquor company "was and is actually controled by the M. L. A. Investment company, thru stock ownership." The FAA found that the M. L. A. Investment company owns all of the stock of the liquor distributing company and that the latter received cash advances of $42,957 from the investment company.

The M. L. A. Investment company of Milwaukee is controled by the Cecilia corporation, which is the top holding company for Annenberg enterprises.

It is understood that Annenberg has heavy investments in Milwaukee real estate. Aaron Trosch is Annenberg's financial representative in Milwaukee and is head of Standard Wine and Liquor company. Trosch also is under federal indictment for income tax evasion.

Alcatraz Modernization Under Way; to Cost Million

Washington, D. C., May 8 (AP).—Alcatraz prison in San Francisco bay, the institution which houses incorrigible federal convicts, is being modernized at a cost of $1,100,000. James V. Bennett, director of the federal bureau of prisons, said today that an extensive improvement program would be completed in July. The construction work is going forward while the prison operates normally, Bennett said, adding that this entails considerable risk that prisoners will get dangerous tools or seek to escape. The money for the modernization was set aside under a PWA program two years ago.

PRESERVE FREEDOM IN WAR MAD WORLD, DR. MILLIKAN PLEADS

The supreme problem in the war mad world of today is to prevent the loss of the fruits of 300 years of struggle toward more just government, Dr. Robert A. Millikan, chairman of the executive council of the California Institute of Technology, asserted last night.

Dr. Franklyn Bliss Snyder, president of Northwestern university, conducted the program from Thorne hall, on the Chicago campus. The broadcast was a tribute to the $6,735,000 Institute of Technology which will be constructed on the Evanston campus within the next year.

Dr. Millikan spoke by radio from Hollywood as a guest of honor in the 25th annual candle lighting ceremony of Northwestern university, which was broadcast over a nation-wide network. Dr. Charles F. Kettering, vice president of the General Motors corporation, who spoke from Detroit, was another guest on the program.

"A crisis faces this generation the world over such as no preceding generation has ever faced," said Dr. Millikan. "Many countries have turned the clock of progress back, and in our own country doubts have risen about the possibility of the survival of our free democratic system.

"If free republics are to endure they must form some sort of federation for defense against external aggression," Dr. Millikan said. "Otherwise the international John Dillingers will destroy them separately, just as is being done now in Europe."

SAMUEL KENDALL DIES AS INDIANA VOTERS ELECT HIM

Jeffersonville, Ind., May 8 [Special].—While Clark county voters were electing him delegate to the Democratic state convention, Samuel Kendall, 80 years old, former Jeffersonville township trustee, died of a heart attack. He was fishing in the Ohio river at Clarksville when death came.

The veteran Democratic leader retired from active pursuits about a year ago, giving up a store at Claysburg. While the Ku Klux Klan was at the height of its power in the 1920s Kendall, as trustee, took a courageous stand to retain Miss Margaret Sweeney, now president of the Indiana State Teachers' association, on his teaching staff, defying demand of klan leaders that he dismiss her.

SENATORS OPEN WIRE TAP PROBE WITHIN A WEEK

Washington, D. C., May 8 (AP).—Chairman Tom Stewart [D., Tenn.] announced today that the special senate committee named to investigate wire tapping would begin public hearings here on Rhode Island complaints within a week.

Stewart asserted he would call the five man committee together tomorrow to go over a written report compiled by five special committee investigators who looked into the Rhode Island situation.

"The exact time of hearings, the witnesses who will be called, and other information will be matters for decision of the full committee," the chairman said.

He added that committee investigators are active on complaints from Chicago and Philadelphia, Pa., and that there are indications these will be the next matters before the committee.

DELAYS HOLD UP ASSAULT TRIAL OF ROBBINS COP

Motorist Tells of Beating; Backed by Motor Club.

Harold Dorsey.

Special Policeman Harold Dorsey, colored, of the village of Robbins, got a change of venue and one week's continuance yesterday in the first day's hearing of charges of assault and battery and disorderly conduct preferred against him by a motorist.

The charges were made by Daniel E. Corradino, 33 years old, a machinist whose home is near Robbins, which is largely populated by Negroes. Corradino is being aided in his prosecution by the Chicago Motor club.

The case came up first before Police Magistrate Albert L. Sengstock in Des Plaines, but he granted a change of venue at the request of the policemen's attorney. All principals immediately went before Police Magistrate Elmer J. Tone in Morton Grove. Then came the continuance to May 15.

Motor Club Attorney Protests.

Attorney Leslie J. Smith, acting for the Chicago Motor club, protested.

"This is an attempt to wear out our witness by dilatory tactics," Smith said. "He must leave his employment to come here. He is sacrificing his time so that the motoring public may be protected from similar violence in the future.

"I see that the defendant is not now wearing his star, which is as big as a frying pan. He must spend a lot of money on polish to shine it."

Corradino is only 5 feet 4 inches tall and weighs 140 pounds, while Dorsey's height is nearly 6 feet and be weighs about 165 pounds.

Corradino's statement to the Chicago Motor club said that he was driving home from church Sunday morning, April 21, when, in 139th street just west of Kedzie avenue, the policeman backed his car out of a private driveway into Corradino's path and forced him to drive a few feet off the road to avoid a collision.

Tells of Encounter.

"Dorsey, in plain clothes, came up to my car," Corradino continued. "I said, 'That's no way to act on a country road.' He grabbed me and pulled me out of my car and pushed me into the back seat of his car.

"He punched me in the face while he had me down on my back, calling me unprintable names. He ripped my shirt, and his blows left black marks on my arms and face."

Corradino said that finally he was taken before Police Magistrate Frank Griffith, colored, in Robbins. He was charged with disorderly conduct, but this charge was dismissed Saturday in a Blue Island court. Yesterday bruises were still visible on his face.

Defended by Village Attorney.

Dorsey denied the charges outside of court. He said he has been a special policeman for about a year. He is being defended by DeFrantz R. Williams, colored lawyer, who also is Robbins village attorney.

The village has had a reputation as a speed trap, subject to interruptions of good behavior. In 1931 a colored constable arrested a state highway patrolman for speeding, altho the Robbins police motorcycle lacked license plates. The defendant was freed with the aid of the motor club. In 1933 there were complaints that Robbins police acted as judge, jury, and bailiffs in kangaroo courts.

A motorist, fined $15 without a trial in 1937, obtained a judgment against the arresting officers to recover the money. The Robbins squad car was seized and held until the $15 plus $23 court costs was paid.

Hit-Run Killer's Case Is Continued to May 22

The case of Walter Bradshaw, hit-run killer of Beverly Joan Frank, 5 year old, was continued yesterday until May 22 by Judge William J. Lindsay. Bradshaw, a butcher, is charged with leaving the scene of an accident. He was freed by a Criminal court on April 19 of a charge of concealing an infant. His car struck the girl in front of her home at 1402 George street Feb. 29. He hid her in a garage at his home—2644 North Oakley avenue, where her body was found.

Zoning Committee to Study Loop Parking Lot Problem

A proposal to stop the issuance of any more parking lot permits in the downtown district pending the development of parking lot regulations was referred to the building and zoning committee yesterday by the city council. Ald. Dorsey R. Crowe [42d], committee chairman, said, "We decided to study the proposal further before taking action when we realized that refusing permits would create a temporary monopoly for existing parking lots."

FARM WORKER KILLS HIMSELF.

Allegan, Mich., May 8 [Special].—Leonard Emerick, 32 years old, fruit farm employé, committed suicide today by drowning in Swan creek. He left his watch and clothing on a pier of Swan creek bridge. They were found by Robert Zoll, who notified authorities.

TRUCK IS STRUCK BY FAST TRAIN; DRIVER KILLED

Fred E. Crowe, 30 years old, 6159 Kenwood avenue, a truck driver, was killed yesterday morning when the Spirit of St. Louis, fast Pennsylvania railroad passenger train, struck his truck at Effingham, in Effingham county.

Crowe was thrown clear of the wreckage, but was dead when found. The truck was torn in two. Its gas tank ignited, and the burning cab was carried four blocks along the right of way. A coroner's inquest will be held today.

A coroner's jury returned a verdict of accidental death at the inquest in the case of Herbert Ferris, 11 months old, son of Dr. William Ferris of Sterling, Ill. The child died Tuesday, an hour and a half after the Ferris car and another collided at La Grange road and North avenue. The other driver was J. R. Williams of Lombard.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 295 persons had been killed in traffic accidents in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these, 226 were killed in Chicago, where 7,337 were injured in traffic accidents in the same period.

$45,335 AWARDED AS BACK PAY TO RETIRED FIREMEN

Fourteen city firemen who were compelled to retire on Dec. 31, 1935, won back pay aggregating $45,335 yesterday at a hearing before Judge Francis Allegretti. Their attorney, Austin J. Doyle, argued that the city invoked a state law to retire them at the age of 65 without first passing a necessary city ordinance. The pay Judge Allegretti ordered the city to give the men is from the time of their retirement until May 21, 1937, when the ordinance was passed.

Mary swept Bothwell off his feet

Before he knew her, Bothwell had spoken ill of Mary, the Highland Queen. But when he came face to face with her, and under the spell of her charm, he was swept off his feet. For her part, she felt that she had found the man who would fight the hosts of the world for her.

Mary's friends were loyal. She held them by her charm and thoughtfulness. 'Twas the friend-making quality that led the early makers of Highland Queen whisky to name it for her. It is an appealing Scotch, light and delicate, yet it retains rare flavor and bouquet.

PLAN TO FILL IN OAK ST. BEACH FOR DRIVE LINK

Work Starts Soon; Study Tunnel System.

Plans for filling in Lake Michigan at Oak street beach, creating land on which connecting links between the Outer drive and the proposed northwest superhighway eventually can be built, were announced yesterday by the county board and county highway officials.

Work on the fill is to begin in a few weeks. Engineers estimate the job will cost $500,000. Charles Casey, state director of public works, already has approved the plans. The state will furnish the money from federal funds which it has available for allocation.

Tunnel System Proposed.

A proposal for straightening the Outer drive by tunneling thru the 32 acre tract of new made land also was made public. The surface land would be developed into a park. Outer drive traffic would be carried in four tunnels, starting at Walton street. The express tunnels, each containing a 40 foot four lane highway, would come to the surface at Goethe and at Schiller streets, connecting with the present drives, also 40 feet wide.

Northbound local traffic would run in a 30 foot three lane tunnel curving west and reaching the surface at Elm street. Southbound local traffic would enter a similar tunnel from Cedar street, a block south.

The tunneling project, estimated to cost $3,000,000, has not been approved. Plans were drawn by Harry W. Lochner, chief of design in the county highway department, after a series of conferences attended by Clayton F. Smith, president of the county board; Commissioner Daniel Ryan, chairman of the committee on roads and bridges; Maj. George A. Quinlan, county highway superintendent, and Robert A. Kingery, secretary of the Chicago Regional Planning association.

Plan One of Many.

Ryan said the plan is one of half a dozen available and was offered in hopes of obtaining an expression of public sentiment. The cost of the tunnels has been assailed by some engineers as excessive. The use of highway funds to create a park was another objection advanced. Many motorists dislike tunnels because they object to forgoing light and air.

Another phase of the superhighway situation is to be discussed at tomorrow's meeting of the county board, when Ryan will introduce a resolution directing Maj. Quinlan to report by Aug. 1 on various plans of financing the central business district part of the proposed superhighway system.

The central unit would consist of terminal connections for five proposed superhighways, and provisions for distributing traffic thru the downtown area and routing thru traffic around the loop. Plans which Quinlan will be asked to investigate include financing on a pay as you go basis, a bond issue, and joint financing with the state and federal governments.

DIES TO SPEAK TOMORROW AT CITY LUNCHEON

Representative Martin Dies [D., Tex.], chairman of the house committee investigating un-American activities, will speak tomorrow before a luncheon meeting of the Executives club of Chicago in the Hotel Sherman. His subject will be "Exposing the Skeleton in the Closet."

Evidence gathered by the Dies committee was largely responsible for the conviction of Earl Browder, communist leader, and for the jailing of Fritz Kuhn, German bund head.

The chairman is expected to tell about important subversive organizations which are still seeking to undermine the foundations of American democracy.

Granted Divorce

MRS. JULIA BISSETT.

Earl Bissett could keep the 325 boats he rented to other folks afloat with ease. But he got into trouble when he embarked in No. 326 upon the sea of matrimony, Mrs. Julia Bissett, 27 years old, told Judge George Fred Rush yesterday. Her story won her a divorce from Bissett, former rowboat concessionaire of the park system.

Mrs. Bissett said she and her husband lived together just 100 days after their marriage last Sept. 28. On Oct. 28, she testified, he knocked her against a buffet when she reproved him for being too frivolous in a night club. "She just imagined that," Bissett replied. Mrs. Bissett's attorney said she would be satisfied with alimony for a year in view of the brief marriage. Mrs. Bissett, who lives at 2224 Logan boulevard, was accordingly granted $25 a week for the next twelve months.

EX-SHERIFF ROTH WINS ACQUITTAL IN BRIBERY TRIAL

Urbana, Ill., May 8 [Special].—Former Sheriff Clarence W. Roth of Champaign county this afternoon was found not guilty of bribery in connection with the operation of tip books and punchboards in Champaign county. A Champaign county Circuit court jury of seven women and five men deliberated only 55 minutes.

The trial, which started Monday morning, was before Circuit Judge Charles Y. Miller of Decatur. The state presented eight witnesses and the defense called 12 character witnesses. The former sheriff also took the stand in his own behalf.

Today's verdict ended the trials which resulted from 51 indictments returned by the 1939 January grand jury. That jury investigated vice conditions in Champaign county following the fatal shooting of Willam Spurrier, a University of Illinois sophomore.

One additional bribery indictment remained against Roth at the conclusion of today's trial. Judge Miller dismissed it on motion of A. B. Dennis of Danville, assistant attorney general, who prosecuted the case.

WHERE TO FIND A MATE? HOW TO CLINCH THE DEAL?

Ways and Means Studied by Eager Prospects.

The atmosphere in the little auditorium of the Association for Family Living at 220 South State street was charged with the electricity of romance and spring last night. For two hours, under the guidance of the only married woman in the room, 54 young women and 12 young men discussed ways and means of finding husbands and wives.

Some of the more eager members in the audience were waiting outside in the hall long before the doors were opened. By 8 o'clock Mrs. Sora Barth Loeb, staff member of the association, arrived to lead the group in the intricacies of what the association had titled, "How to Find a Mate."

Where They're Found.

After stating that in order to find a mate one obviously had to have some one to go out with, Mrs. Loeb smilingly posed the first questions: Where can prospective mates be found? Where does one meet interesting people?

There was a flurry of hands. "Not at the movies!" said a round faced girl rather indignantly. A lady with red cherries on her hat said she knew a couple who met on a golf course and were very happily married. Others suggested dances, clubs, schools. One handsome young man said he met a girl when she accidentally threw a book at him in a school library. They became very, very good friends, he sighed.

The Matter of Technique.

After every one had decided that interesting people can be encountered in a lot of places the discussion veered to the matter of acquiring some skill in some endeavor.

"You just can't sit at home with a good book all the time and wait for somebody to come to you," warned Mrs. Loeb. She told of a girl who was a virtual pariah because she did this, but who later learned to play the piano so well that people crowded about her at every party. Mrs. Loeb failed to say whether the girl got a husband that way.

A young man with a dapper mustache suggested that it might be well to go out as much as possible "because by a process of elimination you might meet somebody you like."

A Plea for Old-Fashioned Love.

From a blue eyed girl with a green peak to her hat came: "Say, reading books is all right, but it can be overdone."

In the midst of all this one of the young women called out: "Tell me, somebody, is there anything like old-fashioned love any more, like you get in books and the movies?" Every one laughed but no one had a ready answer. Later a few admitted that love—"not the kind you just fall into, but the kind with an intelligent approach"—was pretty important.

The meeting ended with a suggestion from Mrs. Loeb that the young men and women chat a while. "You never know, you might meet some one here," she said. Some of the audience stayed, but the young lady who wanted to know about old-fashioned love was first to leave.

Older Woman in Business Must Guard Her Grooming

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

[Copyright: 1940: News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

In doing some research work on the problem of discrimination against the older worker in business and industry, Mildred E. Scribner made some interesting deductions on the woman of 40, which she reveals in a well known trade magazine for the cosmetic and toilet goods market.

In judging personal appearance potential employers, Miss Scribner tells, object to things which make a person look unnecessarily old and which "date" one. For example, an employer argues that if a woman hasn't changed her hairdress since the days when she could sit on her hair, her ideas jelled about the same time. Such "set" ideas would make her unadaptable to change and hence an undesirable employé.

Naturally, few women, if any, and these members of the long-haired sisterhood only, keep to the hairdo of the earlier day. But some older women who wonder why they are discriminated against often adopt hairdos in which the hair may be short but which somehow misses being smart or well groomed looking. It may be the hair itself, which bears the unbrushed, uncared-for look, with a sort of "matted" appearance altho it may not be matted at all.

To compete with the younger worker, hard as it may be to take, the hair of the older one must be beautifully cared for and tended. "Frumpy perhaps, is the word to use to describe the hair that is viewed with disapproval. Likewise frumpiness in dress is reported as an alienating feature in employment circles. The neat, sensible dress, as Miss Scribner points out, had its day as a symbol that one's mind was on other things, but there's that modish garb of the younger worker to compete with today.

The older women seeking employment might do well first to check on the points enumerated and also on figure faults.

As the Child Grows Change Takes Place

By GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1940: News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

In the short time between now as I write this, and the time when you will read it, a great change will have come over the earth.

The bare brown branches will have been misted with green, then decorated with tender leaves, some perky like little bird mouths, some limp and soft.

The crackly round or oniony looking bulbs, planted last fall, will have performed a miracle in the dark, sent up green points to pierce the earth, and unfolded a glory of color in hyacinth, daffodil and tulip.

Later another miracle occurs. The blue, white or speckled eggs in the birds' nests, containing what we look at so simply as yolk and white, will crack and out will come an ugly, awkward, bare, squeaky, peeping, two-legged creature, a nestling. Working harder than any day laborer, the parents conduct to earth in a short time their fully feathered, well proportioned young, who still, however, stand funnily and helplessly about while, big as their parents, they hold their mouths open for food.

Striking changes all these are. Due to what? To growth. With growth come changes, changes that are obvious and also changes that we cannot see, subtler ones of inner structure, chemistry and function.

Change is part of growth. Change is part of life, in trees, in flowers, in birds, in other aspects of life.

Change accompanies growth in human beings. If we can expect our babies and children to change as they grow, if we can accept it as well as expect it, if we will try to understand it, then we become fitted to handle the changes and be interested with the big feeling that it is a life process.

This subject will be continued tomorrow.

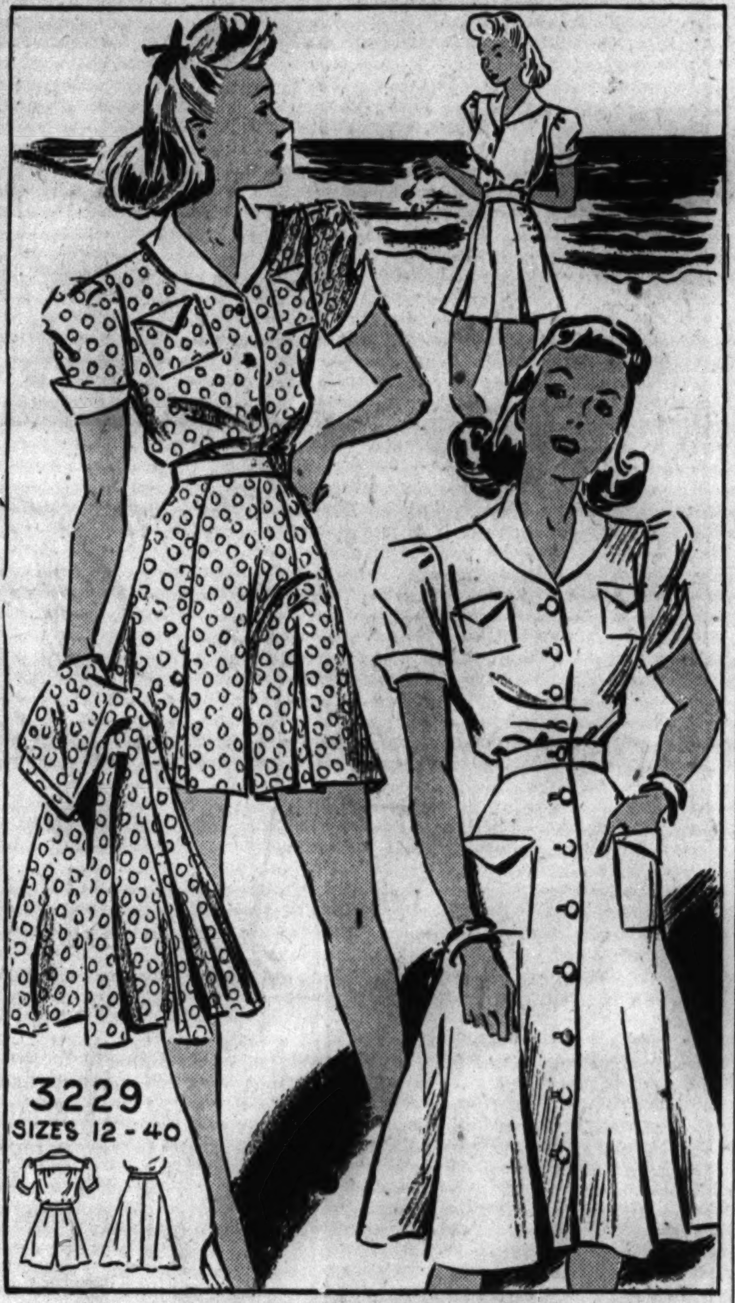
One Piece Play Costume



WOMAN'S AND MISS' PLAY SUIT.

If you're weary of play suits that have separate shirts with the habit of slipping out of the waistband of the shorts when you reach for a high tennis serve you will welcome this one-piece sports costume with the extra skirt if you wish it. There's a girlish shirtwaist top buttoned down the center and buttons to match down the side of the shorts portion. Pockets are optional for the shirtwaist. Collar and cuffs may match or contrast. Inverted plaits give plenty of fullness to the shorts sector while preserving trim, figure molding and tailored lines. The skirt, with or without pockets, is buttoned down the center front to keep the blouse styling company. Use any printed or plain cotton or linen for this sports costume.

Style No. 3229 is designed for sizes 12, 14, and 16, and 36, 38, and 40 inch bust measurements. Size 16 requires 3½ yards of 39 inch material for blouse and shorts, with ¾ yard of contrasting and 2 yards for skirt.

Address orders for Clotilde patterns to Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central annex, NEW YORK CITY, including 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred—wrap it carefully) for each pattern ordered. IMPORTANT! Be sure to state clearly the number of the pattern and the size desired, and write your name and address plainly.

Wife Is 'Sold' on Mate and Tells World

BY DORIS BLAKE.

[Copyright: 1940: News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

We heard a pleasant story about a wife the other day that we feel impelled to pass on. The couple had been married 18 years, with four youngsters to bless the union. It seems there was a big advance open in the organization which employed the husband. Several men were under consideration, but not this particular husband. His work, while satisfactory, was confined to another department.

While consideration for the man for the job was going on, a party was given by one member of the organization to which our husband and wife were invited, along with the executive of the organization whose voice was most powerful in the selection.

A game was introduced in which players were asked to announce the name of the man they deemed the greatest name known to them. Outstanding world figures were announced in turn by the different participants. When it came our wife's turn, she floored the audience by saying: "My husband is the greatest man I know or ever heard tell of." There was general laughter at the announcement. The woman stoutly defended her announcement by adding that her husband was not only a great husband, he was a great father and a great friend.

You've guessed the finale, no doubt. Yes, the executive sidled over to the wife and inquired: "Do you really mean that about your husband?" She said: "Yes, and I haven't said half enough!"

"Well," announced the executive next day in meeting, "if his wife, who knows him better than any one else, feels that way about Mr. X, he's the man for the job." And he got it!

The story points a moral to those wives who indulge in the so-called comic practice of belittling a husband before company.

Yes, if you are completely sold on your man and don't mind if the world hears about it, you wives, yourselves, are heading toward a greater reward than wives who insinuate a man's ineffectiveness by sly innuendo, socially dealt.

According to CULBERTSON

[Copyright: 1940: By Ely Culbertson.]

"Nice work, partner," said the erstwhile dummy.

The ditto declarer, detecting a faint note of sarcasm, looked at him suspiciously. "What d'ya mean?" he demanded.

"Why, that was a very pretty squeeze play you just made. Of course it was unfortunate that it was directed against yourself, but no one can deny that you executed a real, honest-to-goodness squeeze!"

The bidding:

West	North	East	South
Pass	Pass	1 spade	Double
Pass	2 diamonds	Pass	3 no trump
Pass	Pass	Pass

East's opening, obviously enough, was weak, but not to be criticized, third hand. South overbid decidedly when he jumped to three no trump.

West, altho disliking to open a singleton, could see no better lead than his partner's suit, hence opened the spade six. Declarer played low from dummy, realizing that he would need the spade king for an entry to the diamond suit. East put in the jack and declarer won with the ace. Now declarer laid down the ace and queen of diamonds, which again was the proper play, since the best chance was to hope for a doubleton jack in either defender's hand. West, afraid that if he refused this trick he might never take a diamond trick, won with the king, while East made the extremely bad discard of the heart deuce. West would have shifted to a heart had it not been for that negative signal, but now was misled into leading a club. Declarer captured the queen with the ace and led his last diamond. West won with the jack [East discarding the spade deuce] and led another club, declarer winning with the ace. Now, blind to everything except the two established diamonds in dummy, declarer led a spade to the king and cashed the diamonds. On the first East discarded another heart and declarer did likewise. On the last East let go his last club . . . and declarer frantically searched his own hand for a safe discard.

Obviously, if he let go the club jack he could never hope to take nine tricks; that is, he would be left with the 10-8 of spades and the K-7 of hearts. Then if he led a spade from dummy East would go up with the queen and throw declarer on lead with a spade, forcing him to give up two club tricks. Or, if declarer led a heart from dummy, East would go up with the ace and exit with the heart queen, which would make declarer lead from his minor tenace in spades. South compromised by discarding his low heart and leading a spade. East went up with the queen, cashed the ace-queen of hearts, and now declarer had to throw away the club jack in order to win the last spade trick.

Again I must emphasize that the defense had to be very bad to give South any chance for his contract, but once he had this opportunity there was no excuse for him to waste it so shamefully. At the point where he entered dummy with the spade to cash the two diamonds it took very little foresight to realize that the South hand would be squeezed on the last diamond. Hence before entering dummy with the spade South should have cashed the club jack. If this play established a club trick for East [that is, if East had the 13th club] that would just be declarer's misfortune. The way it was actually played declarer was certain to lose his contract.

I can do no better than echo North's remark. Squeeze plays are extremely valuable devices when properly executed, but it is not considered very smart for a player to squeeze himself!

They also point out that children who have "common colds" can be made more comfortable by tilting the head and body upward. This prevents nasal discharges from dropping into the throat, where they may aggravate the condition and create coughing spasms. Summer Dates for Debutantes Fill Calendar

BY JUDITH CASS.

THE summer debutante calendar is becoming so crowded with week-end party dates that families are planning midweek parties. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph T. Ryerson have reserved the night of Wednesday, June 26, for a party they will give in Lake Forest for Miss Adrienne Ely and Miss Joan Gray.

Miss Ely, who will be graduated from Dobbs Ferry in June, is Mrs. Uri B. Grannis' younger daughter. Mr. and Mrs. Grannis are expected at home from the east next Monday. They went to New York for the marriage of Mr. Grannis' son, Uri Balcom Jr., and Miss Marjory Banks last Friday. Miss Gray, a Sarah Lawrence student, is the Arthur Meekers' debutante granddaughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Kimball Salisbury and Mr. and Mrs. Samuel J. Walker are giving a party at the Onwentsia club on the following night, June 27, for Miss Marie Merrill Hubbard and Miss Mary Jane Deere Wiman. Miss Hubbard and Miss Wiman are to share a debut ball on Dec. 26 at the Blackstone.

Chatfield Taylors Are Not Expected Here This Summer.

There seems to be little chance of any of the Wayne Chatfield Taylor family spending any time in Lake Forest this summer altho it is possible that some of them will pass thru Chicago on their way to California to visit Mr. Taylor's father, Hobart Chatfield Chatfield-Taylor. Wayne Taylor is in Europe for the American Red Cross; Mrs. Taylor recently returned to their Washington home after six weeks in a Baltimore hospital; Miss Adelaide and Miss Rose are at Bennington college and Hobart is at Yale. Mrs. Taylor plans to go to their country home at Yorktown, Va., shortly.

Other Washingtonians who still are considered Chicagoans, the James Lawrence Houghtelings, will be here for a month this summer, however. They expect to come to Winnetka on July 1. They are delaying their north shore visit until that date so that Miss Margaret can enjoy the early summer season in the capital, which is almost as busy and gay as the Christmas season. Miss Houghteling, who is at Vassar college, and Rose Taylor made their debuts last summer in Washington.

Lucile Swift to Wed De Forest Paine Davis.

An interesting announcement from Mr. and Mrs. George H. Swift of 17 Commonwealth avenue, Boston, reveals that a second daughter is to come to Chicago as a bride. She is Miss Lucile Swift, whose engagement to De Forest Paine Davis, son of Mrs. Percy B. Davis and the late Mr. Davis of Winnetka, Mr. and Mrs. Swift are announcing today.

Miss Swift, who was in Chicago last week to visit her sister and brother-in-law, the Errett Van Nices [Ruth Swift], and Mr. Paine are planning to be married soon, altho no definite date has been set.

Miss Swift made her debut in Boston in 1931. She is a niece of the Gustavus F. Swifts, and has many relatives here. Mr. Davis was graduated from Harvard university in 1934, a member of the Hasty Pudding and the Lampoon. He was graduated from the law school at Northwestern university in 1937, and is practicing in Chicago.

Mrs. Spenser-Brown Tells of Grandson's Troth.

Mrs. Harry Spenser-Brown is telling her friends the interesting news that her grandson, Comte Jean de Gramedo, son of Comtesse de Gramedo of Paris and the Château de Born, is engaged to be married. His fiancée is Mlle. Bernadette Gourlez de La Motte, daughter of Baron and Baronne François Gourlez de La Motte of Paris and the Château de Flacy.

It is expected that the wedding will take place in the early summer. The youthful bridegroom-to-be, who is only 21, visited here several years ago. His grandmother will be present for the wedding, as she is sailing May 18

Talking Over Wellesley Election

Club Leader Says Dictator Trend Grows

Bridgeport, Conn., May 8 [Special].—Mrs. John L. Whitehurst, first vice president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, drew shocked murmurs from 400 clubwomen today with the assertion that women inside and outside the federation had told her that if they had the choice they would "vote for a dictatorship tomorrow."

Among the numbers who were "turning away from democracy," Mrs. Whitehurst included a university president whose identity she did not reveal, and a state club federation president.

The club women, attending the annual convention of the Connecticut federation, applauded Mrs. Whitehurst's spirited defense of the Dies committee, which she said, is being "persecuted by a lot of radicals, nothing more or less."

"You are blind, apathetic, doing nothing constructive about challenges democracy is facing today," Mrs. Whitehurst said. "Stop making destructive criticisms of the form of government we have. We are not sympathetic to everything in this country today, but you must not break down the confidence of the people, especially the young."

She ended her indictment of subversive movements with a plea that the clubs organize forums, open to the general public, to "clear up confused thinking" on public questions.

Front Views and Profiles

By June Provines

Example in Frustration.

A blond young man stepped into a florist's shop on the northwest side and, obviously nervous over his task, ordered two dozen roses sent to a young woman. He sat down at the little table to pen a note for inclosure with the flowers. He wrote note after note and tore them all up. After half an hour he asked one of the clerks to go across the street and get him a bottle of coke. He continued his writing and tearing up, sipping desperately at his drink from time to time. Finally the note was done. After he had gone, curiosity overcame professional ethics and the florist's assistants peeked into the envelope. The full text read: "Al."

Footnote on Spring.

The traffic officer at State and Madison whistled the pedestrians across last Sunday afternoon. There was not much traffic, altho a number of persons were walking in the spring sunshine, so the officer did not have much to do. One of the pedestrians, Bill Crouch, noticed that he kept on blowing his whistle, quite softly, after he had signaled the crowd across. He paused a moment to listen.

The officer was whistling "O, Johnny!" between lights. On his police whistle.

And hopeful-eyed, with life at spring,
And beauty everywhere.

Method in Reverse.

You've heard of persons who make lists of words they want to memorize and put the list in the mirror or on the dressing table, for perusal at odd moments. Lenore Lonergan, the little actress who plays the younger sister to Katharine Hepburn in Philadelphia Story, learns to mispronounce words in that fashion. As the granddaughter of Lester Lonergan she was more carefully trained than most children in the pronunciation of the king's English. In the play she must, as a precocious child using words too big for her, mispronounce them. She wrote out the words, pinned the paper to her bureau cover, and memorized them while she brushed her hair mornings.

Experts Lose Women Voters in Tax Tangle

Two tax experts, Simeon E. Leland, former chairman of the Illinois Tax commission, and Albert Lepawsky, director of the Federation of Tax Administrators, appeared in the Shoreland hotel yesterday to enlighten 300 delegates to the Illinois League of Women Voters' convention on the state tax structure. They confessed that the subject is too complex to be reduced to A, B, C.

When the experts first started talking many a pencil raced busily scribbling notes. As the discussion entered the rarefied realms of overlapping taxing bodies, pegged levies, and amortization, first one pencil and then another broke stride, then dropped out of competition. Finally the audience just sat bemused, notebooks folded in their laps.

"The state's financial structure," said Dr. Lepawsky, striking a final note of defeatism, "is too complicated for me or any other expert to understand, let alone the man in the street."

Prof. Leland, acting director of the department of economics at the University of Chicago, was not inclined to give up quite so easily. The clubwomen, he thought, could understand something of the question, even if they couldn't understand all of it.

After touching on the state constitution, multiple taxing bodies, bad laws, inefficient administration, unscientific taxing methods, and "butcher and baker" assessors, Prof. Leland said hopefully:

"The League of Women Voters might well concentrate on just one or two of these issues."

The delegates, attending the league's 20th anniversary convention, had optimistically drawn up their program with the theme, "Blue Prints for a Better Illinois." The seminar on taxation failed to produce the required prints.

Dr. Lepawsky conceded that the problem was crying for solution.

"The state government is losing its place in the hearts of Americans because of this very complexity," he said. "If we are to keep democracy safe from dangers within and without, we must solve this problem."

But he did not say how.

Tonight Dwight H. Green, Republican nominee for governor, and Harry B. Hershey, his Democratic opponent, are to address the convention banquet on "Concrete Plans for Illinois." The delegates are more hopeful about this. You don't start pouring concrete usually until the blue prints are satisfactory.

Greer Garson of Movies Divorces British Husband

Los Angeles, Cal., May 8 (AP).—Greer Garson, British actress who played a leading rôle in the movie, "Goodbye, Mr. Chips," won a divorce today from Edward Alec Abbot Snelson, a member of the British civil service in Central India. The actress, suing under her married name of Eileen Evelyn G. Snelson, told Superior Judge Clarence Hanson the marriage lasted only one month and five days, in the autumn of 1933. It ended, she said, because of her husband's temperamental outbursts and because he insisted that she accompany him to India. Furthermore, she said, Snelson wrote her in 1938 that he was in love with another woman.

Looking at Hollywood

By Ed Sullivan

Five Cent Miracle.

We closed at Youngstown, O., and that is where the Warner Brothers started, for it was to Youngstown that Polish immigrant Ben Warner moved from Baltimore to open a shoe repairing shop. . . . He had six children to support and to lure trade he offered to repair shoes while customer waited. . . . That was an unheard of offer in the 1890s and tho sometimes his back ached as tho the muscles were tearing apart he made good his boast and the six children were fed and clothed and sent to school. . . . "I never worry about money," said Ben Warner. "I just worry about work." . . . Then the children grew up and one worked as a meat packer for Armour, and Harry got a job in a pickle vat.

Of the children it is a matter of Youngstown record and rumor that Sam Warner was the "idea man." . . . He proved it immediately after the St. Louis exposition when he sold the first ice cream cones ever seen in Youngstown. . . . Abe, known today as Major Albert, was a noted high school athlete and Milton, who died in 1915 of an appendix attack, was a southpaw pitcher good enough to win an offer from John McGraw's Giants. . . . Harry always had a flair for raising the money required to float Sam's ideas. . . . Jack Warner was a social mixer, the front man, the go-getter.

Engaged in separate lines of endeavor, the brothers Warner had no more luck or success than a man using buckshot. . . . It was when they concentrated their fire in a single barrel of the family gun that they started scoring bullseyes.

We find them at Newcastle, Pa., around 1906, operating their first theater, the 99 seat Cascade theater. . . . They had to borrow chairs from the local undertaker to open on time, and the reason they had only 99 seats was because of a local ordinance that any public building seating 100 or more would come under the fire department regulations. . . . At Youngstown I saw a picture of that first theater, and here is what the placards in front of the house said: "Refined entertainment for ladies, gentlemen, and children. Admission 5 cents." The picture advertised was a two-reeler entitled: "The Artful Husband in Distress."

For this first venture as theater operators Sister Rose Warner collected tickets and then rushed to the piano near the stage and played the piano. . . . Jack Warner led the audience in the singing of illustrated songs. . . . Sam cranked the projection machine by hand, and Harry and Abe handled the business affairs, picture rental, theater rental, et cetera. . . . So I say you can call the Warner empire a five cent miracle, because like Woolworth they parlayed a nickel into the most astounding of all modern successes. . . . They backed up a nickel, in other words, with a million dollars of perspiration, a million dollars' worth of courage, a million dollars of ambition, another million of family loyalty. . . . You see the nickel. You can only guess at the wealth of effort that supported it.

It was Ambassador James Gerard's "My Four Years in Germany" that started the brothers Warner on the high road to heavy dough and heavier prestige. . . . Harry Warner got the rights to film the book on a train ride to California and the picture became a terrific box office grosser. . . . But one picture doesn't make a flicker company, and it remained for a strange pot-pourri of Rin Tin Tin, Sinclair Lewis, George Arliss, John Barrymore, and the miracle of talking pictures to turn the Warner empire into a massive structure. . . . "Where the North Begins," the first of the Rin Tin Tin pictures, unloosed a golden stream of dollars. . . . Sinclair Lewis' "Main Street" and "Babbitt" swelled the golden cargo. . . . John Barrymore's "The Sea Beast" was another huge success, and Arliss contributed "Disraeli" that cleaned up. . . . In 1927 Al Jolson in "The Jazz Singer," with May McAvoy and Warner Oland, added a profit that ran close to $6,000,000 net. . . . By that time the other film producers knew that the kids from Youngstown were big time adversaries.

Thirty-four years after the brothers Warner first chortled over a $300 profit on a week's showing of "The Great Train Robbery" they are giants of a giant industry. . . . Their formula for picture making is pretty nearly the same as it ever was: Topical stories from the headlines of the day, class pictures, gang-buster pictures in the "Little Cæsar" groove, and a close supervision of costs. . . . Early in their career they figured out that if you repaired a pair of shoes for 50 cents at a cost of 20 cents the net profit was 30 cents. . . . If they sold a pickle for 5 cents that cost 2 cents the profit was 3 cents. . . . They applied the same simple mathematical principle to movie production and at their Burbank lot pictures are produced at a price which permits a profit. . . . That rule is inflexible. . . . In other words, they want no half-baked geniuses to lose $500,000 on a picture while satisfying his artistic impulses.

Yesterday I pointed out that almost every smaller city and town in the country could point to some outstanding celebrity who had triumphed over his environment and made a name for himself in the world. . . . The pleasant little Ohio city of Youngstown, cooling itself on the banks of the Mahoning river and lighted at night by the reflection of the yellow fires of steel and rolling mills, can point with pride to the brothers Warner. . . . They've gone a long way from the little shoe repair shop which Ben Warner established 40 years ago.

Waist-Skirt Combinations Maintain Lure

BY REA SEEGER.

Waist and skirt combines continue their compelling lure over extra pennies from the career girls' budgets. Lots of the same combines are out in circulation among those with more spending money but not an ounce more appreciation of what can be done with these obliging units. New this week are the filmy black chiffon skirts pleated in a fluttering accordion formation and fastened to a neat belt. The underskirt is either of taffeta that swishes most enticingly or the crêpelike silk. The pleated finds are priced around $12. There's a gored smoothie for much less.

Black bengaline is used for flared short skirts for cocktail costumes with jaunty bolero jackets of the same bengaline. Take these two, bolero and short skirt, and the blouse topping finds are unlimited. One of the smartest blouse tops is of cool, crisp white cotton with a harlequin collar . . . that collar edged in stiff piqué. Other blouse ideas are the "hussy" models of transparent organdy trimmed with black lace. . . . See the shell pink affairs with thin black lace or the same delectable confections in pale blue with the black lace. A lovely dull white organdy with black lace completes the assortment. Small ball buttons of simulated pearls are used down the front panel.

All these pastel or white sheer blouses are just as effective with the long evening skirts as with the short dress parade models. None of them are prohibitively priced, and there are half a dozen styles from which to choose. They top the bengaline skirts, the airy pleated chiffons, and the black jerseys, the black lace trim being the required relation to the sooty black of the skirt. For a moderate sum you can assemble one of the most provocative and feminine shirtwaist costumes in the new spring shades of pale pink and blue with a definitely French accent of flattering black.

The Correct Thing—What and What Not to Do, by Elinor Ames

YOUTHFUL CHIVALRY

A hostess should not expect high school boys to take home girls at a party. However, if boy and girl live within walking distance, a boy should see that a girl gets home safely after the party. This is especially helpful if the girl's parents have not sent an escort to take her home.

TAKE HIS ARM

The rule that a lady never takes a gentleman's arm during the daytime doesn't always apply. If you're afraid you'll become separated from a companion or if you're walking in a crowded section it's sensible to hold his arm.

Boys of high school age should not be "smart alecks." On the other hand, the youth who doesn't try to talk with adults is depriving himself of necessary valuable training. When a boy is thrown in the company of older men he should try talking sports, school activities, and ambitions. He should not appear to be precocious.

HOSTESS HELPS

When a masculine diner drops a napkin he should allow the hostess (or waitress) to pick it up.

PROPER DRESS

High school boys should forego baggy suits when accompanying young lady to social affair.

"Now that's what I call good coffee"

How pleasant it is, after greeting your husband, to hear him say, "When I left the office Mr. Jordan was still talking about the coffee you served last night. Do you remember what he said when he first tasted it? . . 'NOW THAT'S WHAT I CALL GOOD COFFEE!'"

"I have learned, in using Hills Bros. Coffee that The Correct Grind produces the finest tasting coffee in any type of maker. I follow the rules on the side of every Hills Bros. Coffee can, and never regrind the coffee—that sacrifices aroma, flavor, and freshness."

IMPORTANT: Carefully observe timing for each method. Measure 2 level tablespoons of coffee to each cup of water. Vary amount of water slightly for exact strength desired and be sure to keep the coffee-maker clean.

WHEN USING THE DRIP METHOD: 6 to 8 minutes preferred. If less than 2/3 capacity is made, water will drip too fast, giving weak coffee.

WHEN USING A GLASS VACUUM-MAKER: Put upper bowl on after water boils. The coffee and water should be in contact 5 to 7 minutes.

WHEN USING A PERCOLATOR: Start with cold or hot water. Percolate slowly 7 to 10 minutes after steady pumping starts.

WHEN USING A COFFEEPOT: Bring coffee to boiling. Stir. Remove from fire. Add a little cold water and let stand 5 minutes to settle.

Write to Hills Bros. Coffee, Inc., San Francisco, for a free copy of "The Art of Coffee-Making."

Hint of the week

Coffee keeps freshest in its original container. But if you do transfer it to a canister, never empty fresh coffee on top of old coffee.

WHEN USING THE STEEPING METHOD: Pour boiling water on coffee. Stir well. Stir again in 5 minutes. Steep for a total of 10 to 15 minutes.

Robert Zuppke Opens Show of His Paintings

BY ELEANOR JEWETT.

Robert C. Zuppke [Bob to his millions of football fans], head football coach at the University of Illinois, is in town this week with a stunning exhibit of paintings at the Colonial Art company galleries, Palmer House. There is not a football nor a football player in an inch of them, but every one of these paintings is crammed full of Bob Zuppke's personality. The drive that makes his one of the great teams in the midwest makes his ventures into art things to write home about.

Mr. Zuppke is an individualist. He follows no school of painting. He often meditates over a landscape some 10 years before putting it down on canvas. At other times he paints them practically on the spot. He finds it a good practice, when it suits him, to repaint part of a picture that he thinks could be bettered; he'll repaint the whole canvas if he thinks such drastic treatment is necessary. It's the result that counts; not the work involved.

The paintings in the current exhibition are chiefly the work of this year. They are dated 1940. Mr. Zuppke has been west and in Mexico and he gives us his colorful and dramatic interpretation of the landscape of Arizona, New Mexico, and California as the case may be. The Arizona pictures are particularly vivid in color; the skies are floods of fire, gorgeous in pattern. Under the skies are stretches of arid land where cacti grow and a thin road runs into low hills on the horizon. The painter has the feel of the west in his pictures. They are great stuff—simple, blunt and thoroly American.

A charming exhibition of portraits by Frances Foy opened yesterday in the Marshall Field gallery. Miss Foy is well known for the sensitive quality of her painting and for the delicacy of her color. These portraits are excellent likenesses and beautiful, many of them, as pictures. The portraits of children are fascinating. You will find it hard to resist the lure of "Alice," "Portrait of Nancy," "Two Little Girls," and "Two Boys."

The portraits of older persons are just as intriguing. "Portrait of Miss P." is one of the most charming pictures Miss Foy has ever made. The complementary portraits of Mr. and Mrs. Clay Judson strike a new note in portraiture and are most likable. "Mother and Child," "Portrait of Mrs. Morton," each of these is a delight in color, composition, and technique. Miss Foy is to be congratulated.

The exhibition will continue to May 22.

Business Men Give Bolognini Back to Stage

Concert in Orchestra hall, Wednesday evening, May 8, 1940, by the Chicago Business Men's orchestra, George Dasch, conductor; Ennio Bolognini, cellist.

The program:

Overture to "Semiramide"......Rossini
Symphony No. 5, E minor..Tschaikowsky
Concerto for Violoncello, A minor....
..........................Saint-Saëns
Tone Poem, "Finlandia"..........Sibelius

BY CECIL SMITH.

The Business Men's orchestra neatly scooped other Chicago musical organizations by providing the opportunity for Ennio Bolognini's return to the stage. After a long period of devotion to less exacting musical chores, this remarkable cellist, long admired in Chicago by those who have known his work, has determined to resume his concert career with a series of engagements of which last night's appearance was the first.

For his reëntry Mr. Bolognini chose the very standard Saint-Saëns concerto, a work somewhat dulled and blunted by much playing. It was worth the audience's while last night, however. In addition to an enchanting tone, Mr. Bolognini's playing possesses an enticing and refreshing waywardness. This is not the waywardness of a musician determined to express himself at all costs, but rather the free approach of one who, as Arthur Schnabel puts it, "walks freely on firm ground."

Mr. Bolognini's interpretation of the concerto never lacked taste and discretion, but the turn of a phrase or the stylization of a rhythmic figure continually added piquancy to the performance. In the passage work of the first and last movements he did not always pay attention to scrupulous clarity as he sought to drive the musical idea thru to its completion. Yet it was obvious that his technical resources would have permitted a faultlessly clean performance if that had been what he wanted, for he played even more difficult spots with miraculous control and arresting virtuosity. In other words, he takes the cello so much for granted as a means of immediate personal musical expression that he cannot always interest himself in technical problems he could easily solve if he bothered to notice them.

At the close of the concerto he was recalled several times, until, with Mr. Dasch and the orchestra, he finally played as an encore the air from Bach's D major suite.

The orchestra played the Tschaikowsky fifth symphony with verve and spirit, and with sound musical workmanship. How these business men, in a single weekly rehearsal, can prepare themselves for such agreeable public performance remains a mystery. To be sure, the symphony had its lesser moments, especially toward the end, but intonation and rhythm were usually good, and the musical impulse was never lost.

INSURANCE MEN SING

At the Civic theater last night the chorus of Chicago insurance men gave its second annual spring concert. Wayne Howorth conducted.

The program consisted of art songs, folk songs, and an operatic excerpt. The performance was unfailingly precise and frequently very beautiful tonally.

The guest artist was Margery Mayer, contralto. She sang two lyrical songs and an operatic aria with the familiar Mayer fervor and richness.

A CAPPELLA CHOIR

Eight works by contemporary American composers were sung on the concert of the Oriana a cappella choir in the Goodman theater last night. This represented exactly half of the program—a welcome proportion.

Three of them were by Chicagoans: Leo Sowerby, Felix Borowski, and Rossetter Cole. Sowerby's work, "When the Lord turned again," was the best contemporary piece of the evening and represented the composer in his most felicitous style. Mr. Borowski's "O softly singing lute" attempted less, but was equally admirable in its unified construction and sustained tender mood. Mr. Cole's "I knew the way of the wild blush rose" was pretty altho undistinguished.

With the exception of Charles Black's "The Lonely Shepherds" and Melville Smith's "Noel" the rest of the American compositions were negligible. Acknowledged masterpieces of the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries and a piece by Granville Bantock, contemporary English composer, completed the program.

Numerology

By Evelyn Holmes

May 9, 1940.

Nine is an all-inclusive number and so it runs the gamut of emotions. It is also universal in its appeal so those born on the 9th of any month need to be connected with humanitarian work or to be expressing their expansive natures thru some form of creation which has a universal appeal, like music, acting, lecturing, etc. This is also the number of medicine and philanthropy. Those born on today's date are starting with a blank page if they did the proper amount of erasing last year. They should be ready to step into a new life, or a newer version and have courage to take up something they have had their heart set upon. Now is the time for completely radical changes.

Marry My Daughter

By Alice Duer Miller

(Copyright: 1940: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.)

SYNOPSIS.

Millicent Dunham's mother dreams of marrying her off to some one like Dick Shard, who is kind, distinguished, and rich. Dick lives in New York, but Mr. Dunham worked for the Shard firm in Kansas before his death and Dick, who had stayed at their home while visiting his branch office, gave Mrs. Dunham a job after her husband died. On a business trip to New York, Dick invites Mrs. Dunham to a theater party with his friends, Constance and Aleck Stewart. Aleck is an invalid, and Mrs. Dunham realizes that Dick is in love with Constance. After the theater, Mrs. Dunham is hit by a car while saving Dick's life and, while she is dying, she makes Dick promise to marry Millicent. Tho still in love with Constance, Dick keeps his promise. Altho Millicent doesn't love Dick, she thinks he loves her, and Dr. Ogden, a family friend, advises her to marry Dick, for they know it was her mother's wish and she has been left penniless and untrained. After the wedding Dick tells Millicent why he married her and that she will be free to do as she pleases, but that until she decides what she wants to do, she can live with him in his New York apartment. She is humiliated but agrees to stay with him for six months and then get a divorce. Dick tells Constance how badly dressed his wife is and she agrees to get a personal maid for Millicent who will choose the right clothes for her. Constance then plans a party for the bride and groom, thinking that Millicent will appear drab, while her own beauty will stand out greatly in contrast. But the maid does a good job, and Millicent is beautiful and is exquisitely dressed when she comes to the party.

DANGEROUS ADVICE.

INSTALMENT XVI.

"One can only tell the truth as one sees it," Shard replied to Constance's taunt and then seeing that their neighbors had been obliged to start their own conversations, he added rapidly. "No one is more surprised than I am—miracles happen that's all—Lucille worked a miracle."

He looked at her appealingly, but she did not relent: "I am obliged to think you either a knave or a fool, my dear," she said, "either deceived or deceiving. . . ."

"I was deceived, Constance."

"Any man who couldn't see that there was something alluring in that little pink and white person. . . ."

They were interrupted by Mrs. Andrews on Shard's other side who was demanding a date, so that she too could have a party for them. The Andrews' parties were large, late, and brilliant. Dick usually avoided them, but of course he could not avoid this one—it wouldn't be fair to Millicent.

Millicent in the meantime was doing well. Aleck was talking to her about her mother—not so tenderly that he made her cry, but with an understanding that made her feel comfortable and at home, as with an old family friend. Then as Mrs. Lay spoke to him, Milly had a moment to look about the table and wonder what Dr. John and Roy Ellermann would think if they could see her. . . . Well, she knew. . . . Roy would be shocked and annoyed, and Dr. John would be delighted and would say "That's right, Milly—go to it. . . .'

A very low gentle voice on her other side said: "Are you liking New York?"

She found herself looking into a pair of bold prominent pale blue eyes, beneath dark brows. Donald Eaves was a very handsome young man, tho his mouth and chin were not quite firm enough to balance that brow. He had an almost menacing way of drawing up his shoulders . . . [women are said to succumb to menace] and making his slim waist even slimmer. Instantly Millicent succumbed—at least within reason.

"Yes," she said doubtfully. "I suppose I am. I'd like it better if Dick didn't work so hard and had more time to take me about."

"He's a very industrious fellow," said Eaves.

"You say that as if you didn't approve of industry."

"I'm afraid I don't know much about it."

"I'm not complaining, you know," Millicent went on. "I think women are dreadful who complain about their husband's business and then enjoy all the good things that come from it—only I don't think Dick ought to work so long—it can't be good for him to stay downtown until 9 and 10 o'clock. . . ."

The pale eyes lightened: "Does Shard dine downtown?"

"Yes, sometimes he has to."

"I'm quite sure he wouldn't do it, if he could help it," and the pale eyes glanced across the table and rested an instant on Constance. "But it's rather hard on you. I should think you must be lonely."

"I am—a little," said Millicent softly. "You see I'm so ignorant about New York. I know there must be wonderful things to do and see—only I don't know what they are."

But young Mr. Eaves knew, and not being industrious—at least not about his business life—he was more than willing to show her. "The next time you're alone, I do wish you'd telephone to me, and we could go dancing. . . ."

Millicent shook her head: "I couldn't do that."

"You mean Shard wouldn't like it?" Eaves' tone suggested that no husband could be as unreasonable as that.

"No, I mean you'd be certain to have an engagement."

"I have the best technique for breaking engagements of any man in New York."

She laughed: "I was brought up to think engagements were sacred."

"They will be if I make them with you."

Really Millicent thought no young man ever moved as rapidly from point to point as Mr. Eaves, but she liked it—moving from point to point was exciting. She was pleased with him, and even more with herself. Who would suppose that a girl from Kansas would get on so immediately with all these annoying self-satisfied New Yorkers. She did not stop to think that some of her success came from her obedient following of her husband's advice.

After dinner when the men returned to the drawing room, Mr. Lay came and sat beside her. He was gray haired, with a fine lined face, and he had that way of speaking common only to kings, great actressese, and pleading lawyers—as if confident they need not lift their voices a note in order to catch attention. He had been a great connoisseur in feminine charms in his day—was so still. His admiration, as well as Mr. Eaves', had practical significance.

He began at once to praise Shard, under the mistaken notion that this would please her better than compliments to herself. At the same time he managed a few of those, too.

"Usually when a man marries a charming woman, I always feel she's too good for the beggar—but even you, my dear young lady, even you can't be too good for Dick. I really think that he's the . . ."

Eaves who had been wandering restlessly about the room came and leaned on the mantelpiece beside her, as if he couldn't keep away: "Getting a little legal advice, Mrs. Shard."

Millicent looked up at him and smiled: "Rather early for that," she said, but she thought—not much too early.

"He's the man to go to—consult Lay and get away with murder is the motto of his office." He stayed at her side, so that across the room, Mrs. Andrews and Miss Cramer deprived of their just rights were obliged to carry on rather a sour conversation with each other.

Driving home in the car, she began at once: "O, Dick, I had such a nice time and I didn't expect to. How beautiful Mrs. Stewart is—why didn't you tell me about her?"

"Didn't I mention she was beautiful?"

"No, you never said a word, and she is certainly the most beautiful person I ever saw, and so kind and lovely. Every time the other women were talking of something I didn't know about, she would explain and bring me into the conversation, so that I never once felt dreary or out of it. They were all kind to me—of course on your account."

"Not entirely. Donald Eaves I'm sure wasn't kind to you for my sake. I believe he cordially dislikes me."

"O, no, he doesn't," Millicent answered a little too quickly. "He said the nicest things about you—that you were dependable and hard working. . . . Why do you laugh?"

"Because he meant by that to sympathize with you—so young and lovely—for being married to a dull plodding business man. Millicent did you happen to mention to him that you were lonely?"

"Well, I did say I was sometimes a little lonely. . . ."

Shard felt conscience stricken. Eaves was not a man in whom he had any confidence—not a man with whom a girl as inexperienced as Millicent could safely experiment.

She went on: "I just did what you told me, and it worked beautifully. He asked me to telephone him any evening when I had nothing to do and he said he would take me out dancing. I love dancing. He asked me to tea, too. He says he lives in a tower—not an Ivory Tower, he said, tho I don't know just exactly what that meant. . . ."

"From which he said he would show you all the kingdoms of the earth and the glories thereof. . . ."

"You don't like him."

"I think you can see more from the Empire State building, and won't be obliged to pay so high a price."

BY MARY MEADE.

[Copyright: 1940: By The Chicago Tribune.]

The seeds of many a plant contain flavor interesting enough from a culinary standpoint to make them useful to the cook. Dill seeds help to make pickles tasty, and they're also good in salad dressings and stews. Poppy seeds put pep into rolls and coffee cakes. Cumin and caraway seeds are used in some imported cheeses and often in rye bread.

Then there's sesame seed, which always seems to remind one of Ali Baba and the 40 thieves. Biscuits, cookies, candy, may be flavored with sesame seeds, which were introduced to Florida by African Negroes.

And we mustn't forget mustard seed, so indispensable at pickling time, as well as celery seed, important ingredient of many a potato salad, many a salad dressing.

The seeds of the tropical papaya are spicy and highly esteemed for salad dressings and beverages. Peach pits sometimes are utilized in preserves for their almondy flavor.

And there are many other seeds which are ground for spices and condiments. Our cereals and legumes are seeds, too, altho we rarely regard them as such.

From ancient times to the present plant seeds have been necessary to cookery and to medicine. Caraway once was prescribed for "pale faced girls"; dill was written about by Pliny; Hippocrates mentioned mustard seeds in their relation to medicine.

POTATOES AND CARAWAY SEEDS.

Try caraway seeds with potatoes this way: Boil small new potatoes in their skins. Peel and sauté until brown in butter. Sprinkle with salt, pepper, and caraway seeds.

Prepared poppy seed to be used as coffee cake and pastry filling may be bought in cans. Poppy seed for cake usually is ground, as in this recipe.

Poppy Seed Cake.

½ cup poppy seed, ground
1 cup milk
⅓ cup butter or margarine
1⅛ cups sugar
⅛ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 cups sifted cake flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
4 egg whites, beaten until stiff

Grind poppy seeds and add them to the milk. Let stand for an hour. Cream butter or margarine and one cup of sugar together thoroly. Add poppy seed, salt, and vanilla. Beat well. Sift flour and baking powder together several times and stir into the mixture in small portions. Beat egg whites until stiff, but not dry, and gradually beat in the rest of the sugar. Beat until sugar is dissolved. Fold this meringue into the batter and pour into a greased loaf or tube pan. Bake for an hour in a moderate oven, 350 degrees.

RED CABBAGE WITH CARAWAY.

Red cabbage is delicious when flavored with caraway. Shred the cabbage [about 2 pounds]. Melt 3 tablespoons butter, add ½ cup brown sugar and ⅜ cup vinegar, with 1 tablespoon caraway seeds. Cook cabbage in this mixture, stirring often, until tender.

Celery seed and honey in a French dressing, just your usual French dressing, will make a fresh fruit salad sumptuous.

And here's another seed worth mentioning—nasturtium. Use it when you can, with a few chopped nasturtium leaves to flavor French dressing for a tossed greens salad.

Girls to Show How They Design Own Wardrobes

More than 40 girls, from 5 to 20 years old, will show their elders how they make their own wardrobes from old clothes and from materials acquired on limited budgets at a style show tomorrow night in the Olivet Institute Community center, 1441 Cleveland avenue.

The Housewife

Just at the time when home managers are putting away woolen clothes for the summer, a convenient new garment bag makes its appearance. This item is one of those practical, transparent numbers and is made of oiled silk, waterproof and dustproof. With it come two moth-repellent cakes which you place right in the bag. You can get refills, if you wish. The makers of the device claim this moth cake kills eggs and larvae as well as moths themselves.

SOX WIN, 6 TO 3; YIELD CELLAR TO YANKEES

BUNCH 10 HITS TO GIVE SMITH FIRST VICTORY

Rout Chase, Senator Southpaw.

BY EDWARD BURNS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 8.—The White Sox today skyrocketed from a last place tie with the New York Yankees to a fifth place tie with the St. Louis Browns, a half game behind the fourth place Philadelphia Athletics. This magnificent zooming was accomplished by beating the Washington Senators, 6 to 3, in the opener of a two game series which will end the Chicagoans' first invasion of the east.

Edgar Smith.

Lefty Edgar Smith, tho he tired and was relieved by Clint Brown with one run in and the bases loaded in the seventh, registered his first victory in four starts, after holding the Senators to five hits, two of which came in the weary seventh. Brown retired the eight batsmen he faced.

Tresh Is Suspended.

The Sox, who have won four of their last five games—they dropped the one 3 to 2—played another snappy defensive game, going thru their fourth straight contest without an error.

For the first time in 17 starts the Sox had a changed starting lineup. Julius Solters was out nursing a charley horse and Mike Tresh at game time received notice of a three day suspension for roughing Umpire Harry Geisel in Philadelphia yesterday.

The game gave the first face to face comparison of one of Manager Jimmy Dykes' most discussed trades. Taft Wright made a single and a triple, scored two runs and sent home one on a blistering shot that was adjudged an error by Jimmy Pofahl. He also made a great catch to rob Zeke Bonura of a triple. Gerald Walker, who was sent to the Senators in the deal for Wright, failed to get on base in four trips to the plate and did nothing startling afield.

Sox Take Lead.

The Sox, who will hie to Detroit tomorrow night, have won five games and lost three in their invasion of the east. Tho they have won no games at home, they have a total of seven victories on premises other than their own, premises in which they have dropped only five.

In his earlier three starts Smith had seen only one run scored in his cause, and he scored that one himself against the team called the Yankees, now in the American league cellar. In the second inning today, tho, he had the thrill of seeing a tally in which he had no part. Wright opened with a single to right and scored on Luke Appling's double to right. Appling got to third on Larry Rosenthal's sacrifice. Then Eric McNair fanned and Tom Turner grounded out to Jim Bloodworth.

Sox Take Lead Again.

The Senators tied the score in their end of the second inning. After Walker had whiffed, Bonura singled to left and took second on a wild pitch. Zeke scored on Bloodworth's single to right. Bloodworth stole second, after which Pofahl fanned, They're kicking the Yankees around.

Sunday Is Her Day.

You may write a thousand letters to the maiden you adore,
And declare in every letter that you love her more and more;
You may praise her grace and beauty in countless glowing lines,
And compare her eyes of azure with the brightest star that shines.
If you had, then, pen of Byron, you would use it every day
In composing written worship to your sweetheart far away.
But a letter far more welcome,
bringing more and deeper bliss,
Is the letter to your mother, from the boy she cannot kiss.

Youthful blood is fierce and flaming, and when writing to your love
You will rave about your passions, swearing by the stars above;
Vowing by the moon's white splendor that the girlie you adore
Is the one you'll ever cherish as no maid was loved before.
You will pen full many a promise on those pages white and dumb
That you never can live up to in the married years to come.
But a letter far more cherished, to an older, gentler breast,
Is the letter to your mother from the boy she loves the best.

She will read it very often when the lights are soft and low,
Sitting in the same old corner where she held you long ago;
And regardless of its fiction, or its spelling or its style,
And altho its composition would provoke a critic's smile,
In her old and trembling fingers
it becomes a work of art,
Stained with tears of joy and sadness
as she hugs it to her heart;
Yes, the letter of all letters, look wherever you may roam,
Is the letter to your mother from her boy away from home.

NO PREDICTION FOR PREAKNESS, SAYS MRS. MARS

Gallahadion's Owner Gets Derby Cup by Express.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

Last Saturday evening, along about 6 o'clock, a barrage of lenses was directed at a horse called Gallahadion just after the seventh race at Churchill Downs, near Louisville. There are plenty of seventh races around and about this country's race tracks, but this particular one happened to be the Kentucky Derby, and Gallahadion had just won it. Hence, he was entitled to a picture or two as he pranced into the winner's circle at the Downs.

Along with Gallahadion, a number of photographs were taken of Roy Waldron, his trainer, and of Carroll Bierman, the kid who rode him to a victory surprising to everybody but one person. And that party's picture was not taken last Saturday because she didn't happen to be there.

But yesterday afternoon this lady, Mrs. Ethel V. Mars, graciously made up for her absence by going thru a one hour session of bulb flashing and smiling for a half dozen camera wielders. The winner's circle at Churchill Downs was transferred for that hour to Mrs. Mars' home at 930 Ashland avenue in River Forest.

Trophy Valued at $5,000.

Gallahadion had a wreath of American Beauties around his neck when he posed for those pictures last Saturday. Mrs. Mars didn't need any horticultural prop. She had for company in the pictures a solid gold cup, valued at $5,000. On it were inscribed the following words:

SIXTY-SIXTH
KENTUCKY DERBY
$75,000 ADDED
1¼ Miles
CHURCHILL DOWNS
WON BY

"And you know what goes after that," said the owner of Gallahadion. "I could just hug this cup. I'm still thrilled by what my horse did. Every one interested in horse racing likes to win, but there's one race we all want to win—THE Derby. Naturally, I'm sorry I couldn't have been there. And I'm not sure that I'll be able to see Gallahadion run Saturday in the Preakness at Pimlico. If I feel well enough, I'll fly down. I talked to Roy [Trainer Waldron] this morning, and he said the horse shipped well and was in grand shape. Roy is going to breeze him at Pimlico tomorrow morning."

No Prediction for Preakness.

And what about the Preakness, Mrs. Mars was asked. Her daughter, Mrs. Alan Feeney, whose husband manages Mrs. Mars' 2,700 acre Milky Way farms at Pulaski, Tenn., crossed her fingers and smiled across the room at her mother.

Mrs. Mars' smile left her face for a moment.

"I don't believe in committing myself before a race. There are owners who will tell you before a race that their horse is going to win it. All I will say now is that Gallahadion is a grand colt, that he has a good chance to win, and that I'm hoping."

The owner of the Derby winner has not been in the best of health in recent weeks, altho you would never have known it yesterday in seeing her run the gantlet of photographers. Maybe she was strengthened by the fact that she could hold in her arms the trophy which Gallahadion had brought her.

Winnings Go Back Into Racing.

The cup was delivered yesterday morning by express. Mrs. Mars was sleeping at the time, and Mrs. Feeney did not discover the package until shortly after noon. It probably was the first time the winner's prize ever was delivered. The last Chicagoan to send out a Derby winner and take the trophy at the track was Mrs. John Hertz, whose Reigh Count won in 1928.

The cup's value of $5,000 didn't interest Mrs. Mars any more than the check for $60,150 which also went with Gallahadion's victory. That sum, by the way, goes into the stable account of the Milky Way farms.

The Cup That Brings Joy to Gallahadion's Owner

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Mrs. Ethel V. Mars, owner of Gallahadion, as she played a belated part in the 1940 Kentucky Derby drama yesterday in her River Forest home. Mrs. Mars missed the race because of illness. She and her daughter, Mrs. Alan Feeney, admire $5,000 trophy which goes to owner of Kentucky Derby winner.

Golf School Pattern for 150 Others

The eighth annual free golf school of THE TRIBUNE, which opens next Tuesday night on the four courses of the Chicago park district, not only is the largest system of group instruction ever attempted in any sport, but also the forerunner of more than 150 others thruout the country. These latter are modeled directly after THE TRIBUNE school, and requests for its plan come in each spring. The Los Angeles Examiner and the San Francisco Call-Bulletin are the two latest recruits to the system.

When the school was first suggested in 1933, a number of critics admitted that mass education might be possible, but that the idea of teaching the fundamentals of the game to thousands of raw beginners could not be achieved.

Whew! 198,000 Lessons.

The amazing response to that initial school convinced the unbelievers that there was something to this plan of group instruction. Since that time 198,000 lessons in the first principles of the game have been given to men, women, and children of the Chicago area.

The manner in which Chicagoans have taken to the school is reflected by the attendance at the classes within the last seven years. Rain and cold have been no stymies to THE TRIBUNE school students, who have turned out in such numbers that last year a total of 73,000 lessons were given.

Supporting this enthusiasm on the part of the pupils has been the work of the faculty, composed of the members of the Illinois section of the Professional Golfers' association. Alex Cunningham of North Shore, originator of the clinic idea for bringing members into closer contact with their professionals, has again assured the continued coöperation of himself and his associates.

Use Four Courses.

The 1940 school will be patterned after its predecessors. The same four park courses—Jackson, Columbus, Marquette, and Diversey in Lincoln park—will be used.

None interested in learning the A B C's of the game which is founded on just those simple bases is barred from the school. Neither is the man or woman who may have been playing golf for years restricted. The only requirement is a golf club and the prompt appearance of its ultimate user at the course most convenient to his or her home. Each lesson will begin at 7 p. m.

4 Stallions Die in Stable Fire; Loss $100,000

Paris, Ky., May 8 (AP).—One of the most disastrous fires of recent years in Kentucky's Blue Grass swept the stallion barn on E. K. Thomas' Timberlawn Stock farm tonight and destroyed the noted thorobred sires Flying Heels, Kiev, Aneroid, and Sgt. Byrne.

A yearling thorobred colt by Hi Jack-Wave Top also was destroyed. The colt was led to safety, but ran back into the blazing barn.

Witnesses said the barn seemed to burst into flames suddenly. The cause could not be determined at once.

No Insurance Carried.

Thomas said that he carried no insurance on either the horses or the barn.

Veteran horsemen said the four stallions were worth $100,000 or more.

Probably the most valuable of the four sires was Thomas' Flying Heels, which won a total of $123,435 in five years of racing. Retired to the stud in 1934, he produced such important stake winners as Flying Lill, Throttle Wild, Spindletop, Shining Heels, Sassy Lady, Flying Wild, and Flying Up.

Son of Derby Winner.

Flying Heels was the son of the 1925 Kentucky Derby winner, Flying Ebony.

INDIANS HAND CHAMPIONS 5TH DEFEAT IN ROW

Hal Trosky Stars in 10 to 4 Victory.

New York, May 8 (AP)—The world champion Yankees were wrecked on the shoals of southpaw pitching today for the fifth consecutive game and the ninth time this season as the Cleveland Indians smashed out a 10 to 4 victory. The defeat dropped the Yankees into the American league cellar.

Al Smith, making his first start, held the New York sluggers, except Joe DiMaggio and Joe Gordon, in check for eight innings and then was replaced by Al Milnar, another left hander, as a precaution when he yielded a single at the start of the ninth.

DiMaggio, playing his second game, had a perfect day at bat with two singles, a walk, and hit by a pitched ball, and knocked in the champions' first run.

Hal Trosky made his sixth and seventh homers for Cleveland and Rollie Hemsley his third. Gordon hit one for the Yankees in the eighth with two on. Trosky smacked his first homer today with none on in the fourth off Marvin Breuer and hit the other in the fifth with two on. Then in the sixth the Indians drove Breuer out. Score:

$2,500 TROPHY WINNER'S PRIZE IN SOCCER FINAL

Spartas Meet Brooklyn for Title Sunday.

When the second and final game of the series for the national open soccer title is played in Sparta stadium, 21st street and Kostner avenue, Sunday afternoon between Baltimore, Md., and the Sparta Falstaffs, the $2,500 Dewar trophy also will be at stake. It was surrendered by the St. Mary's Celtics of Brooklyn, N. Y., which captured the cup by defeating the Manhattan Brewers of Chicago in the 1939 finals.

The trophy, emblematic of the United States soccer supremacy, has been fought for the last 20 years. It will be the fifth time that a Chicago eleven has appeared in the finals and only once has a Chicago squad won the title, the Spartas turning the trick two years ago.

Tied in First Game.

The two teams met last Sunday in Baltimore, playing a scoreless tie. The championship is decided on a total goal basis in the two game series and if any advantage this will be with Sparta, playing on its home grounds.

Baltimore reached the finals by defeating St. Gerad's of Baltimore, 10 to 1; Kensington, Philadelphia, 5 to 1; German-Americans, Philadelphia, 4 to 1; St. Mary's Celtics, Brooklyn [1939 champions], 3 to 2, and Brookhattans of New York, 3 to 1, and tying the second game, 2 to 2.

Sparta's record in the competition to be the west's representative team includes victories over Olympia, Manhattan and Swedish-American of the local league, 4 to 0, 2 to 0, 2 to 0; Chrysler Motors, Detroit, 1 to 0, and Morgan of Pittsburgh, 3 goals to 2 in three games, 1 to 1, 1 to 1, and 1 to 0.

Baltimore Favored.

Because of their superior scoring record in national tournament play, the Baltimoreans are favored to defeat Sparta. The visitors are younger and speedier than their opponents and will rely upon that youth and speed to overcome the efforts of the more experienced Sparta club.

The Sparta club will present its strongest lineup in the hope of winning its second national title. Ten members of the 1938 championship team are still on the club's roster. They are: Joe Silovsky, goal; Tom Scott and Laddie Mrnka, full backs; Jerry Nudera, Jerry Rezek and Einar Pearson, half backs; Frank Trimmel, Jimmie McDermott, William Frazier and Jimmie Wolf, forwards.

The Spartas are working out in Sparta stadium daily concentrating on their offensive play which has been lacking punch during the past few weeks.

HOLD OLYMPIC TRIAL JULY 10-13 IN LOS ANGELES

Trials for the 1940 United States Olympic track team will be held in Los Angeles on July 10-13. This was announced yesterday by K. L. [Tug] Wilson of Northwestern university, chairman of the American Olympic track committee.

Wilson, who attended a meeting of the United States Olympic committee in New York last week, said it was decided to select Olympic teams despite the fact that the games had been canceled. Athletes who make the team will receive the same medals and certificates which would have been awarded for Olympic competition.

Leading contenders in the National Intercollegiate track meet in Minneapolis on June 21-22 and the National A. A. U. meet in Fresno, Cal., on June 28-29 will be invited to participate in the Olympic tryouts, Wilson said. Boxing trials will be held simultaneously with the track meet while the tryouts for the men's swimming team probably will be combined with the National A. A. U. meet in Santa Barbara, Cal., on July 4-7.

9 GYMNASTS VIE FOR ALL-AROUND TITLE IN A. A. U.

Nine gymnasts who will compete in the all-around division of the National A. A. U. meet at the University of Chicago Saturday night are the cream of the most versatile teams in the United States.

George Wheeler, competing for the First United Presbyterian community house of Pittsburgh, was No. 1 performer on the United States Olympics team of 1936 and in the last three years has won 15 national titles. He has been all-round, long horse parallel bars, and calisthenics champion in all three years.

The greatest threat to Wheeler promises to come from Arthur Pitt of the Swiss Turnverein of Union City, N. J., who won six places in the 1939 meet and was a member of the 1936 Olympics team; Jack Korda of the Germania Turnverein Vorwaerts of Cleveland, fourth in the all-around and winner of two other places in last year's national meet, and Kenneth Dale of the Los Angeles Athletic club.

Other entrants are Caton Cobb and Paul and Louis Fina of the Illinois team which won the recent National Collegiate meet, who are competing unattached; Ed Wise of the Turnverein Germania of Los Angeles and Vincent d'Autorio of the Newark, N. J., Y. M. C. A.

Armour Tech, Augustana Nines Will Clash Today

The Armour Tech baseball team will meet Augustana college in Rock Island today in the first of a home and home series. Southpaw Ed Player probably will pitch for Tech, with Fred Lukens, the reserve catcher, behind the bat in place of William Bauch, injured in last Monday's game with DeKalb. Armour Tech will play DeKalb Teachers in DeKalb Saturday.

Marigold May Start Outdoor Bouts Monday

Three promoters are making arrangements to conduct boxing shows during the approaching outdoor season. They are Irving Schoenwald, Marigold Gardens; Alex Veck, White City, and Sammy Wolff, Mills stadium.

Schoenwald may present his first open air card in Marigold next Monday, at which time Tony Motisi, Catholis Youth organization, will meet Leonard Bennett of Detroit in a 10 round headliner.

Veck will inaugurate the White City outdoor period June 7 with a bout involving Nick Castiglione, Italo-American Youth organization lightweight, and George Morella of Detroit.

For his first offering Wolff, who has not promoted since he presented a 10 round fight between Jack Sharkey and King Levinsky in Comiskey park eight years ago, is seeking Lou Ambers, New York lightweight champion, and Pete Lello. Tentative date is June 5.

Ambers defends his title in a 15 round event against Lew Jenkins of Sweetwater, Tex., in Madison Square Garden tomorrow. Lello has been promised a match with the winner, but Pete first must dispose of Billy Beauhuld in New York May 17. Lello will head for the east today.

Joe Dupont, city Golden Gloves featherweight champion, who was defeated by Torsten Ahlbeck recently, will receive an opportunity for revenge in a return contest with his rival from Northwest gymnasium in the Madison Athletic club tomorrow. The match is set for three rounds, two more than their first meeting. . . . Promoter Bob Sangster has started negotiations for an engagement between Bob Sikes, Pine Bluff, Ark., heavyweight, and Johnny Paycheck in Hot Springs for June or July. . . .

If Frankie [Kid] Covelli dethrones Petey Scalzo as National Boxing association featherweight titleholder in Washington, D. C., next Wednesday, a rematch will be offered in Chicago, he said yesterday. The contract includes a stipulation that the next championship match be held within three months. Covelli will collect 12½ per cent of the gate receipts for the Washington encounter. . . . After he won New York recognition as middleweight ruler by stopping Fred Apostoli last Oct. 2, Ceferino Garcia purchased a $4,000 home for his parents in Manila.

1941 U. S. OPEN IS AWARDED TO FT. WORTH CLUB

New York, May 8 (AP).—The United States Golf association today awarded the 1941 open championship to the Colonial club of Fort Worth, Tex., marking the first time the event has been held in the southwest. It will be played June 5 to 7.

To expedite play in the tournament, the executive committee decided to start players in groups of three instead of couples during the first two days of the 1940 open, to be played at the Canterbury Golf club in Warrensville, O., on June 6 to 8.

In recent years play by threes has been sanctioned in qualifying rounds of the women's amateur and the public links tournament. If the method proves successful it may also be used for the qualifying rounds of the national amateur.

Sox Bunch 10 Hits to Whip Senators, 6 to 3

Al Evans walked, and Chase grounded out, Joe Kuhel to Smith.

The Sox took the lead without a base hit in the third inning. With one out Chase walked Bob Kennedy and Kuhel and the pair moved up on a wild pitch. Mike Kreevich, doubtless depressed about having hit into a double play in the first inning, struck out, but Wright knocked the glove off Pofahl and Kennedy scored. Wright did not get credit for a hit or a run batted in. The scorer said Pofahl had erred. Appling flied to Johnny Lewis.

There was nice bat work by the Sox in the production of two runs in the fourth. Rosenthal led off with his first hit of the season, a single to right, and proceeded to third when the ball got thru Lewis to the signboard. Larry walked home on McNair's single to left. Turner singled to right, McNair stopping at second. The runners advanced on Smith's sacrifice and McNair scored and Turner took third on Kennedy's fly to Walker. Kuhel flied to Evans.

Rookies Get Idea.

With two out in the fifth, Appling walked and took second on a wild pitch and Rosenthal walked. Chase ended the threat by tossing out McNair.

Turner opened the sixth with his second and the Sox's seventh hit, a single to center, and moved up on Smith's second sacrifice. Kennedy singled to center, scoring Turner and sending Chase to the bathhouse. Alejandro Carrasquel took over the Washington pitching ordeal. Kuhel was called out on strikes and Kennedy was out trying to steal second.

It was three up and three down for the Senators in the third, fourth and fifth innings, but George Case opened the home sixth with a single to left. Lewis and Cecil Travis bounced to Kuhel, Case reaching third, where he died on Walker's fly to Wright.

Brown Takes Over.

After Kreevich had executed his second strikeout at the start of the seventh, Wright tripled to center. Appling walked and was forced by Rosenthal, Wright scoring. McNair popped to Travis.

Bonura scored his and his team's second run in the seventh, Zeke opened with the fourth Washington hit, a single to left. Bloodworth flied to Kreevich, but Pofahl doubled to left center, scoring Bonura. Evans walked and so did John Welaj, who batted for Carrasquel. Loaded bases at this juncture brought on Brown. Brown threw out Case, Pofahl scoring. Lewis then flied to Kreevich.

Newton Jacobs inherited the Senator pitching job at the start of the eighth and hit Turner with a pitched ball. Brown sacrificed and Kennedy grounded out to Bloodworth, Turner taking third. Kuhel walked, but Kreevich rounded out a futile day with a pop to Bloodworth. Brown mowed down Travis, Walker and Bonura in order in the eighth.

With one out in the ninth Appling was safe on Travis' error and went to third on Rosenthal's single. McNair then hit into a double play. The Senators continued soft for Brown in the ninth.

Lee Will Hurl in Sox Eastern Final Today

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 8.—Thornton Lee, with a well deserved record of two victories and no defeats, will pitch against the Senators in the White Sox's eastern finale tomorrow. Thornton should have his hands full, for the Senators plan to start a skilled gent named Dutch Leonard.

The Senators this year have been suffering from the same curse as the Yankees. They have to look at left handed pitching every day, and there are lots of days they don't like left handed pitching.

The Sox for the third straight day today enjoyed temperatures in the mid-80s. The prospect is for another fine day here, but the boys are worrying about Detroit, where they are scheduled to open a three game series Friday.

Mike Tresh, bounced out of the Sox-Athletics final for bumping Umpire Harry Geisel, was all harnessed up, ready to catch today's game, when he got word that he had been set down for three days.

Julius Solters said today that he expects to rest his charley horse several days but is certain he will be in the lineup in Chicago next Tuesday or sooner.

Dartmouth Eleven Cancels Nov. 23 Game with Georgia

Hanover, N. H., May 8 [Special].—The Dartmouth college athletic council today announced that the football game scheduled with Georgia for Nov. 23 has been canceled. William H. McCarter, director of athletics, said the decision of the New England governors to hold Thanksgiving on Nov. 28 instead of a week earlier and the fact that authorities had been unable to obtain a playing field in either New York or Boston for that date, led to the cancellation.

Daffy Dodgers? No More—They Have Rivals Daffy Now

The Brooklyn Dodgers, who amazed the baseball world by winning nine straight, were the cameramen's friends in their Chicago quarters yesterday. Tex Carleton, former Cub pitcher (center), who held the Reds hitless recently, shows Babe Phelps (left), catcher, and Freddy Fitzsimmons, pitcher, one of the grips he uses on the ball. Phelps is an ex-Cub, too.

Rain Keeps Gay Dodgers, Cubs Apart

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

The Brooklyn Dodgers, who at the moment have a tight hold on the National league lead, much to the surprise of everybody, couldn't make their scheduled contact with the Cubs in Wrigley field yesterday. The weather man got between the would-be belligerents, but they'll have another chance today after which the Dodgers [except those who prefer rail travel] will ride back to their home borough aboard chartered planes.

The delay in the Dodgers' local 1940 debut isn't going to rob James [Tex] Carleton of his chance to show his former Cub mates how he looks in his new baseball flannels. The lanky Texan, sent to the minors by the Cubs a couple of seasons back, will be among those in action today, and the Cubs have already heard about the no hitter he pitched against the Reds nine days ago. He hasn't worked since except as an autographer.

French to Oppose Carleton.

When rain washed out yesterday's opener it also carried away Ken [Lefty] Raffensberger's first starting assignment as a Cub. He was nominated because no other pitchers were ready. But the extra 24 hours meant that much more rest for Larry French, so he'll toss his left handed items at the Dodgers today. Because of the southpaw angle, Ernie Koy, instead of Jim Ripple, will be in left field for the gang which won it's first nine games and dropped two of the last four.

Dean Problem Bobs Up.

Before taking his boys east Sunday evening, Gabby Hartnett hopes to have a talk with P. K. Wrigley. The manager undoubtedly wants to get the owner's views of the case involving the fellow known as Dizzy Dean. The effort to prove Diz's worth by starting him in turn has shown only that he is a workman of very ordinary pitching talents and, while Hartnett has refrained from commenting, it is a fairly safe bet he would like to abandon the entire experiment.

Diz could be released on 10 days' notice or transferred by waiver if any other club claimed him. There is little chance that anything of account could be obtained for him in a trade. Or the club can let him sit on the bench, using him only in an occasional finishing rôle.

A PHOTO GIVES DIXIE HANDICAP TO HONEY CLOUD

Filisteo Second; Victory Worth $18,250.

Baltimore, Md., May 8 (AP).—Honey Cloud, a former selling plater, capped his rags-to-riches career today with a victory in the $20,000 added Dixie handicap at Pimlico track.

The 6 year old chestnut gelding owned by Mrs. A. J. Abel and trained by her husband, Whitey Abel, kept his nose in front to beat H. C. Hatch's Filisteo in a photo finish for the winner's purse of $18,250.

Honey Cloud led all the way over the mile and three-sixteenths route, but needed all his courage and power to repel the challenges of the other runners in the field of seven.

Honey Cloud Pays $15.20.

With Henri Mora giving him a rousing ride, the son of High Cloud-Honey Pot ran the distance in 1:58 3-5, only two seconds slower than Seabiscuit's track record. He paid $15.20 for $2.

The pack was close on Honey Cloud's heels thruout, but the real test came in the home stretch when Filisteo and W. L. Brann's Aethelwold pressed Honey Cloud for all they were worth, and Belair stud's Isolator made a belated bid. Honey Cloud lasted just long enough to stave off his challengers. Filisteo, second by a nose, beat out Aethelwold by the same margin. Isolator was another two lengths back in fourth place.

Three Preakness Hopefuls Lose.

It was Honey Cloud's fourth stake victory since Maryland's spring season opened. The one time plater won the Rowe Memorial and Southern Maryland handicaps at Bowie and the Gittings at Pimlico. He was beaten in the Philadelphia handicap at Havre de Grace by Masked General, an also ran today.

The 36th running of the Dixie was the curtain raiser for the Maryland Jockey club's four big days of racing, to be climaxed with the golden jubilee running of the Preakness stakes on Saturday.

Three colts eligible for the $50,000 added event ran in supporting races on the program today and all were beaten, with the result that the possible starting field for the Preakness has been reduced to about 10 horses.

Foxflame Runs Third.

William Woodward's Preakness candidate, Foxflame, ran third in the mile and 70 yard second race, beaten only a length and a nose for first place. Grandee won it by a length and Talent nipped Foxflame in a photo-finish for second.

Two other Preakness eligibles were beaten in the six furlong fifth race. Brandon stable's Pass Out lost to Mrs. E. K. Bryson's Clyde Tolson by a nose in a photo finish, and J. W. Y. Martin's Abrasion was third.

Gallahadion, the Kentucky Derby winner, and Bimelech, which probably will be the Preakness favorite despite his Derby defeat, took easy gallops around the track this morning, as did Mioland.

Several Test Speed.

Speed tests were given Dit, Andy K., Royal Man, and Pictor. Dit breezed a mile in 1:43, Andy K., in 1:45, and Royal Man in 1:43 4-5, while Pictor went three-eighths in 35 seconds. Royal Man was reported slightly sore.

The probable Preakness field follows:

Milky Way farm's Gallahadion, E. R. Bradley's Bimelech, Arnold Hanger's Dit, C. S. Howard's Mioland, Tower stable's Royal Man, W. L. Brann's Pictor, Millsdale stable's Andy K., Mrs. George D. Widener's Your Chance, Mrs. E. G. Lewis' Jacomar, and R. A. Firestone's Marogay.

The annual ladies' day race at Pimlico was won by Mrs. John S. Harrison, wife of a gentleman rider. She rode Mrs. D. K. Kerr's Marin in the half mile sprint in :56 2-5. Judy Johnson, a woman trainer, was second on Veritas. Miss Sara Bosley, who rode to victory in the event in 1938, came in third with Strolling On.

KOSS IS NAMED HEAD FOOTBALL COACH AT RILEY

South Bend, Ind., May 8 [Special].—Harry Koss, assistant football coach for the last three years at Riley High school, today was named head coach to replace Forest M. Wood. Charles Hafron, former assistant at Riley, was recalled to his old post as Koss' aid. The appointment of Koss was made after Wood, head coach at Riley since 1930, was named director of physical education and health of the South Bend public schools.

Koss is a former Butler university athlete, having earned monograms in basketball, football and baseball. He has been baseball coach at Riley for the last three years. Wood will be honored at a civic testimonial here next Tuesday night. Elmer Layden, Notre Dame's director of athletics and head football coach, will be the principal speaker.

CHICK FRASER, OLD TIME CUB PITCHER, DIES

Wendell, Idaho, May 8 (AP).—Charles C. [Chick] Fraser, 69 years old, a scout for the New York Yankees, died in a hospital today.

Born in Chicago, Fraser started his baseball career in 1894 as a bat boy. A right handed pitcher, he entered baseball's hall of fame Sept. 18, 1903, when, with the Philadelphia Phillies, he hurled a no hit, no run game against the Chicago Cubs, winning, 10 to 0.

He also played for Minneapolis, Louisville, and Cincinnati in the '90s and after the turn of the century performed for the Philadelphia Athletics, the Phillies, Boston Braves [now Bees], Cincinnati, Chicago Cubs, and several minor league clubs.

Later he was a scout for the Pittsburgh Pirates, the Brooklyn Dodgers, and finally the Yankees.

New Players to Give Iowa's Iron Men Help

Iowa City, Ia., May 8 [Special].—Iowa's "heroic handful" of 1939 will get adequate reinforcements for next fall's football campaign. That is one of the most important developments of spring practice, which will end Saturday with the playing of an intrasquad game.

Last year, Iowa's iron man team won renown by scoring several upset victories, notably over Notre Dame and Purdue. Many of the regulars played almost every minute of every game, partly because of a scarcity of replacements. But spring drills under Coach Eddie Anderson's direction have brought forth a large group of freshmen who will give the varsity added manpower.

Probably the most outstanding freshman is Bus Mertes, fleet 185 pound right half back from Chicago. He has dazzled the opposition with thrusts thru the line and elusive change of pace ball carrying.

Three Seek Kinnick's Post.

Almost equally impressive and of equal ability are Bob Bender of Davenport, Ia.; Bill Stauss of Creston, Ia., and Tom Farmer of Cedar Rapids, Ia. Each hopes to fill Nile Kinnick's spot at left half. In the line Del Dickerhoof of Bellaire, O., is giving the veterans a stiff fight for one of the guard slots, while Bill [Ace] Parker of Des Moines, and Hank Miller of Ida Grove, Ia., are conceded a good chance of winning one of the varsity end posts.

"Wampy" McCuley of Des Moines, a hard blocker, seems to have qualified as alternate to Al Couppe at quarter back. Art Johnson of Fort Dodge, Ia., may get a chance to play either quarter, half or full back. He's a strong line plunger.

Varsity Men Improve, Too.

The varsity men also have shown improvement, especially Ray Murphy, Long Neck, N. Y. The lean full back's line plunging has been especially outstanding.

Ken Pettit of Logan, Ia., a guard, has been shifted to end and paired with Johnny Maher of Springfield, Ill., to replace Evans and Erwin Prasse. Anderson thinks he has the two best tackles in the Big 9½ conference, with Capt. Mike Enich of Boone, Ia., and Jim Walker of South Bend, Ind. The guards expect heavy reinforcements from the frosh, but Ham Snider of Iowa City, Max Hawkins of Pittsburg, Miss., and Charles Tollefson of Sioux Falls, S. D., expect to see a lot of action.

Center Position Strong.

There are no worries at center, with Bill Diehl of Cedar Rapids, Bruno Andruska of Chicago, and Red Frye, Albia, Ia., back. This position is bolstered by Bob Lauterbach of Sac City, Ia., and Tom Hand of Emmetsburg, Ia.

Twenty pounds heavier than last fall, Burdell [Oops] Gilleard of New London, Ia., right half, probably will play regularly next fall.

Operations laid two of the back field men low but they are recovering. They are Bill Green of Newton Ia., a full back and Bill Gallagher, Oskaloosa, Ia., a quarter back.

The game Saturday is open to the public and 10,000 fans are expected.

INDIANA ENTERS 8 TRACK MEN IN COTTON CARNIVAL

Bloomington, Ind., May 8 [Special].—Eight Indiana university runners have been selected by Coach Billy Hayes to compete in the Cotton carnival track meet Saturday in Memphis, Tenn. All will be entered in their individual specialties, and the Hoosiers also will compete in the half mile and mile relays.

Varsity men making the trip are Roy Cochran, quarter mile and low hurdles; Beverly Boyle, sprints and relay; Campbell Kane, mile and half mile; Bill Menke, quarter mile and relays; Wayne Tolliver, mile or two mile; Ed Hedges, two mile, and Ed Mikulas, high jump and high hurdles. Fred Wilts, freshman two miler, will compete unattached.

Two former Indiana stars, Don Lash and Tommy Deckard, will compete in the Crump mile, feature event of the meet.

MAROON TENNIS LINEUP CHANGED FOR NOTRE DAME

Lineup changes for the University of Chicago's tennis team are expected when the Maroons meet Notre Dame this afternoon at 2 o'clock on the Midway, with Art Jorgensen moved from the No. 2 to the No. 1 spot to meet Dan Canale, Irish sophomore star. Losses of Big 9½ meets to Northwestern and Michigan, which ended a three year Maroon victory streak in dual meet competition, have caused Coach Walter Hebert to move Jorgensen to the feature spot, replacing Charles Shostrom.

Other changes include moving Dick Norian from No. 6 to No. 4 and moving Benum Fox to No. 5 and Bob Lifton to No. 6. Calvin Sawyier will continue in the No. 3 position.

COURT TIME WINS STEEPLECHASE; BOIS CHABOT IS 2D

Berwyn, Pa., May 8 (AP).—Court Time, 8 year old gelding from the Brooks Parker stable, won the 22d National Hunt cup steeplechase by a length today at the Radnor Hunt club's spring meeting. The victory gave the winner one leg on the $1,500 cup, contended for by a field of eight of the nation's speediest steeplechase horses.

Court Time, R. Jones up, covered the 2½ mile brush jump course in 5:35. In second place came Bois Chabot, stablemate of last year's winner, Farndale. Corky, ridden by F. H. Powers, was third.

PaperCompany'sNet at 10 Year Peak.

Two Chicago enterprises were among several companies which yesterday announced increased earnings. Compressed Industrial Gases, Inc., reported profit of $109,024 for the March quarter, equal to 41 cents a share, compared with $46,668, or 18 cents a share, in the corresponding period of last year.

A. J. Browning reports largest profit in ten years.

Net income in the 12 months ended March 31 rose to $385,225, equal to $1.47 a share, from $82,841, or 32 cents a share, in the preceding 12 months.

Largest in 10 Years.

United Wall Paper Factories, Inc., announced net income in the nine months ended March 31, first nine months of the company's fiscal year, amounted to $224,817, equal to 16 cents a common share. This was the largest profit for the period in 10 years. Operations in the nine months ended a year earlier resulted in a net loss of $22,420.

A. J. Browning, president, said the outlook is bright for the rest of the year.

WILLKIE HINTS COMPANY SHOULD HAVE FOUGHT TVA

New York, May 8 (AP).—Wendell L. Willkie, president of the Commonwealth and Southern corporation, said today it might have been better if his company had competed with the Tennessee Valley authority merely to "give the country the spectacle of the federal government giving away money to compete with private industry."

Willkie was a witness in a suit brought by a group of bondholders of the Tennessee Electric company, a Commonwealth subsidiary, who are seeking premiums on bonds called at par after TVA bought the company last year.

The plaintiffs in the case own $200,000 worth of bonds, but are also suing in behalf of other bonds not turned in as a result of the sale. According to the defense they represent only 3 per cent of all bondholders.

Willkie said the only reason why he did not advise the company to continue in competition with the federal government was that he did not want the bondholders to lose their investments.

RAILROADS' LOSS FOR FEBRUARY IS BELOW LAST YEAR

The aggregate net loss of 137 Class 1 railroads in February declined considerably below the same month last year, according to reports to the interstate commerce commission. Net loss for the month amounted to $10,761,223, compared with $24,110,743 a year ago. For the first two months of this year net losses aggregated $7,648,901, against $32,579,145 in the 1939 period.

The Northern Pacific yesterday reported a March net loss of $307,583, compared with a net loss of $995,892 in the same month in 1939.

Consider Trust Action Against N.Y. Exchange

Washington, D. C., May 8 [Special].—Stock exchanges in other cities are considering the possibility of bringing an antitrust suit against the New York Stock exchange charging unreasonable restraint of interstate trade thru New York's multiple trading rule, it was learned today.

John E. Yerxa, president of the Boston Stock exchange, who has been here conferring with Securities and Exchange commission officials, said the exchanges had studied such a move but that he "had no intention of making such a complaint personally."

Yerxa added he did not want to meet "unreasonableness in New York" by unreasonableness on his own part, asserting the matter of increasing the volume of securities business could best be worked out "without a squabble."

Rule Adopted in 1863.

The multiple trading rule of the New York exchange has existed since 1863, but the decision to enforce it was not made until last February.

The rule applies to a large number of members who also are members of exchanges in other cities, and is intended to curb their activities in the other cities in stocks which are listed in New York. Under the rule, New York exchange members are not permitted to act as dealers or specialists in stocks on other exchanges when the securities are also listed in New York.

New York's action has been considered a severe handicap to exchanges in other cities, particularly in Chicago, where a substantial business has been built up in securities which are also listed in New York.

Chicago Stock exchange officials, in their protests, called attention to the fact many of New York's most prominent security issues were originally listed in Chicago.

Exchanges Meet Secretly.

On April 26 representatives of all the other exchanges, except the Los Angeles Stock exchange, met secretly in Pittsburgh to consider the problem raised by New York's "hostile act." It was a meeting of the Association of Stock Exchanges, but the New York exchange, the biggest and most important member, was not invited. Those attending considered all possible retaliatory measures, including an anti-trust suit.

One of the factors that led exchange representatives to consider antitrust action was that they were blocked from any attempt to test the rule under New York law when Gov. Herbert H. Lehman signed the Williamson bill on April 12. This bill was designed by the stock exchange to close any loophole in the law which might make its action questionable, according to explanations made at the time.

ENFORCE RULE GRADUALLY.

New York, May 8 (AP).—Despite protests from smaller exchanges, the New York Stock exchange plans to enforce gradually a rule forbidding members from making markets in its listed securities on other exchanges, a spokesman for the exchange said today.

The committee on member firms, it was said, is working to bring about eventual elimination of so-called "multiple" dealings by member houses on exchanges in other cities.

On the order of customers, however, member firms still would be permitted to execute transactions on other exchanges.

The situation was brought to a climax by the contraction of trading which intensified the struggle for business among the various markets.

THREAT TO END WATER SUPPLY FORCES CITY TO POWER AGREEMENT

Ord, Neb., May 8 [Special].—The Ord city council tonight agreed to buy electric power from the North Loup Power and Irrigation district [a PWA financed project] after spokesmen for the district had threatened to shut down and cut off irrigation water from farmers of the area. The city is to pay 12.7 mills per kilowatt, altho it can produce current in its own plant for 9 mills per kilowatt.

The new contract, to run from June 1, 1940, to Dec. 31, 1942, cancels a 30 year contract signed between the city and the district at the time the project was granted federal funds. This contract was repudiated by the city council in January, 1939, and the city resumed generation of its own power.

Under the original contract farmers were to get water at $2.50 an acre. After Ord quit taking power the price to farmers was raised to $4 an acre. The farmers protested to the city council, and last night an all-night meeting failed to bring an agreement between the city and the district. Tonight the council capitulated after the threat to shut off the water for irrigation purposes, the district contending it would be forced into receivership unless it could get additional revenue from the city to offset the price of $2.50 an acre for irrigation.

Fresh Retreat Carries Pound Off 4½ Cents

The British pound sterling yesterday continued its drop on the New York market while foreign exchange dealers centered their attention on house of commons wrangling in London.

The pound was as low as $3.31¼ but rallied slightly to close at $3.33, 4½ cents under Tuesday's close and the lowest point in terms of the revalued United States dollar since 1932.

Falls 15 Cents in Week.

Since the allied defeat in Norway, the pound has plummeted, losing more than 15 cents this week on the "free" market. The official British buying rate for the pound, set by the British exchange control, is $4.02½.

The French franc, linked by economic agreements with the pound, closed at 1.88¾ cents—down 0.02¾ of a cent to the lowest level in modern times. The Canadian dollar fell ⅝ of a cent, closing at 82½ United States cents.

Dutch Guilder Supported.

Intervention of the Dutch exchange control, which in the past has supported the Netherlands currency around current levels, was believed responsible for a small gain in the guilder.

The Belgian belga dropped 0.07 of a cent and the Swiss franc 0.01 of a cent.

Altho yesterday's market was the most active in recent weeks, dealings in the open market have been relatively light, traders said.

Mexico to Pay Sinclair Oil Interests Million This Week

MEXICO CITY, May 8 [Special].—The Mexican treasury, announcing further details of the settlement with Consolidated Oil corporation [Sinclair], said tonight that Mexico will pay $1,000,000 to the Sinclair interests this week. The total settlement, involving claims for properties seized by Mexico, was $8,500,000. Payment will be in cash over a three year period. Officials also said Sinclair had agreed to buy oil from Mexico, as a commercial transaction entirely apart from the property settlement.

CONFIRM STUDY OF CORN EXPORT SUBSIDY PLANS

Britain Takes Part in Discussions.

BY JOHN FISHER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 8.—Officials of the department of agriculture today confirmed reports of discussion on a proposed export subsidy on corn to the United Kingdom and other European countries.

A statement from the department said:

"Informal negotiations for the sale of American corn abroad have been under way for some time. No final sale have been consummated, nor is it absolutely certain at this time that they will be."

Mention 20 Million Bushels.

Officials admitted that Great Britain is among the countries participating in the discussions. Leading exporters have conferred with officials of the Agricultural Adjustment administration, the Federal Surplus Commodities corporation and the Commodity Credit corporation, the agencies which are primarily concerned with the problem of surpluses and prices.

It was reported that discussions hinged on proposed exports of between 20 and 30 million bushels of corn out of the 100 million bushels acquired by the government on defaults under the corn loan program. But officials refused to comment upon the possible volume, terms, or the time involved. It was believed, however, that a decision will be made within the next few days.

FUTURES UP NEARLY 2 CENTS

Reports that officials of the United States department of agriculture were considering an export subsidy for corn shipped to Canada and Europe caused a rise of about 2 cents a bushel in corn futures yesterday. After the close of the market the reports were confirmed in Washington, D. C.

Wheat, rye and oats followed the upward trend of corn, but soy beans were off a little at the close.

Closing prices on the July delivery of principal grains on the Chicago Board of Trade yesterday:

	Yesterday.	Tues.	Year ago.
Wheat	$1.05	$1.03¾	$ .74¼
Corn	.67⅝	.65½	.51⅜
Oats	.37⅝	.37⅛	.33¼
Rye	.67⅝	.66½	.46⅝
Soy beans	1.05⅜	1.05⅛	.95

An export subsidy of about 25 cents a bushel is regarded as necessary to dispose of a sizable quantity of American corn abroad because of the low prices prevailing for Argentine grain. The May delivery of corn in Buenos Aires is being quoted around 34 cents a bushel, or about 32½ cents less than in Chicago.

May at New 2½ Year Peak.

Commission houses, cash interests and professional traders vied with each other in bidding for corn futures. The May delivery sold up to 66¾ cents, reaching a new high since September, 1937. Closing trades were about the top, with gains of 1⅝ to 1⅞ cents.

Wheat futures advanced early on reports of increased tension in the Mediterranean political situation, broke about 1 cent on scattered liquidation, and then rallied about 2 cents from the bottom in sympathy with corn. Closing trades were ⅝ to 1¼ cents higher, May showing the least gain.

Associated Gas Trustees Pick New Directors

New York, May 8 [Special].—The trustees in reorganization of the Associated Gas and Electric company system have embarked on a broad policy of completely revamping the directorates of the various holding and sub-holding companies within the $1,000,000,000 utility system.

This was disclosed today with the announcement by Willard L. Thorp and Denis J. Drscoll, trustees of the Associated Gas and Electric corporation, that seven new directors had been elected to the board of the Utility Management corporation. The Associated Gas system is being reorganized in the federal court under the Chandler act.

Control Unit of System.

The Utility Management corporation is the heart of the Associated Gas and Electric system providing all of the operating properties controled by Associated with management, engineering, purchasing, accounting, financial and other services.

Prior to placing the Utility Management corporation on a non-profit basis recently, its operations, in many instances, were coördinated with the services performed for the Associated Gas group by the so-called Hopson service companies, the Hopson companies controled by H. C. Hopson, organizer and dominant figure in Associated affairs, collected substantial fees for servces rendered.

Justice Department Active.

Coincident with the announcement of the shakeup in the board of utility management, it was reported in well-informed quarters that the department of justice, which has been investigating the entire Associated Gas corporate and financial picture, is expected to intensify its activities in this direction. Developments on this score, it was said, may be expected in the next few days.

Officials of Associated Gas and Electric dropped today from the board of directors of Utility Management include P. J. Morrisey, W. E. Mange, Harry Reid, H. A. Stix and Lee Rice Jr., two vacancies already existing also were filled.

All Aids of Trustees.

Those going on the board, all direct representatives of the trustees and connected with them in their work of reorganization, are: Stanley Clarke, Ernest J. Howe, C. P. McFadden, S. J. Silverman, L. D. Staver, and C. E. Yates. In addition, O. Titus, executive vice president of the New York State Electric and Gas corporation, joins the new board.

Other members of the board, constituting a minority, are R. D. Jennison, president of Utility Management; H. V. Armstrong, president of Kentucky-Tennessee Light and Power company, and E. H. Werner, vice president of the Metropolitan Edison company. The latter two companies are subsidiaries in the Associated Gas system.

WRECKERS START TODAY ON TEMPLE COURT BUILDING

The Federal Wrecking company has been awarded the contract to raze the 13 story Bedford building, at the southeast corner of Dearborn and Adams, and the eight story Temple Court building, adjoining it, at the northeast corner of Dearborn and Quincy. Wreckers will start on the Temple Court today.

When the Temple Court is razed the wreckers will start on the Bedford building. The contract calls for complete removal of both by Aug. 31. They are being removed to avoid heavy expenditures for caissons before the Dearborn street subway is built.

CHICAGO BANK NAMED TRUSTEE OF C. & E. I. ROAD

Advocates of 'Home Rule' Win Point.

BY PHILIP HAMPSON.

Chicago financial interests yesterday won a partial victory when Kenneth D. Steere, chairman of the board of the Chicago and Eastern Illinois railroad, announced that a Chicago bank [the Continental Illinois] will be the trustee for the most important mortgage obligation in the new company that will take over the business of the reorganized road. The Chicago and Eastern Illinois has been in reorganization since April 18, 1933.

Kenneth D. Steere.

"I am pleased to announce that in the reorganization of the C. & E. I. all trustee appointments which could be lodged with financial institutions without materially increasing the expense of the reorganized railroad have been so placed," Steere said.

Board May Move Here.

It is expected that meetings of the board of directors of the road will be held in Chicago when the new organization gets complete control sometime about Aug. 1. Headquarters of the C. & E. I. are in Chicago.

THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE has long advocated that control of properties should be located at the scene of operations. This includes trusteeships and other financial relationships. In the past New York banks have been the trustees for all the bond issues of the C. & E. I. There are still a number of important Chicago railroads whose boards of directors continue to hold most of their meetings in New York despite the fact the roads have no track within a thousand miles of New York.

Steere said that the Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust company will be the trustee for the first mortgage bonds of the new company. The duties of this office include that of paying agent for interest coupons and bonds. The First National Bank of Chicago has been named trustee in Chicago to effect the exchange of securities in the old company for the new.

Chemical Bank Appointed.

The Chemical Bank and Trust company of New York is named trustee for the new income bonds of the road and it will be paying agent in New York for the coupons and bonds of the new first mortgage issue. The Bankers Trust company of New York will effect the exchange of securities in the New York area.

Stocks, Bonds

New York Stocks.

New York, May 8 (AP).—Selected stocks, under leadership of steels and aviations, rose 1 to 2 points today, only to back away at the close, with numerous minus signs in evidence.

Issues with a war flavor were prominent on the theory the allies would increase their purchases in the United States.

Business news remained a sustaining influence, with earnings and dividend announcements bringing support for individual stocks. However, the lack of follow-thru on the forenoon upswing, when prices were around the tops, served as a discouraging omen for speculative forces.

The Associated Press average of 60 issues was unchanged at 49.8. Transfers, due to a few fast morning flurries, expanded to 694,300 shares from 583,840 the day before.

Bethlehem Steel made a new peak for the year, but finished ahead only ⅝, and United States Steel was up ⅛. Helping this group were forecasts growing consumer demand would keep mill operations at 65 per cent of capacity at least for the remainder of this month.

Holding advances up to a point or so were General Motors, Boeing, United Aircraft, Douglas Aircraft, Eastern Air Lines, Bedix, Eastman Kodak, Union Carbide, Great Northern, Loft, Newmont Mining, and New York Shipbuilding.

In arrears were Chrysler, Goodyear, Montgomery Ward, Westinghouse, General Electric, Anaconda, Kennecott, Pennsylvania railroad, International Nickel, and American-Hawaiian Steamship.

New York Bonds.

New York, May 8 (AP).—Bonds identified with Great Britain's cause in the war suffered a further slump today. Domestic corporate bonds and United States government obligations showed small gains in a slightly more active trade.

Weakest of the "British" group included Brisbane 5s, down 5¼, Australia 4½s of '56, down 3, and New South Woles 5s of '58, down 3. Losses ran to around 2 points in Canada 3s of 67, Queensland 6s and Sydney 5½s. Bonds of Canadian Pacific and Canadian National railways also weakened.

Among corporate liens pushing up fractions to around 1½ points were Portland General Electric 4½s at 73, Pennsylvania Dixie Cement 6s at 97, New York Central 5s at 59, Southern Railway 4s at 57¾, and Pacific Gas 3¾s at 112.

The Associated Press average of low yield issues rose fractionally to 113.2, a new 1940 high.

Transactions totaled $5,670,300 face value against $4,091,250 yesterday.

Chicago Stocks.

Price changes were mixed yesterday on the Chicago Stock exchange, but four issues established new 1939-'40 high marks. They were Aro Equipment, which rose ¾ point to 9¾; Belden Manufacturing, up ¼ point to 12; Central Illinois Public Service preferred, ⅞ point higher at 86, and Viking Pump, which advanced 2 points to 24¾. Trading slackened to 20,000 shares, and the volume leader, Commonwealth Edison, finished a point lower.

Bank Stocks.

Commodities

Rubber futures closed at the highest levels since December as speculative buying boosted prices nearly ½ cent a pound in the nearby months yesterday, final figures being 9 to 43 points higher. Preliminary rubber consumption estimates in the United States for April indicated a gain over the same month in 1939.

Other commodity futures closed irregular as traders studied latest war and diplomatic maneuvers abroad. Raw hide futures closed with gains of 5 to 11 points and raw silk futures ended one to 3 points higher.

Entrance of Rumania into the export market for supplies of copper had little effect on metal markets. It was reported Rumania also was seeking 1,000 tons of zinc and 200 tons of tin. Lead futures closed a point higher to 5 lower while copper lost one to 5 points.

Cottonseed oil futures closed 3 points lower to 7 higher. Cocoa futures also were irregular, ending 2 lower to a point higher.

Other staples suffered light losses, wool tops ending unchanged to 2 lower, coffee futures unchanged to 6 lower, and sugar unchanged to 2½ points lower.

WOODRUM RAPS CONGRESS ON ITS FISCAL POLICIES

Demands Federal Funds Be Put in Balance.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 8.—A stinging arraignment of congress for its fiscal irresponsibility" was delivered today by Representative Clifton A. Woodrum [D., Va.], leader of the house economy bloc, as the house began consideration of a conference report on the department of agriculture appropriation bill.

Rep. C. A. Woodrum.

In dispute between house and senate are a number of amendments added by the senate, chiefly $225,000,000 for parity payments to farmers intended to boost their receipts to preworld war levels.

"We were relieving the farmer when I came here in 1923," Woodrum told members. "We have continued that program until we have relieved him of about everything he has.

Urges Budget Balance.

"There is one experiment that I would like now to see us try. That is to get our federal finances back into balance."

Woodrum quoted President Roosevelt's first message to congress in 1933 that "too often in recent history liberal governments have been wrecked on the rocks of loose fiscal policy."

"Of the 14 bills which have passed the congress," said the Virginian, "11 are under the budget estimate, three are over, and the agricultural bill as it stands today is $201,896,000 above the budget.

"If we had lived up to the budget we would have adjourned this congress $61,000,000 under the debt limit [45 billion dollars]. But we did not pass the $460,000,000 tax bill [asked by the President in his January message], and the nation at the moment is actually $150,000,000 above the debt limit.

New Spending Ahead.

"Relief appropriations are yet to come. If we follow the budget proposals to spend at the rate of $1,500,000,000 a year on relief, that will put the nation from half a billion to a billion dollars above the debt limit.

"When this congress adjourns, having refused either to raise the debt limit or to provide taxes, I believe it will have established a record for fiscal irresponsibility. It is our duty, before we adjourn, to provide the funds to pay the bills we incur for the American people during the next fiscal year."

UNIONS CHARGE TRANSPORT BILL 'INTIMIDATION'

Continuing the fight that has split railway labor ranks, the "Big Five" of the railroad brotherhoods charged in a statement issued in Chicago yesterday that the railroads have "intimidated" employés in an attempt to prevent recommitment of the Wheeler-Lea omnibus transportation bill. The bill is scheduled for congressional action today.

Statements issued by another group of the brotherhoods in Washington, D. C., have been in favor of the bill, which places motor carriers and waterways under jurisdiction of the interstate commerce commission.

Heads of the "Big Five" asserted that a "well organized effort has been launched by the railroads to deceive employés" regarding the bill, and said their objection to the measure is centered on the lack of a provision safeguarding the jobs of employés in cases of railway consolidations.

PAPER BOX FIRM WORKERS REJECT A. F. OF L. UNION

Employés of the J. H. Stone & Sons company, paper box manufacturers at 4200 West 42d place, voted 101 to 59 yesterday against naming as their bargaining agent the International Printing Pressmen's union, an A. F. of L. affiliate.

The election was ordered by the National Labor Relations board after a year's attempt by the union to organize the plant. There was no question of a rival union involved. The company has individual contracts with its employés, signed last Jan. 1.

"The vote reflected the employés' confidence that they are receiving a square deal," said Lewis F. Jacobson, attorney for the company.

Railway Ready to Give Up to Competition of Highway

Washington, D. C., May 8 (AP).—The Port Isabel and Rio Grande Valley railway asked the interstate commerce commission today for permission to abandon its entire line, 26.01 miles between Brownsville and Port Isabel, Tex. Completion of a highway in 1931, the application said, "has tended to create such a low rate basis generally that as an independent transportation agency applicant cannot compete."

Board of Trade Suspends Bowen for Violating Rules

J. J. Bowen Jr., wheat broker, was found guilty yesterday by directors of the Chicago Board of Trade of having violated seven rules of the exchange and the Commodity Exchange act and was suspended for six months. The rules under which Bowen was suspended include "proceedings inconsistent with just and equitable principles of trade; reckless dealing and acts detrimental of welfare of the exchange."

BATTLE FOR CONTROL OF NORTHERN PACIFIC RECALLED BY BROKERS

The battle of the giants that caused the "Northern Pacific panic of 1901" and nearly smashed half the brokerage houses of Wall street reached its climax 39 years ago today.

The contest precipitating the panic was for control of the Northern Pacific railroad. The magic names of J. Pierpont Morgan, the elder; James J. Hill, E. H. Harriman and Jacob Schiff gave it color.

And in Wall street they say now that Morgan and Hill, paired against the others, emerged the victors because Schiff could not be reached at a crucial moment. He was worshiping in his synagogue.

The two groups bid up the price of Northern Pacific stock from $117 a share on May 6, 1901, to $1,000 on May 9. Noon of May 9 found brokerage houses unable to buy or borrow the stock, and facing ruin. To avert disaster, the two opposing financial groups compromised, forming the Northern Securities company to hold the stock of the contestants.

FEDERAL POLICY CRITICIZED BY 2 RAIL PRESIDENTS

Boston, Mass., May 8 (AP).—Asserting that railroads are the only public carriers subjected to rigid regulation, Matthew S. Sloan, president of the Missouri-Kansas-Texas lines, recommended today a national transportation policy covering all carriers—land, water and air.

"Insofar as a national transportation policy exists at all," he said in addressing the annual convention of the National Association of Mutual Savings banks, "it is a policy of treating each agency differently."

Some railroad regulations represent almost a strait-jacket," he declared.

William M. Jeffers, president of Union Pacific railroad, said:

"Because of the ease with which money can be obtained from the government there is a growing tendency to pour money into weak roads and minor lines for the futile purpose of making them physically capable of competing with stabilized lines already adequately serving the territory.

"The only effect is to shave off part of the gross which the stabilized lines need, without any hope of transforming the chronic weaklings from consistent losers into winners."

TRUSTEE SEEKING DAMAGES FROM M'KESSON CHIEFS

New York, May 8 [Special].—William J. Wardall, trustee of McKesson & Robbins, Inc., announced today that he is negotiating for a settlement of the personal liabilities of the directors of the concern who are also executive officers, not only for payment of illegal dividends but also for damages resulting from legal negligence.

Wardall's report, mailed today to creditors and stockholders, also reported efforts to file a reorganization plan.

According to the most recent report of the company, McKesson directors who are also executives are C. F. Michales, president; W. J. Murray Jr., first vice president; J. L. Bedsole, George V. Doerr, B. B. Gilmer, and L. A. Lanigan, vice presidents.

Indicated 1939 earnings of $1,600,000 applicable to the 1,282,983 shares of common stock was announced by Wardall. Profit before debenture interest of $4,281,470 was more than twice that for 1938, altho net sales increased only 1.4 per cent. For the first quarter this year the operative profit was placed at $963,186 against $638,565 in the previous year.

Predicts Smallest Illinois 1940 Peach Crop in Years

Springfield, Ill., May 8 (AP).—Director J. H. Lloyd of the state department of agriculture estimated today Illinois' peach crop this year would be "less than 10 per cent" as large as last year's production of 2,057,000 bushels. Extremely cold weather in January and February, Lloyd said, would make the 1940 crop the smallest in years. He said this year's apple crop prospects were "excellent."

APRIL SLAUGHTER OF HOGS LARGEST FOR SEVEN YEARS

Packers Kill 3,610,020 During Month.

Pork production in the United States last month was the largest for April in seven years, the department of agriculture reported yesterday. During the month packers under federal inspection butchered a total of 3,610,020 hogs, an increase of 23 per cent over the April slaughter last year, and 46 per cent more than two years ago. In April, 1939, 2,931,115 hogs were killed, and 2,462,091 two years ago.

Slaughtering, however, showed a seasonal decline from the heavy volume handled during the first three months of 1940, being 371,000 under the March total, 667,000 below February, and 1,746,000 smaller than for January.

Rising Since 1935.

The increase in slaughtering of hogs for the first four months of 1940 over the same months last year was one of the largest on record. The four months' total this year, at 17,224,190 hogs, compared with 13,093,815 a year ago, and 12,106,356 two years ago. There has been an almost uninterrupted increase in hog butchering since 1935, the year following the great drouth. The four months' total in 1935 was only 9,792,392.

Cattle slaughtering last month was largest since January, and largest for April since 1937. The total, at 773,770, compared with 677,439 a year ago. During the first four months packers slaughtered 3,037,399 cattle, compared with 2,865,267 a year ago. The April calf total, at 479,823, the largest in six months, compared with 457,258 a year ago. The four months' calf total, at 1,714,118, compared with 1,735,291 last year.

Sheep Slaughter Higher.

Sheep slaughtering totaled 1,354,967 head, the largest since January. A year ago the April total was 1,224,336. In the four months of 1940 packers killed 5,531,291 sheep, against 5,514,080 in 1939.

COUNTY SEEKS MORTGAGE FUNDS NOW UNCLAIMED

Unclaimed funds held by trustees in mortgage foreclosures dating back to early in the depression may be transferred to the county under proceedings pending in Superior court. The total amount, which cannot be determined until hearings are held, is expected to exceed a million dollars.

A test case was set for May 17 yesterday by Judge Grover C. Niemeyer, who started the action on advice of the judges of the Superior court executive committee. The money in question represents unclaimed equities of bondholders who could not be located after foreclosure sale of properties. There are thousands of these bondholders, most of whom have only a few dollars coming of their original investment.

The judges' theory is that the courts retain jurisdiction of the proceeds of a forced sale until distribution to bondholders is complete. If this position is upheld the funds held by trustees would be turned over to the Superior court clerk and eventually to the county treasurer, who would be required to pay any future claims. The rest would escheat to the county.

Other foreclosed properties are under the jurisdiction of the Circuit court, where no such proceedings have been initiated.

Price of Commodities Since Outbreak of the War

Business Bits

Standard Oil Company of Indiana announced yesterday that it will spend more for advertising in 1940 than in 1939 and that nearly 75 per cent of the advertising will be in newspapers. Wesley I. Nunn, advertising manager, said newspaper advertising will be the backbone of the campaign because "everybody reads newspapers — on the farm, in the office, in the factory, and at home."

BANKERS REPLY TO ATTACK BY SECY. WALLACE

New York, May 8 [Special].—The American Bankers association today replied to charges made by Secretary of Agriculture Henry Wallace that it had opposed provisions of the Jones-Wheeler bill to reorganize the Federal Land Bank system as part of a campaign to prevent lower interest rates to farmers. A statement issued here today by the bankers' organization in behalf of its president, Robert M. Hanes, asserted that the bill would drive all lenders from the farm credit field except the department of agriculture.

"Ostensibly the purpose of the bill is the reorganization of the Federal Land Bank system," Hanes' statement said. "Actually, its provisions would destroy the existing coöperative agricultural credit system, destroy the Federal Land banks, and place the farmer borrower at the mercy of a single burocratic credit agency.

"We believe that this bill, if enacted into law, would ultimately result in the federal government becoming the largest farm land owner in the nation."

38 CLOSED BANKS MAKE PAYMENTS IN FIRST QUARTER

Period One of Most Active During Receiverships.

BY HAROLD SMITH.

Liquidation of assets of closed Cook county state banks made the best progress for any similar period in recent years during the quarter ended on March 31, it was revealed in the report for these defunct institutions issued yesterday by State Auditor Edward J. Barrett.

Barrett's statements on the condition of bank receiverships showed that 38 of the 130 closed banks in the county made new disbursements during the first quarter of 1940. This is nearly double the quarterly average of 20 banks established in the last few years. In the final quarter of 1939 only 21 banks made liquidation payments to depositors. In the first quarter last year only nine made payments.

Many Make Last Payment.

Many of the most recent repayments represented the final ones for the depositors of the banks involved. Barrett said several more will make final distributions in the next few months.

He bases his forecast on reports made to him periodically by the receivers for the closed state banks. Charles H. Albers is general receiver for all except two of the Cook county banks still in receivership.

Income of the receiverships during the March quarter totaled $2,437,966. Disbursements in the same period reached a total of $3,248,779, or $810,813 more than was taken in. The excess of disbursements over receipts in the preceding quarter was $482,326.

Depositors Get $1,600,368.

In dollars and cents the depositors were only a little better off in the last quarter than in the one preceding. The 38 banks divided $1,600,368 among them in the quarter just closed, as against the $1,476,156 paid out by 21 banks in the final 1939 quarter.

Preferred and secured creditors got $137,977 last quarter. A total of $260,356 went for bills payable incurred prior to closing. The Reconstruction Finance corporation was repaid $144,006.

Expenses of carrying on the receiverships totaled $260,000. Of this, the receiver got $5,010, his deputies and clerical staff got $107,923, the RFC got $53,200 in interest, attorneys got $31,517 in legal fees, and $62,350 went for miscellaneous items.

REPUBLIC AGAIN ASKS HIGH COURT REVIEW OF ORDER

Washington, D. C., May 8 (AP).—Republic Steel corporation again asked the Supreme court today to review the National Labor board order directing the reëmployment of certain employés involved in the 1937 "little steel" strike.

The court on April 8 refused to review the case, thereby leaving in effect a third Circuit court decision which upheld the board's order that Republic, among other things, must reimburse WPA for wages paid to striking employés on work relief projects. Republic's petition today said that the second Circuit recently had held that the board had no authority to require such reimbursements to WPA.

Order Ford to Rehire 38.

Buffalo, N. Y., May 8 (AP).—The National Labor Relations board has ordered the Ford Motor company to reinstate with back pay 38 employés allegedly dismissed or not reinstated because of union activity after a 1937 shutdown in its Buffalo plant.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK

Smaller shipments of hogs to market boosted live costs at the stockyards yesterday and halted the decline in wholesale markets for fresh pork. Advances of 5 to 15 cents were shown for live hogs. Both the top and average prices gained 10 cents, at $6.10 and $5.80 a hundred pounds, respectively. Part of the gains was lost later, but the clearance was good.

The scant supply of slaughter lambs available sold on a steady to weak basis. Four carloads of California spring lambs, the first of the season from the coast state, sold at $11.25 to $11.35.

Higher prices were paid for most steers and yearlings. Steady prices were paid for most beef cows, heifers, and calves.

[All prices are in dollars per 100 pounds].

BUYING OF STEEL BEST THIS YEAR, SAYS IRON AGE

Steel orders last week showed the most pronounced improvement recorded in any week so far in 1940, and mills increased ingot output 3½ points to 66½ per cent of capacity, Iron Age, trade publication, said yesterday. The Chicago rate is up 4 points to 65½ per cent of capacity.

Other developments in the industry observed by Iron Age included a 37 cent rise in the publication's scrap composite price to $16.75, a firming tendency in prices of nails, numerous inquiries or orders from foreign countries, and tardy domestic seasonal orders for some products.

"Improvement in steel operations and orders has been the result primarily of three factors—specifications received by mills against recent low price commitments for sheets and strip, a good volume of export tonnage, and belated seasonal orders for some lines," the publication said.

COOL WEATHER DELAYS GROWTH OF GRAIN CROPS

Planting of Corn Is Far Behind Schedule.

Below normal temperatures prevailed in many sections of the grain belt during the last week, while rainfall was scattered, the weather bureau reported yesterday. The crop season continues backward.

Deficient precipitation in many western sections and too much rain in some other districts have retarded both vegetation and seasonal work. Most of the corn crop has been planted from southern Kansas southward, but little elsewhere.

Wheat Improved in Oklahoma.

Much winter wheat is heading short in the extreme southwest. Slight improvement is shown in the outlook in Oklahoma and in eastern Kansas, but there was some deterioration in western Kansas. East of the Mississippi river progress of the crop was fair to good. Spring wheat planting is nearing completion. Oats, barley, and rye made slow growth as a rule, the bureau reported.

A summary of crop conditions in Illinois, as reported to the weather bureau, follows:

Rain retarded field work. Subsoil too dry in many areas in north and in many places in central portion. Progress of winter wheat fair to good; best in south; stooling well in south; some jointing; height ranges from 2 to 10 inches. Oats made slow growth. Very little corn planted.

Rainfall Data.

Precipitation in inches and hundreds of inches for the week ending May 7 at principal points reporting to the weather bureau and the aggregate rainfall from April 1 to May 7, follows:

DAY by DAY on the FARM

By HOMER CNEISZ

Spring on the Farm.

May 8, 1940.

FRESH blooms and green leaves have appeared all over the Du Page county farm this week as a result of abundant moisture and warm weather. Spring beauties have carpeted the woods with blossoms, dandelions are blooming in the fields, and many of the forest and shade trees are turning green.

Oats and early planted garden vegetables and flowers are coming up. Alfalfa in some of the established meadows is half a foot tall. Buds are opening on the cherry trees and lilac bushes, and the pear and apple orchards should soon be in full bloom unless the buds are checked again by cool weather.

Berry Bushes Burgeon.

Gooseberry bushes are blooming and new leaves are coming out on the raspberries. Grapevines appear bare as in winter, but a close examination today showed that a few green buds were starting. The grapes usually have fairly large leaves by this time of year. Some green buds are showing on the blackberry, dewberry, and loganberry bushes.

Fresh rhubarb was picked yesterday from a row set out last spring in one of the gardens. Some of the stems were a foot long with leaves a foot across. The plants were kept covered during the winter with old soy bean straw. An asparagus bed set last year in the same garden has shoots large enough to pick.

Several rows of early vegetable seeds were planted yesterday in the sample garden near the center of the farm. The soil, altho containing plenty of moisture, was mellow and in fine condition for working.

Vegetable Seeds Planted.

The vegetables included radishes, peas, parsnips, leaf and head lettuce, peanuts, parsley, onion seeds and sets, peppers, kohlrabi, beets, Swiss chard, carrots, spinach, and sweet corn. Other plantings of most of them will be made at intervals as the season advances to provide a succession of fresh vegetables for the table thruout the summer.

Five rows of Marcross sweet corn were planted. This is a hybrid strain that has proved popular in recent years with commercial sweet corn growers, especially those in Cook and adjoining counties who sell produce on the Chicago markets.

Both home and commercial gardeners have found that the better hybrid strains of sweet corn are sweeter, have plumper ears with more kernels per ear, and make higher acre yields than most open pollinated varieties. Many commercial growers now raise hybrid sweet corn exclusively.

COTTON

Trading in cotton was fairly active yesterday but the market was unsettled owing to uncertainty regarding the European political situation. Houses with Bombay connections were sellers in New York. It is estimated that Indian traders are long 200,000 bales of cotton in American markets and short a like amount in Bombay. Closing trades on futures were .03 cent lower to .06 cent a pound higher.

A private report estimated the American cotton acreage this season at 24,647,000 acres, a reduction of 185,000 acres as compared with 1939.

Spot cotton closed unchanged to .02 cent lower with New York, 10.67 cents; New Orleans, 10.53 cents; Houston, 10.18 cents, and Galveston at 10.16 cents a pound. Prices follow:

AVIATION CORPORATION.

Aviation corporation seems to be very active. As a potential investor I would appreciate any information you could give me on the firm.—E. A. H.

Answer: Aviation corporation was formed in 1929 to invest in aircraft companies. Thru acquisition of control in several airplane manufacturing firms, the company later became a holding company. It is affiliated with Aviation and Transportation company, its largest stockholder.

The principal operating subsidiary is the Aviation Manufacturing corporation, which is composed of two divisions, Stinson Aircraft at Wayne, Mich., and Lycoming at Williamsport, Pa. Stinson makes commercial and private aircraft as well as a new military observation plane. Lycoming produces engines and propellers.

A new subsidiary, Vultee Aircraft, Inc., was formed last November by incorporating a former division of Aviation Manufacturing. Vultee was the most important operating division. It specializes in making all-metal military airplanes at a plant at Downey, Cal.

Backlog of the Stinson and Lycoming divisions totaled $4,464,000 on March 1, 1940, compared with $419,000 a year ago. Vultee had unfilled orders on March 1 of about $15,000,000 against $915,000 for the Vultee division a year earlier.

Besides the controlling interests in the aircraft companies, Aviation corporation also has investments in the New York Shipbuilding corporation, American Airlines, Inc., Pan American Airways corporation, Roosevelt Field, Inc., and in other companies.

Capitalization of Aviation corporation consists solely of 3,909,667 shares of $3 par capital stock. The only cash dividend on the stock was 18¾ cents a share paid July 22, 1938.

A heavy decline in sales of the operating subsidiary resulted in a large consolidated net loss in the 1939 fiscal year. Net sales, net income of the company and subsidiaries, and earnings per share in recent fiscal years ending Nov. 30 follow:

	Net sales.	Net income.	Earned per share.
1936	*$3,516,000	*$ 104,016	*$0.04
1937	3,987,000	†437,327	†0.16
1938	6,374,000	187,909	0.07
1939	3,302,000	†2,238,049	†0.57

*Eleven months ended Nov. 30, 1936. †Loss.

Net loss of the company in the quarter ended Feb. 29, 1940, was $196,447 [excluding net loss of $180,984 for Vultee] against net loss of $426,280 in the corresponding period of 1939.

CANADIAN BANK ECONOMIST SEES GAINS THRU WAR

Position Will Be Stronger Than Ever, He Insists.

Washington, D. C., May 8 [Special]. —Canada will emerge from the war, "economically stronger than ever," F. J. Horning, economist of the Royal Bank of Canada, asserted today.

"Should the war be prolonged, with expanding Canadian participation," he said, "the end of the struggle will find Canada with a greatly increased government debt to her own citizens, probably substantially reduced foreign debts, and economically stronger than ever in her history."

American Investments Large.

Horning valued American investments in Canada at $3,932,000,000, or 58 per cent of all foreign investments in the dominion. He estimated Canadian investments in the United States as of 1937 at $1,098,000,000.

Horning said Canada emerged from the last world war with her industry and trade strengthened by diversification, and the dominion no longer dependent for economic strength on the success or failure of her wheat crop.

Cites Low Coupon Rate.

"The fact that the initial loan of the present war was floated with great success on a 3¼ per cent coupon was an indication of the care with which the government is laying plans to finance its war effort at as low a coupon rate as possible," he declared.

Horning made his remarks while a witness for the International Utilities corporation at a Securities and Exchange commission hearing on a proposal by the company for its own reorganization. The company has extensive investments in Canada.

HITS MOVE TO TIE SILVER BUYING TO FARM EXPORTS

Washington, D. C., May 8 (AP).—Senator Townsend [R., Del.] contended today that a proposal to make purchases of foreign silver conditional on expenditures for American farm products would discriminate against American factory workers.

Senator Pittman [D., Nev.] had offered such an amendment to Townsend's bill to end the administration's foreign silver buying program. Townsend expressed dissatisfaction at the failure of the senate to reach a vote on his bill, remarking that six days had elapsed since it was taken up.

Townsend said that the Pittman amendment would not only in effect be "discriminating against American manufactured goods" and "against American factory workers in favor of farm workers" but would be discriminating against other metal miners.
